QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE STOCKHOLDER MEETINGS

The following section provides answers to frequently asked questions about the merger and the effect of the merger on holders of Oclaro common stock and security holders of Opnext, the Oclaro special meeting and the Opnext special meeting. This section, however, only provides summary information. Oclaro and Opnext urge you to read carefully the remainder of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the annexes to this joint proxy statement/prospectus, because the information in this section does not provide all the information that might be important to you regarding the merger and the other matters being considered at the Oclaro special meeting and the Opnext special meeting.

Q: What is the merger?

A: Oclaro and Opnext have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, dated March 26, 2012, which is referred to in this joint proxy statement/prospectus as the merger agreement, that contains the terms and conditions of the proposed business combination of Oclaro and Opnext. Under the merger agreement, Tahoe Acquisition Sub, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Oclaro, will merge with and into Opnext, with Opnext surviving as a wholly owned subsidiary of Oclaro, which transaction is referred to as the merger. The shares of Oclaro common stock issued to Opnext stockholders in connection with the merger are expected to represent approximately 43% of the outstanding shares of Oclaro common stock immediately following the consummation of the merger, based on the number of shares of Oclaro common stock and Opnext common stock that were outstanding on the record date (May 23, 2012) and assuming that no Opnext or Oclaro equity awards are exercised or settled after the record date (May 23, 2012) and prior to the effective time of the merger. For a more complete description of the merger, please see the section entitled Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger on page 40 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Q Why are the two companies proposing to merge?

A: Both Oclaro and Opnext believe that the combination will create significant cost saving and other synergies and the combined company will be a leader in both the telecom and datacom optical markets that will be better positioned to compete in the market. For a discussion of the reasons for the merger, we urge you to read the information in the section entitled Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Reasons for the Merger on page 46 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Why am I receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus?

A: You are receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus because you have been identified as a stockholder of either Oclaro or Opnext, and thus you are entitled to vote at such company's special meeting. This document serves as both a joint proxy statement of Oclaro and Opnext, used to solicit proxies for each of the company's special meetings, and as a prospectus of Oclaro, used to offer shares of Oclaro common stock in exchange for shares of Opnext common stock pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement. This document contains important information about the merger and the special meetings of Oclaro and Opnext, and you should read it carefully.

Q: When and where will the Opnext special meeting take place?

A: The Opnext special meeting will be held on July 17, 2012 at 10:00 a.m., Pacific Time, at the offices of Clarity Partners, LP, 100 North Crescent Drive, Beverly Hills, California 90210.

Q: When and where will the Oclaro special meeting take place?

Edgar Filing: OCLARO, INC. - Form 424B3

A: The Oclaro special meeting will be held on July 17, 2012 at 10:00 a.m., Pacific Time, at 2560 Junction Avenue, San Jose, CA 95134.

Table of Contents

Q: Who can attend and vote at the stockholders meetings?

A: Opnext: All Opnext stockholders of record as of the close of business on May 23, 2012, the record date for the Opnext special meeting, are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Opnext special meeting.

Oclaro: All Oclaro stockholders of record as of the close of business on May 23, 2012, the record date for the Oclaro special meeting, are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Oclaro special meeting.

Q: What should I do if I receive more than one set of voting materials for the Opnext special meeting or the Oclaro special meeting?

A: You may receive more than one set of voting materials for the Opnext special meeting or the Oclaro special meeting, including multiple copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and multiple proxy cards or voting instruction cards. For example, if you hold your Opnext common stock or Oclaro common stock in more than one brokerage account, you will receive a separate voting instruction card for each brokerage account in which you hold shares. If you are a holder of record and your Opnext common stock or Oclaro common stock are registered in more than one name, you will receive more than one proxy card. Please submit each separate proxy or voting instruction card that you receive by following the instructions set forth in each separate proxy or voting instruction card.

Q: What is required to consummate the merger?

A: To consummate the merger, Oclaro stockholders must approve: (a) the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement, which approval requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Oclaro common stock voting in person or by proxy on such matter; and (b) an amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock, which approval requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Oclaro common stock outstanding on the record date for the Oclaro special meeting.

In addition, Opnext stockholders must adopt the merger agreement, which adoption requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Opnext common stock outstanding on the record date for the Opnext special meeting. In addition to the receipt of stockholder approval, each of the other closing conditions set forth in the merger agreement must be satisfied or waived. For a more complete description of the closing conditions under the merger agreement, we urge you to read the section entitled The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Merger on page 105 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the merger agreement attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A.

Q: Why is Oclaro asking to amend its restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of its common stock?

A: Approval of an amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock (which is the subject of Oclaro Proposal No. 2) is one of the conditions to the consummation of the merger. Without an increase in the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock, Oclaro would not have a sufficient number of authorized shares to effect the merger and to issue the Oclaro common stock to the Opnext stockholders in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement.

Q: What will Opnext stockholders receive in the merger?

A: As a result of the merger, Opnext stockholders will receive 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock they own, which we refer to as the exchange ratio. For example, if you own 1,000 shares of Opnext common stock, you will receive 420 shares of Oclaro common stock in exchange for your Opnext shares. The number of shares of Oclaro common stock to be issued for each share of Opnext common stock is fixed and will not be adjusted based upon changes in the value of Opnext common stock or Oclaro common stock before the merger is consummated (however, the exchange ratio is subject to adjustments for changes in the number of outstanding shares of Oclaro or Opnext by reason of future stock splits, reverse stock splits, division of shares, stock dividends or other similar transactions). As a result, the value of the Oclaro shares Opnext stockholders will receive in the merger will not be known before the merger, and will go up or down as the market price of Oclaro common stock goes up or down. We encourage you to obtain current market quotations of Opnext common stock and Oclaro common stock. No fractional shares of Oclaro common stock will be issued in the merger. Instead, each Opnext stockholder otherwise entitled to a fraction of a share of Oclaro common stock will be entitled to receive in cash the dollar amount, without interest, determined by multiplying such fraction by the average closing price of Oclaro common stock over a ten-day period ending on the trading day one day prior to the effective time, as specified in the merger agreement. For a more complete description of what Opnext stockholders will receive in the merger, please see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Manner and Basis of Converting Shares on page 90 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Will the Oclaro common stock received at the time of the closing of the merger by Opnext stockholders be traded on an exchange?

A: Yes. It is a condition to closing that the Oclaro common stock issuable pursuant to the merger be approved for listing on NASDAQ Global Select Market. Oclaro intends to file a subsequent listing application with NASDAQ Global Select Market prior to the consummation of the merger to list the Oclaro common stock that Opnext stockholders will receive at closing.

