FORTIS
TRANSACTION

On February 21, 2012, CH Energy announced an agreement with Fortis for a sale of CH Energy at a price of $65.00 per share in cash

100% cash consideration

Locks in premium value at a time of cyclically high industry valuations

Fortis purchase price represents a 21.9x P/E multiple on 2011A EPS at the high end of these multiple ranges for comparable utility industry transactions

Transaction terms do not preclude other interested parties from making a topping offer prior to shareholder approval

The Fortis federation business model will allow CH Energy to largely operate as an independent entity, with little change in its day-to-day services and operations

Will have improved access to growth capital as a Fortis affiliate

In May 2011, CH Energy was approached by a representative of Fortis to ascertain CH Energy's interest in pursuing a potential transaction with Fortis. Fortis had very recently agreed to pay an attractive multiple of earnings for Central Vermont

Public Service

Fortis, however, expressed unwillingness to participate in an auction process Fortis had a publicly stated strategic objective of growing in the U.S. through utility acquisitions

The Board conducted a strategic review and valuation of its standalone plan in the summer of 2011

Concluded that it would be worth engaging with Fortis on a confidential basis to determine what price/value they would see in CH Energy

Offer represented multiple of 20.4x 2011E EPS and a 19.7% premium over the closing price of CH Energy common stock on the last trading day prior to the offer

5

FORTIS TRANSACTION

On November 28, 2011, Fortis, at the request of CH Energy, provided its initial indicative

offer
$62.70
in cash per share
CH
Energy
common stock

How did our Board maximize shareholder value?

CH Energy's Board determined CH Energy should seek a higher price from Fortis and provide further access to confidential information to encourage Fortis to find additional value, but not to approach other potential transaction partners

The Board considered several factors regarding process, including the limited universe of potential transaction partners, Fortis unwillingness to participate in an auction, risks of leaks and further diversion of management and employees, and the ability to seek merger agreement terms that would not preclude alternative proposals post-signing and prior to shareholder

approval

After additional due diligence, CH Energy instructed Fortis to provide its best and final offer

2012

Fortis

an

$64.20

Agreed to a 2% break-up fee after extensive negotiation

CH Energy's Board continued to seek an additional increase in price to at least $65.00 per share

Fortis agreed to a $65.00 per share all-cash price, and the parties entered into the merger agreement on February 20, 2012

To date, no other party has approached CH Energy regarding an alternative transaction

6

FORTIS

TRANSACTION

How did our Board maximize shareholder value?

Secures premium for CH Energy shareholders, on top of CH Energy's already above-peer and historically high trading value and trading multiples
Cash consideration
Locks in value at a time of cyclically high valuations for the industry Eliminates downside from potential industry dynamics, including rate/regulatory risks Eliminates downside from potential macroeconomic changes, including increases in interest rates and dividend tax rates, which could adversely affect CH Energy's stock price

Significant value premium vs. standalone prospects

Eliminates risks to value/stock price associated with potential inability to achieve long-term strategic plans

7

TRANSACTION

Benefits of the transaction

Full and fair value

Offer evaluated by experienced financial advisor (Lazard) to be fair, from a financial point of view, to CH Energy shareholders

Continuation of quarterly common stock dividends pre-merger close

Limited alternatives (particularly M&A) available

Low break-up fee (2% of equity deal value) if a superior offer arises

Fortis is a large, high quality company who has a demonstrated history of growing successfully through prior acquisitions

Benefits

8

FORTIS

TRANSACTION

Benefits of the transaction

Fortis price is at the top end of financial advisor's private market valuation range

Process involved significant negotiation with Fortis over time, including two increases in their offer price

9

COMPLETION OF
STRATEGIC SHIFT

In 2011, CH Energy completed its strategic shift

Further shareholder upside is limited given:

More moderate EPS growth (rate)
going forward (beyond 2012) Trading at healthy premium to peers Historically low interest rate environment Potential increase in taxation of dividends Insufficient scale to pursue significant value-enhancing growth projects Ongoing regulatory risk Limited universe of alternate acquirors Divested renewable energy portfolio
Use proceeds to repurchase stock, retire debt
Focus on energy delivery:
Invest in Central Hudson's delivery system
Grow Griffith's customer base Improve service quality and customer satisfaction Strategic shift reduced business risk; CH Energy share price reacted favorably
to refocus on core business
