SIR VICTOR BLANK TO RETIRE AS CHAIRMAN OF LLOYDS BANKING GROUP BY THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING IN 2010

Sir Victor Blank, Chairman of Lloyds Banking Group, has today notified the Board that he is planning to retire from the Chairmanship by the AGM in 2010.

In the light of today's announcement, the Board has appointed The Lord Leitch, who becomes the Group's senior non-executive director at the forthcoming AGM, as Deputy Chairman with immediate effect.

Sir Victor said: "I believe it is the right time for the Group to appoint a new chairman. I will continue working until my successor is appointed to ensure the successful integration of the two banks. This remains - in the medium term - a unique value-enhancing opportunity".

The Lord Leitch said: "The Board was unanimous in wanting Sir Victor Blank to seek re-election as Chairman for another three years. We are very sad about Sir Victor's personal decision to retire, although we respect and understand his reasons for it.

Sir Victor is a first-class Chairman and we are delighted that he will continue with us to ensure an orderly succession and the continued integration."

Eric Daniels, Group Chief Executive, said: "Victor has played a very important role as our Chairman during a period of significant change for our company and at a time when there has been unprecedented volatility in the markets. I look forward to continuing to work closely with Victor and to ensuring an orderly transition to an appropriate successor."