Q: What will Opnext option holders receive in the merger?

A: At the effective time of the merger, each Opnext stock option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time, whether or not vested, will be converted into an option to purchase Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and Oclaro will assume such stock option. Each such option will otherwise remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock option agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Opnext stock option as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the term, exercisability, vesting schedule and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Stock Options on page 92.

Q: What will the holders of Opnext restricted stock and restricted stock units receive in the merger?

A: At the effective time of the merger, each Opnext restricted stock unit and each share of Opnext restricted stock that is outstanding and unvested immediately prior to the effective time will be converted into a restricted stock unit or a share of restricted stock, as applicable, reflecting Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio), and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable restricted stock or restricted stock unit agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such restricted stock unit or restricted stock in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the vesting conditions and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units on page 92.

Q: What will the holders of Opnext stock appreciation rights receive in the merger?

A: At the effective time of the merger, each Opnext stock appreciation right that is outstanding and that remains unsettled immediately prior to the effective time will be converted into a stock appreciation right with respect to Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock appreciation right agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such stock appreciation right as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the vesting conditions, form of payment and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Stock Appreciation Rights on page 93.

Q: Will there be any changes to the Oclaro board of directors if the merger becomes effective?

A: The merger agreement provides that the Oclaro board of directors following the effective time of the merger will be comprised of four members designated by Opnext (currently expected to be Harry Bosco, David Lee, Kendall W. Cowan and William L. Smith) and the six existing members of the Oclaro board. For more information, please see the sections entitled The Merger Agreement The Board of Directors of Oclaro Following the Merger on page 112.

Q: Are there any Opnext and Oclaro stockholders already committed to vote in favor of the merger-related proposals?

A: Yes. Oclaro has entered into voting agreements with certain officers, directors and significant stockholders of Opnext pursuant to which each such officer, director and significant stockholder has agreed to vote all shares of Opnext common stock beneficially owned by them as of the record date in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement and against any alternative transaction with respect to Opnext. As long as the voting agreement remain in effect, approximately 38.8% of the Opnext common stock outstanding as of the record date for the Opnext special meeting are committed to be voted in favor of the merger-related proposals. For more information, please see the section titled Voting Agreements Related to Opnext Shares on page 113.

Opnext has entered into voting agreements with certain officers and directors of Oclaro pursuant to which each such officer, director and significant stockholder has agreed to vote all shares of Oclaro common stock beneficially owned by them as of the record date in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement and against any alternative transaction with respect to Oclaro. As long as the voting agreements remain in effect, approximately 0.8% of the Oclaro common stock outstanding as of the record date for the Oclaro special meeting are committed to be voted in favor of the merger-related proposals and the issuance of the Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement. For more information, please see the section titled Voting Agreements Related to Oclaro Shares on page 113.

Q: Who will be the executive officers of Oclaro immediately following the merger?

A: It is currently expected that the executive officers of Oclaro following the merger will be the same as the current executive officers of Oclaro, except that, in addition, following the effective time of the merger, Oclaro contemplates that certain employees of Opnext will join Oclaro as executive officers. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus it is not known which Opnext employees, if any, will become executive officers of Oclaro and no determinations by Oclaro have been made in this regard.

Q: How will Oclaro stockholders be affected by the merger and issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock?

A: After the merger each Oclaro stockholder will have the same number of shares of Oclaro common stock that the stockholder held immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. However, because Oclaro will be issuing new shares of Oclaro common stock to Opnext stockholders in the merger, each share of Oclaro common stock outstanding immediately prior to the merger will represent a smaller percentage of the aggregate number of shares of Oclaro common stock outstanding after the merger. As a result of the merger, each Oclaro stockholder will own a smaller percentage of the shares of common stock of a larger company with more outstanding shares and more assets. Based on the number of shares of Oclaro and Opnext that were outstanding on the record date (May 23, 2012), stockholders of Oclaro immediately prior to the effective time are expected to own in the aggregate approximately 57% of the outstanding shares of the combined company following the merger, assuming that no Opnext or Oclaro equity awards are exercised or settled between the record date (May 23, 2012) and the effective time of the merger.

Q: What are the material federal income tax consequences of the merger to me?

A:

Edgar Filing: OCLARO, INC. - Form 424B3

It is expected that the merger will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code), and the completion of the merger is conditioned

on the receipt by each of Oclaro and Opnext of an opinion from its outside counsel to the effect that the merger will qualify as such a reorganization. If the merger qualifies as a reorganization, Opnext stockholders generally will not recognize gain or loss upon the receipt of Oclaro common stock in exchange for Opnext common stock in connection with the merger, except with respect to cash received in lieu of fractional shares of Oclaro common stock.

Opnext stockholders are urged to read the discussion in the section entitled Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger beginning on page 84 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and to consult their tax advisors as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger, as well as the effects of state, local and non-U.S. tax laws.

Q: Why are Opnext stockholders being asked to cast an advisory (non-binding) vote to approve merger-related compensation payable to Opnext's named executive officers under existing agreements with Opnext in connection with the merger?

A: In accordance with the rules promulgated under Section 14A of the Exchange Act, Opnext is providing its stockholders with the opportunity to cast a non-binding, advisory vote on certain compensation that will or may be payable to Opnext's named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Q: What is the merger-related compensation ?

A: The merger-related compensation is certain compensation that is tied to or based on the consummation of the merger and payable to Opnext's named executive officers under existing agreements with Opnext. See the section entitled Opnext Proposal No. 3 Advisory Vote Regarding Merger-Related Compensation on page 118.

Q: What will happen if Opnext's stockholders do not approve the merger-related compensation ?

A: Approval of the merger-related compensation is not a condition to the completion of the merger. The vote with respect to the merger-related compensation is an advisory vote and will not be binding on Opnext or Oclaro. Further, the underlying plans and arrangements are contractual in nature and not, by their terms, subject to stockholder approval. Accordingly, regardless of the outcome of the non-binding, advisory vote, if the merger agreement is adopted by the Opnext stockholders and completed, Opnext's named executive officers will be eligible to receive the merger-related compensation in the event of a consummation of the merger and a qualifying termination of employment.

Q: How does Oclaro's board of directors recommend that Oclaro stockholders vote?

A: After careful consideration, Oclaro's board of directors unanimously recommends that Oclaro stockholders vote FOR Oclaro Proposal No. 1 to approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement; FOR Oclaro Proposal No. 2 to approve an amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase its authorized shares of common stock; FOR Oclaro Proposal No. 3 to approve to adjourn the Oclaro special meeting, if necessary, if a quorum is present, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of any of Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1 or 2. For a description of the reasons underlying the recommendations of Oclaro's board, see the sections entitled Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Reasons for the Merger on page 46; Oclaro Proposal No. 2 Amendment to Oclaro's Restated Certificate of Incorporation to Increase the Authorized Shares of Common Stock on page 114; Oclaro Proposal No. 3 Possible Adjournment of the Oclaro Special Meeting on page 116.

Q: How does the Opnext board of directors recommend that Opnext stockholders vote?

Edgar Filing: OCLARO, INC. - Form 424B3

A: After careful consideration, Opnext's board of directors unanimously recommends that the Opnext stockholders vote FOR Opnext Proposal No. 1 to adopt the merger agreement and FOR Opnext Proposal No. 2 to adjourn the Opnext special meeting, if necessary, if a quorum is present, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of Opnext Proposal No. 1 and FOR Opnext Proposal No. 3 to approve on a non-binding basis the merger-related compensation that may become payable to Opnext's named executive officers in connection with the merger. For a description of the reasons underlying the recommendations of Opnext's board, see the section entitled Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Reasons for the Merger on page 46, the section entitled Opnext Proposal No. 2 Possible Adjournment of the Opnext Special Meeting on page 117 and the section entitled Opnext Proposal No. 3 Advisory Vote Regarding Merger-Related Compensation on page 118.

Q: What risks should I consider in deciding whether to vote in favor of the share issuance or the adoption of the merger agreement?

A: You should carefully review the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 25, which presents risks and uncertainties related to the merger and risks and uncertainties related to the operation of each of Oclaro and Opnext.

Q: When do you expect the merger to be consummated?

A: Oclaro and Opnext are working to complete the merger as quickly as practicable and currently anticipate that the consummation of the merger will occur by September 29th, 2012, but we cannot predict the exact timing. For more information, please see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Merger on page 105.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: We urge you to read this joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully, including its annexes, and to consider how the merger affects you. If you are an Oclaro stockholder, you may provide your proxy instructions in three different ways. First, you may vote by completing and signing the Oclaro proxy card that accompanies this joint proxy statement/prospectus and promptly mailing it in the enclosed postage-prepaid envelope. Alternatively, you may submit your proxy to vote your shares by telephone by following the instructions set forth on the enclosed Oclaro proxy card. Finally, you may submit your proxy to vote your shares over the Internet from any location in the world by following the instructions set forth on the enclosed Oclaro proxy card. Please provide your proxy instructions only once and as soon as possible so that your shares can be voted at the special meeting of Oclaro stockholders.

If you are an Opnext stockholder, you may provide your proxy instructions in three different ways. First, you can mail your signed Opnext proxy card in the enclosed return envelope. Alternatively, you can provide your proxy instructions via the toll-free call center set up for this purpose indicated on the enclosed Opnext proxy card and following the instructions provided. Please have your Opnext proxy card available when you call. Finally, you can provide your proxy instructions via the Internet from any location in the world by accessing the website indicated on the enclosed proxy card and following the instructions provided. Please have your Opnext proxy card available when you access the web page. Please provide your proxy instructions only once and as soon as possible so that your shares can be voted at the special meeting of Opnext stockholders.

Q: What happens if I do not return a proxy card or otherwise provide proxy instructions?

A: If you are an Oclaro stockholder, the failure to return your proxy card or otherwise provide proxy instructions could be a factor in establishing a quorum for the special meeting of Oclaro stockholders, which is required to transact business at the meeting. If you are an Oclaro stockholder and you do not submit a proxy card or vote at the Oclaro special meeting, your shares will not be counted as present for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum and will have no effect on the approval of Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1 and 3, but would have the same effect as voting against Oclaro Proposal No. 2. Broker non-votes will similarly have no effect on the approval of Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1 and 3, but would have the same effect as voting against Oclaro Proposal No. 2. If you submit a proxy card and affirmatively elect to abstain from voting, your proxy will be counted as present for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum for the special meeting of Oclaro stockholders, but will not be voted at the meeting. As a result, your abstention will have no effect on the approval of Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1 and 3, but would have the same effect as voting against Oclaro Proposal No. 2.

If you are an Opnext stockholder, the failure to return your proxy card or otherwise provide proxy instructions will have the same effect as voting against the adoption of the merger agreement and could be a factor in establishing a quorum for the special meeting of Opnext stockholders, which is required to transact business at the meeting. The failure to submit a proxy card or vote at the Opnext special meeting, or an abstention, vote withheld or broker non-votes will have no effect on the outcome of Opnext Proposal No. 2.

Q: May I vote in person?

A: If your shares of Oclaro common stock or Opnext common stock are registered directly in your name with Oclaro's or Opnext's transfer agent, as applicable, you are considered, with respect to those shares, the stockholder of record, and the proxy materials and proxy card are being sent directly to you by Oclaro or Opnext, as applicable. If you are an Oclaro stockholder of record, you may attend the special meeting of Oclaro stockholders to be held on July 17, 2012 and vote your shares in person, rather than signing and returning your proxy card or otherwise providing proxy instructions. If you are an Opnext stockholder of record, you may attend the special meeting of Opnext stockholders to be held on July 17, 2012 and vote your shares in person, rather than signing and returning your proxy card or otherwise providing proxy instructions.

If your shares of Oclaro common stock or Opnext common stock are held in a brokerage account or by another nominee, you are considered the beneficial owner of shares held in street name, and the proxy materials are being forwarded to you together with a voting instruction card. As the beneficial owner, you are also invited to attend the special meeting of Oclaro stockholders or the special meeting of Opnext stockholders, as applicable. Since a beneficial owner is not the stockholder of record, you may not vote these shares in person at the applicable special meeting unless you obtain a legal proxy from the broker, trustee or nominee that holds your shares, giving you the right to vote the shares at the meeting.

Q: If my shares are held in street name by my broker, will my broker vote my shares for me?

A: Your broker will not be able to vote your shares without instructions from you. You should instruct your broker to vote your shares, following the procedure provided by your broker.

Q: May I change my vote after I have provided proxy instructions?

A: Yes. You may change your vote at any time before your proxy is voted at the Oclaro special meeting or Opnext special meeting, as applicable. You can do this in one of three ways. First, you can send a written notice stating that you would like to revoke your proxy. Second, you can submit new proxy instructions either on a new proxy card, by telephone or via the Internet. Third, you can attend the Oclaro special meeting or Opnext special meeting, as applicable, and vote in person. Your attendance alone will not revoke your proxy. If you have instructed a broker to vote your shares, you must follow directions received from your broker to change those instructions.

Q: Should Opnext stockholders send in their stock certificates now?

A: No. If you are an Opnext stockholder, after the merger is consummated, you will receive written instructions from an exchange agent explaining how to exchange your stock certificates representing shares of Opnext common stock for certificates representing shares of Oclaro common stock. You will also receive a cash payment in lieu of any fractional share of Oclaro common stock. Oclaro stockholders will not exchange their stock certificates in connection with the merger.

Q: Who is paying for this proxy solicitation?

Manner and Basis of Converting Shares (Page 90)

If you are an Opnext stockholder, you will receive 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock in exchange for each share of Opnext common stock you own. The exchange ratio is fixed meaning that regardless of fluctuations in the market price of Oclaro common stock or Opnext common stock, the exchange ratio will not change between now and the date the merger is consummated. The exchange ratio is, however, subject to adjustments for changes in the number of outstanding shares of Oclaro or Opnext by reason of future stock splits, reverse stock splits, division of shares, stock dividends or other similar transactions.

Fractional Shares (Page 90)

No fractional shares of Oclaro common stock will be issued in the merger. Instead, each Opnext stockholder otherwise entitled to a fraction of a share of Oclaro common stock will be entitled to receive in cash the dollar amount, without interest, determined by multiplying such fraction by the average closing price of Oclaro common stock over a ten-day period ending on the trading day one day prior to the effective time, as specified in the merger agreement. For a more complete description of what Opnext stockholders will receive in the merger, please see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Manner and Basis of Converting Shares on page 90 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger each Opnext stock option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time, whether or not vested, will be converted into an option to purchase Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and Oclaro will assume such stock option. Each such option will otherwise remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock option agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Opnext stock option as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the term, exercisability, vesting schedule and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Stock Options on page 92.

Treatment of Opnext Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units (Page 92)

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger, each share of Opnext restricted stock and each Opnext restricted stock unit that is outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will be converted into a share of restricted stock or a restricted stock unit, as applicable, reflecting Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable restricted stock or restricted stock unit agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such restricted stock unit or restricted stock as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the vesting conditions and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units on page 92.

Treatment of Opnext Stock Appreciation Rights (Page 93)

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger, each Opnext stock appreciation right that is outstanding and remains unsettled immediately prior to the effective time will be converted into a stock appreciation right with respect to Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock appreciation right agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such stock appreciation right as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the vesting conditions, form of payment and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Stock Appreciation Rights on page 93.

Risks Relating to the Merger (Page 25)

In evaluating the merger agreement or the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement, you should carefully read this joint proxy statement/prospectus and especially consider the factors discussed in the section entitled Risk Factors Risks Relating to the Merger on page 25.

Reasons for the Merger

Mutual Reasons (Page 46). Oclaro and Opnext believe that the combination of the companies' product lines, supply chains, sales teams, administrative functions and technologies will create significant cost savings and other synergies and form a leader in both the telecom and datacom optical markets. It is expected that the two companies together will be able to meet more of their customers' needs by integrating their product lines and technologies. Both companies believe that the industry is in a period of consolidation and that the combined company will have the scale to better compete in this environment. In addition, the companies' products and offerings complement each other. Both companies also believe that combining the creative and operational capacities of the two companies will allow them to focus their research and development efforts and to accelerate innovations. From a manufacturing standpoint, both companies believe that the combination of their different manufacturing methods will create an efficient mix of manufacturing operations. The combination is expected to enhance the strength of the geographic footprint of the combined company.

Oclaro's Reasons (Page 47). In addition to the reasons above, the Oclaro board of directors considered in evaluating the merger a number of other factors. See the section entitled The Merger Agreement Reasons for the Merger Oclaro's Reasons for the Merger on page 47.

Opnext's Reasons (Page 49). In addition to the reasons above, the Opnext board of directors considered in evaluating the merger a number of other factors. See the section entitled The Merger Agreement Reasons for the Merger Opnext's Reasons for the Merger on page 49.

Opinions of Financial Advisors

Opinion of Oclaro's Financial Advisor (Page 52). Foros Securities LLC, also referred to as Foros, delivered to the Oclaro board of directors an opinion, dated March 26, 2012, to the effect that as of that date and based on and subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other matters set forth therein, the exchange ratio of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock to be issued in exchange for each share of Opnext common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair to Oclaro from a financial point of view.

The full text of the written opinion of Foros Securities LLC, dated March 26, 2012, which sets forth the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, is attached as Annex D. Foros Securities LLC provided its opinion to the Oclaro board of directors for the information of Oclaro's board of directors in connection with its evaluation of the exchange ratio from a financial point of view. The Foros Securities LLC opinion does not address any other aspect of the merger and is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of Oclaro common stock should vote with respect to the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement. Oclaro encourages you to read the entire opinion carefully.

Opinion of Opnext's Financial Advisor (Page 62). In connection with the merger, Opnext's financial advisor, Blackstone Advisory Partners L.P., referred to as Blackstone, delivered to Opnext's board of directors a written opinion, dated March 26, 2012, as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion, to the holders of Opnext common stock of the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock. The full text of the written opinion, dated March 26, 2012, of Blackstone Advisory Partners L.P., which describes, among other things, the assumptions made, procedures followed, factors considered and limitations on the review undertaken, is attached as Annex E to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus in its entirety. Blackstone Advisory Partners L.P. delivered its opinion to Opnext's board of directors for the benefit and use of Opnext's board of directors in connection with and for purposes of its evaluation of the exchange ratio from a financial point of view. Blackstone's opinion does not address any other aspect of the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how to vote or act in connection with the proposed merger. Opnext encourages holders of Opnext common stock to read the opinion carefully in its entirety.

Interests of Oclaro's Directors in the Merger (Page 78)

When considering the recommendations by the Oclaro board of directors, you should be aware that a number of Oclaro's directors have interests in the merger that are different from those of other Oclaro stockholders.

Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger (Page 78)

When considering the recommendations by the Opnext board of directors, you should be aware that a number of Opnext's executive officers and directors have interests in the merger that are different from those of other Opnext stockholders.

Restrictions on Resales (Page 87)

All shares of Oclaro common stock received by Opnext stockholders in the merger will be freely tradable, except that shares of Oclaro common stock received by persons who become affiliates of Oclaro for purposes of Rule 144 under the Securities Act may be resold by them only in transactions permitted by Rule 144, or as otherwise permitted under the Securities Act.

Limitation on the Solicitation, Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext and Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals (Page 102)

Each of Opnext and Oclaro has agreed to a number of limitations with respect to soliciting, negotiating and discussing acquisition proposals involving persons other than Opnext and Oclaro, and to certain related matters.

Change of Board Recommendation (Page 101)

Subject to certain conditions, the board of directors of Opnext or Oclaro may withdraw or modify its recommendation in the case of Opnext in support of the adoption of the merger agreement and in the case of Oclaro in support of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock. In the event that the board of directors of either company withdraws or modifies its recommendation in a manner adverse to the other company, the company whose board of directors withdrew or modified its recommendation may be required to pay a termination fee of $6 million to the other company.

Conditions to the Merger (Page 105)

The respective obligations of Oclaro and Opnext to consummate the merger are subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions.

Termination of the Merger Agreement (Page 108)

Either Oclaro or Opnext can terminate the merger agreement under certain circumstances, which would prevent the merger from being consummated.

Expenses and Termination Fees (Page 110)

Subject to limited exceptions, all fees and expenses incurred in connection with the merger agreement will be paid by the party incurring such expenses; provided, however, that Oclaro and Opnext will share equally all fees and expenses, other than attorneys' fees, incurred in connection with: (a) the filing, printing and mailing of the registration statement on Form S-4 and this joint proxy statement/prospectus; and (b) the filing by the parties of any notice or other document under any applicable antitrust or competition legal requirement.

A termination fee of $6 million may be payable by either Oclaro or Opnext to the other party upon the termination of the merger agreement under certain circumstances.

It is expected that the merger will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, and the completion of the merger is conditioned on the receipt by each of Oclaro and Opnext of an opinion from its outside counsel to the effect that the merger will qualify as such a reorganization. If the merger qualifies as a reorganization, Opnext stockholders generally will not recognize gain or loss upon the receipt of Oclaro common stock in exchange for Opnext common stock in connection with the merger, except with respect to cash received in lieu of fractional shares of Oclaro common stock.

Tax matters are very complicated, and the tax consequences of the merger to you will depend on the facts and circumstances of your own situation. Opnext stockholders are urged to read the discussion in the section entitled "Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger - Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger" beginning on page 84 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and to consult their tax advisors as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger, as well as the effects of state, local and non-U.S. tax laws.

Regulatory Approvals (Page 87)

Under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the "HSR Act"), Oclaro and Opnext must file notifications with the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice ("DOJ"), and observe a mandatory pre-merger waiting period before completing the merger. On April 16, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext filed their respective notifications under the HSR Act. On April 23, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext were notified that the FTC and DOJ granted the parties' request for early termination of the HSR waiting period, effective as of that date. Accordingly, the condition to the merger relating to the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act has been satisfied.

While Oclaro and Opnext already have obtained HSR clearance, Oclaro and Opnext cannot assure you that other government agencies, including state attorneys general, or private parties, will not initiate actions to challenge the merger before or after it is completed. Any such challenge to the merger could result in a court order enjoining the merger or in a governmental agency or court imposing restrictions or conditions that could have a material adverse effect on the combined company if the merger were completed. Such restrictions and conditions could include requiring the divestiture or spin-off of assets or businesses, although the absence of any such restriction or condition is a condition to the completion of the merger. Neither Oclaro nor Opnext can provide assurance that any such conditions, terms, obligations or restrictions will not result in the delay or abandonment of the merger. Neither Oclaro nor Opnext is aware of any foreign approvals that are required to complete the merger.

Anticipated Accounting Treatment (Page 87)

The merger is expected to be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting pursuant to Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 805, Business Combinations. Oclaro has been treated as the acquirer in the merger for accounting purposes. Under the acquisition method of accounting, as of the date of the completion of the merger, the purchase price is equivalent to the fair value of the consideration transferred and Oclaro will recognize all assets acquired and liabilities assumed at their fair values.

Appraisal Rights (Page 87)

Under Delaware law, holders of Opnext common stock are not entitled to appraisal rights in connection with the merger because the Oclaro common stock and the Opnext common stock are listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market and the NASDAQ Global Market, respectively. Under Delaware law, holders of Oclaro common stock are not entitled to appraisal rights in connection with the merger.

Recent Developments (Page 88)

On June 4, 2012, Opnext announced that on May 31, 2012 its board of directors determined that an unsolicited non-binding offer to acquire all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Opnext for $1.40 per share in cash was not superior to the merger.

The Board of Directors and Executive Officers of the Combined Company (Page 79)

The merger agreement provides that the Oclaro board of directors following the effective time of the merger will be comprised of four members designated by Opnext (currently expected to be Harry Bosco, David Lee, Kendall W. Cowan and William L. Smith) and the existing six members of the Oclaro board of directors (Alain Couder, Edward Collins, Lori Holland, Marissa Peterson, Greg Dougherty, Joel A. Smith II). It is currently expected that the executive officers of Oclaro following the merger will be the same as the current executive officers of Oclaro, except that, in addition, following the effective time of the merger, Oclaro contemplates that certain employees of Opnext will join Oclaro as executive officers. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus it is not known which Opnext employees, if any, will become executive officers of Oclaro and no determinations by Oclaro have been made in this regard. It is expected that any Opnext employees who do become executive officers of Oclaro would be offered compensation and benefits generally consistent with the compensation and benefits provided to Oclaro's existing executive officers.

Listing of Oclaro Common Stock and Delisting and Deregistration of Opnext Common Stock

Prior to the effective time of the merger, Oclaro will make an application to have the shares of Oclaro common stock issued in the merger approved for listing on the NASDAQ Global Select Market. If the merger is completed, Opnext common stock will no longer be listed on the NASDAQ Global Market and will be deregistered under the Exchange Act, and Opnext will no longer file periodic reports with the SEC.

Comparison of Rights of Oclaro Stockholders and Opnext Stockholders (Page 135)

Opnext stockholders, whose rights are currently governed by the Opnext amended and restated certificate of incorporation, the Opnext bylaws, as amended, and Delaware law, will, upon completion of the merger, become stockholders of Oclaro and their rights will be governed by the Oclaro restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, the Oclaro bylaws, as amended, and Delaware law.

The historical book value per Opnext share is computed by dividing stockholders' equity by the number of shares of common stock outstanding at December 31, 2011 and March 31, 2011. The unaudited pro forma combined book value per share as of March 31, 2012 is computed by dividing the unaudited pro forma combined stockholders' equity by the unaudited pro forma combined number of shares of Oclaro common stock outstanding at March 31, 2012 assuming the merger had occurred as of that date.

Table of Contents

The following table presents the closing per share price of Oclaro common stock and Opnext common stock, as reported on the NASDAQ Global Select Market and the NASDAQ Global Market, respectively, and the estimated equivalent per share price (as explained below) of Opnext common stock on March 23, 2012, the last full trading day before the public announcement of the proposed merger, and on June 6, 2012:

	Oclaro Common Stock	Opnext Common Stock	Estimated Equivalent Opnext Per Share Price
March 23, 2012	$ 4.53	$ 1.09	$ 1.90
June 6, 2012	$ 2.54	$ 1.08	$ 1.07

The estimated equivalent per share price of a share of Opnext common stock equals the exchange ratio of 0.42 multiplied by the price of a share of Oclaro common stock. You may use this calculation to estimate what your shares of Opnext common stock will be worth if the merger is consummated. If the merger had occurred on June 6, 2012, you would have received a number of shares of Oclaro common stock worth approximately $1.07 for each share of Opnext common stock you owned. The actual equivalent per share price of a share of Opnext common stock that you will receive if the merger is consummated may be different from this price because the per share price of Oclaro common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market fluctuates continuously.

Following the consummation of the merger, Oclaro common stock will continue to be listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market, and there will be no further market for Opnext common stock.

Table of ContentsCAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

This joint proxy statement/prospectus includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Words such as anticipate, believes, budget, continue, could, estimate, expect, forecast, may, plan, potential, predicts, project, should, will and similar expressions are intended to identify such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to: (i) statements about the benefits of the merger involving Oclaro and Opnext, including potential synergies and cost savings and the timing thereof; (ii) future financial and operating results following the merger; (iii) the combined company's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions with respect to future operations, products and services; (iv) the competitive position and opportunities for the combined company; (v) the impact on the merger on the market for the combined company's products; (vi) the non-GAAP operating income and integration costs of the combined company; and (vii) the timing of the completion of the merger. Such forward-looking statements are based upon the current beliefs and expectations of Oclaro's and Opnext's management and are inherently subject to significant business, economic and competitive uncertainties and contingencies, many of which are difficult to predict and generally beyond the control of Oclaro and Opnext. Actual results may differ materially from the results anticipated in these forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to: (i) the failure of the merger to close for any reason, including not receiving the requested stockholder approval by Opnext stockholders or Oclaro stockholders or both; (ii) the competitive position and opportunities for the combined company; (iii) general business and economic conditions; (iv) the performance of financial markets; (v) risks relating to the consummation of the contemplated merger, including the risk that required stockholder approval and regulatory agencies might not be obtained in a timely manner or at all or that other closing conditions are not satisfied; (vi) the impact on the merger on the markets for the combined companies optical, industrial and consumer products; (vii) the failure of the combined company to realize synergies and cost-savings from the transaction or delay in realization thereof; (viii) the businesses or employees of Oclaro and Opnext not being combined and integrated successfully, or such combination taking longer or being more difficult, time-consuming or costly to accomplish than expected; (ix) operating costs and business disruption following the merger, including adverse effects on employee retention and on our business relationships with third parties; (x) the future performance of the combined company following the closing of the merger; (xi) the combined company's ability to maintain gross margins; (xii) effects of fluctuating product mix on results; (xiii) the combined company's ability to timely develop and commercialize new products; (xiv) the combined company's ability to respond to evolving technologies and customer requirements; (xv) the combined company's dependence on a limited number of customers for a significant percentage of its projected revenues; (xvi) the combined company's ability to effectively compete with companies that have greater name recognition, broader customer relationships and substantially greater financial, technical and marketing resources; (xvii) increased costs related to downsizing and compliance with regulatory requirements in connection with such downsizing, competition and pricing pressure; (xviii) the combined company's potential lack of availability of credit or opportunity for equity based financing; (xix) the combined company's risks associated with international operations; (xx) the combined company's outcome of tax audits or similar proceedings; and (xxi) the outcome of pending litigation against Oclaro or Opnext. Additional factors that can cause the results to materially differ than those described in the forward-looking statements are described in the section "Risk Factors" on page 25.

You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. All forward-looking statements are qualified in their entirety by this cautionary statement. We assume no obligation to update the forward-looking statements, or to update the reasons why actual results could differ from those projected in the forward-looking statements.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information included and incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed in the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information, you should carefully consider the following risks before deciding whether to vote for the proposals relating to the merger. In addition, you should read and consider the risks associated with each of the businesses of Oclaro, Inc. and Opnext, Inc. because these risks will also affect the combined company. These risks can be found in the Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended July 2, 2011, for Oclaro, Inc. and March 31, 2012 for Opnext, Inc., and any amendments thereto, as such risks may be updated or supplemented in each company's subsequently filed Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q or Current Reports on Form 8-K, which will be incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus as they are filed. You should also read and consider the other information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 146.

Risks Relating to the Merger

The combined company may not achieve strategic objectives, anticipated synergies and other potential benefits of the merger.

Both companies expect to realize strategic, financial and operating benefits as a result of the merger, including, among others, significant cost savings synergies. However, neither company can predict with certainty the extent to which these benefits will actually be achieved or the timing of any such benefits. The following factors, among others, may prevent the combined company from realizing these benefits:

the inability of the combined company to consolidate and rationalize product lines, supply chains, administrative functions, sales and marketing teams and/or research and development efforts to the degree, or within the time period, expected;

the inability of the combined company to increase product sales;

unfavorable customer reaction to the combined company's products;

competitive factors, including technological advances attained by competitors and patents granted to or contested by competitors, which would enhance their ability to compete against the combined company;

the failure of key markets for the combined company's products to develop to the extent or as rapidly as currently expected;

the impact of the recent economic and financial downturn and the extent to which the current adverse economic conditions and disruptions in the credit and financial markets improve or ameliorate, if at all;

changes in technology that increase the number of competitors that the combined company faces after the merger or require the combined company to make significant capital expenditures to develop competitive products;

unfavorable reaction to the merger by the combined company's third party manufacturers; employment law or regulations or other limitations in foreign jurisdictions that could have an impact on timing, amounts or costs of achieving synergies; and the failure to retain key employees.

Failure to achieve the strategic objectives of the merger could have a material adverse effect on the revenues, expenses and the operating results and cash resources of the combined company and could result in the combined company not achieving the anticipated potential benefits of the merger. In addition, Oclaro and Opnext cannot assure you that the growth rate of the combined company will equal the historical growth rate experienced by either Oclaro or Opnext.

Table of Contents

Oclaro and Opnext may not successfully integrate their businesses and may not realize the anticipated benefits of the merger.

Achieving the potential benefits of the merger will depend in substantial part on the successful integration of the two companies' technologies, operations and personnel. Oclaro and Opnext will face significant challenges in integrating their organizations and operations in a timely and efficient manner. Some of the challenges involved in this integration include:

demonstrating to the customers of Oclaro and Opnext that the merger will not result in adverse changes in client service standards or business focus and helping customers conduct business easily with the combined company;

consolidating and rationalizing corporate information technology, engineering and administrative infrastructures;

integrating product offerings;

coordinating sales and marketing efforts to effectively communicate the capabilities of the combined company;

coordinating and integrating the supply chains;

coordinating and integrating the manufacturing activities of the two companies, including with respect to third party manufacturers;

coordinating the international activities of the two companies; coordinating and rationalizing research and development activities to enhance introduction of new products and technologies with reduced cost; and preserving important relationships of both Oclaro and Opnext and resolving potential conflicts that may arise.

The integration of Oclaro and Opnext will be a complex, time consuming and expensive process. It is not certain that Oclaro and Opnext can be successfully integrated in a timely manner or at all or that any of the anticipated benefits will be realized. Failure to do so could have a material adverse effect on the revenues, expenses and the operating results and cash resources of the combined company and could result in the combined company not achieving the anticipated potential benefits of the merger.

Integrating the companies may divert management's attention away from our operations.

Successful integration of Oclaro's and Opnext's operations, products and personnel may place a significant burden on Oclaro's management and its internal resources, following the completion of the merger. The diversion of management attention and any difficulties encountered in the transition and integration process could harm Oclaro's business, financial condition, operating results and evaluating strategic actions.

Oclaro expects to incur significant costs integrating the companies into a single business, and if such integration is not successful Oclaro may not realize the expected benefits of the merger.

Oclaro expects to incur significant costs integrating Opnext's operations, products and personnel. These costs may include costs for:

employee redeployment, relocation or severance;

conversion of information systems;

combining research and development teams and processes;

reorganization or closures of redundant or excess facilities; and relocation or disposition of excess equipment.

Table of Contents

In addition, Oclaro expects to incur significant costs in connection with the merger. Oclaro does not know whether it will be successful in these integration efforts or in consummating the merger and cannot assure you that it will realize the expected benefits of the merger. In addition, Oclaro may incur restructuring costs in connection with the merger that exceed the current expectations. Finally, the board of directors and employees of the combined entity will consist of individuals from both Oclaro and Opnext, and the new members of the board of directors and employees of the combined entity, which have had limited exposure to each other, may not be able to work together effectively, which also could have an adverse effect on the business of the combined entity.

If Oclaro fails to retain key employees, the benefits of the merger could be diminished.

The successful combination of Oclaro and Opnext will depend in part on the retention of key personnel. There can be no assurance that Oclaro will be able to retain its or Opnext's key management, technical, sales and customer support personnel. If Oclaro fails to retain such key employees, it may not realize the anticipated benefits of the merger.

The sales of Oclaro and/or Opnext could decline if customer relationships are disrupted by the merger.

Oclaro's and Opnext's customers may not continue their current buying patterns during the pendency of, and following, the merger. Any loss of design wins or significant delay or reduction in orders for Oclaro's or Opnext's products could harm the combined company's business, financial condition and results of operations. Customers may defer purchasing decisions as they evaluate the likelihood of successful integration of Oclaro's and Opnext's products and the combined company's future product strategy, or consider purchasing products of our competitors. Customers may also seek to modify or terminate existing agreements, or prospective customers may delay entering into new agreements or purchasing our products. In addition, by increasing the breadth of Oclaro's and Opnext's business, the merger may make it more difficult for the combined company to enter into relationships, including customer relationships, with strategic partners, some of whom may view the combined company as a more direct competitor than either Oclaro or Opnext as an independent company.

Because Opnext stockholders will receive a fixed number of shares of Oclaro common stock in the merger, rather than a fixed value, if the market price of Oclaro common stock declines, Opnext stockholders will receive consideration in the merger of lesser value.

Upon the consummation of the merger, each Opnext share will be converted into the right to receive 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock. Since the exchange ratio is fixed, the number of shares that Opnext stockholders will receive in the merger will not change, even if the market price of Oclaro or Opnext common stock changes. In recent years, the stock market, in general, and the securities of technology companies, in particular, have experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations. These market fluctuations may adversely affect the market price of Oclaro common stock. The market price of Oclaro common stock upon and after the consummation of the merger could be lower than the market price on the date of the merger agreement or the current market price. Conversely, the price of Opnext common stock may be higher. Opnext stockholders should obtain recent market quotations of Oclaro common stock before they vote on the merger.

The ownership and voting interests of Oclaro stockholders will be diluted as a result of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock to the security holders of Opnext in the merger.

After the merger, stockholders of Opnext who receive Oclaro common stock in the merger are expected to represent approximately 43% of the outstanding Oclaro common stock as of the date of the merger, based on the number of shares of Oclaro common stock and Opnext common stock that were outstanding on the record date (May 23, 2012), assuming that no Opnext or Oclaro equity awards are exercised or settled between the record date (May 23, 2012) and the effective time of the merger. After the merger, stockholders of Oclaro immediately prior to the effective time are expected to own approximately 57% of the aggregate number of outstanding shares of the common stock of the combined company, assuming that no Opnext or Oclaro equity awards are exercised or settled between the record date (May 23, 2012) and the effective time of the merger.

As a result of the merger, the combined company will be a larger and more geographically diverse organization, and if the combined company's management is unable to manage the combined organization efficiently, its operating results will suffer.

Following the merger, the combined company will have approximately 3,200 employees in a total of 26 facilities around the world. As a result, the combined company will face challenges inherent in efficiently managing an increased number of employees over large geographic distances, including the need to implement appropriate systems, policies, benefits and compliance programs. The inability to manage successfully the geographically more diverse (including from a cultural perspective) and substantially larger combined organization could have a material adverse effect on the operating results of the combined company after the merger and, as a result, on the market price of Oclaro common stock.

The combined company may not be able to maintain access to Hitachi's research laboratories following the merger. Certain intellectual property owned by Hitachi and licensed to Opnext and its subsidiaries might not be available to the entire combined company after the merger.

Opnext has relied on access to Hitachi Ltd.'s (Hitachi) research laboratories pursuant to agreements with Hitachi, which included access to Hitachi's research facilities and engineers, to conduct research and development activities that are important to the establishment of new technologies and products vital to Opnext's current and future business. In addition, Hitachi has licensed certain intellectual property to Opnext pursuant to various arrangements. Although Oclaro is seeking to have Hitachi approve certain licenses in agreements to cover the entire combined company, such arrangements might not extend to Oclaro and its subsidiaries (other than Opnext and its subsidiaries) after the merger. Should access to Hitachi's research laboratories be unavailable or available at less attractive terms in the future or should the intellectual property licensed to Opnext not be available to Oclaro and its subsidiaries (other than Opnext and its subsidiaries), the business, financial condition and results of operations of the combined company could be materially adversely affected.

Certain governmental authorities may seek to set material restrictions or conditions in order to consummate the merger, as they deem necessary or desirable in the public interest.

On April 23, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext were notified that the FTC and DOJ granted the parties' request for early termination of the HSR waiting period, effective as of that date. While HSR clearance has been obtained, any state of the U.S. could take such actions under the antitrust laws as it deems necessary and desirable. Such actions can include seeking to enjoin the consummation of the merger or seeking divestiture of substantial assets of Oclaro or Opnext.

The proposed merger may not be consummated.

Neither Oclaro nor Opnext can provide any assurances that the proposed merger will be consummated. If the companies are unable to complete the proposed merger, each will have incurred substantial expenses and diverted significant management time and resources from their ongoing business without the intended benefit.

Oclaro's and Opnext's directors and executive officers have interests that differ from, or are in addition to, those of other Oclaro and Opnext stockholders and that may have influenced them to support and approve the merger.

Opnext's directors and executive officers have certain interests in the merger that differ from, or are in addition to, the interests of other Opnext stockholders. As a result, Oclaro and Opnext directors and officers could be more likely to vote for the proposal to approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and to adopt the merger agreement than if they did not have these interests. The Oclaro board of directors and Opnext board of directors were aware of these interests at the time each approved the merger and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Oclaro and Opnext stockholders should review the sections titled Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Interests of Oclaro's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger and Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger beginning on page 78 for a more complete description of these arrangements.

The merger agreement contains provisions that limit Opnext's and Oclaro's ability to pursue alternatives to the merger, which could discourage a potential acquirer of either company from making an alternative transaction proposal and, in certain circumstances, could require Opnext or Oclaro to pay the other a termination fee of $6,000,000.

Under the merger agreement, Opnext and Oclaro are restricted, subject to limited exceptions, from entering into alternative transactions. Unless and until the merger agreement is terminated, subject to specified exceptions (which are discussed in more detail in the section titled The Merger Agreement Limitation on the Solicitation, Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext and Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals beginning on page 102), Opnext and Oclaro are restricted from initiating, seeking, soliciting or knowingly encouraging or facilitating any inquiry, proposal or offer for a competing acquisition proposal with any person. Furthermore, Opnext and Oclaro are restricted from participating or engaging in discussions or negotiations, or disclosing any non-public information to any person that has made a proposal with respect to either company, subject to certain exceptions, which are discussed in more detail in the section titled Exception to the Limitation on the Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext or Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals). Additionally, under the merger agreement, in the event of a potential change of recommendation by the Oclaro board of directors or the Opnext board of directors with respect to the merger-related proposals, the company changing its recommendation must provide the other with five business days prior notice and, if requested, negotiate in good faith an adjustment to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement prior to changing its recommendation. Opnext and Oclaro may terminate the merger agreement and enter into an agreement with respect to a superior proposal only if specified conditions have been satisfied, including material compliance with the non-solicitation provisions of the merger agreement. These provisions could discourage a third party that may have an interest in acquiring all or a significant part of Opnext or Oclaro from considering or proposing that acquisition, even if such third party were prepared to pay consideration with a higher per share cash or market value than that market value proposed to be received or realized in the merger, or might result in a potential competing acquirer proposing to pay a lower price than it would otherwise have proposed to pay because of the added expense of the termination fee that may become payable in certain circumstances. As a result of these restrictions, neither Opnext nor Oclaro may be able to enter into an agreement with respect to a more favorable alternative transaction without incurring potentially significant liability to the other. In addition, if an intervening event takes place between signing and closing of the merger, the Opnext board of directors or Oclaro board of directors, as applicable, may change their recommendation to their stockholders, however, they will not be permitted to terminate the merger agreement until a duly held stockholders meeting is held at which Opnext's stockholders or Oclaro's stockholders, as applicable, reject the merger-related proposals.

Under the merger agreement, Opnext or Oclaro may be required to pay to the other a termination fee of $6,000,000 if the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances. Should the merger agreement be terminated in circumstances in which such termination fee or expense reimbursement is payable, the payment of this fee by Oclaro or Opnext could have adverse consequences to the financial results of the company making such payment.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial information and prospective financial information contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus are presented for illustrative purposes only, contain a variety of adjustments, assumptions and preliminary estimates and may not represent the actual financial position or results of operations of Opnext or Oclaro prior to the merger or that of the combined company following the merger for several reasons. See the sections titled Selected Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Data on page 20 and Comparative Historical and Unaudited Pro Forma Per Share Data on page 21. The actual financial positions and results of operations of Opnext or Oclaro prior to the merger and that of the combined company following the merger may not be consistent with, or evident from, the unaudited pro forma combined financial information and prospective financial information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. In addition, the assumptions used in preparing the unaudited pro forma combined financial information and prospective financial information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus may not prove to be accurate and may be affected by other factors. Any significant changes in the share price of Oclaro may cause a significant change in the purchase price and the pro forma financial information.

Several lawsuits have been filed against Opnext and Oclaro challenging the merger and an adverse ruling may prevent the merger from being completed.

Oclaro, Opnext, and Tahoe Acquisition Sub, as well as members of Opnext's board of directors, have been named as defendants in several lawsuits brought by Opnext shareholders. Additional lawsuits may be filed against Oclaro, Opnext, Merger Sub, and/or the directors of one of the foregoing companies in connection with the merger. See the section entitled "The Merger - Legal Proceedings Related to the Merger" for more information about the lawsuits that have been filed related to the merger.

One of the conditions to the closing of the merger is that no order, injunction, decree or other legal restraint or prohibition shall be in effect that prevents completion of the merger. Consequently, if a settlement or other resolution is not reached in the lawsuits referenced above and the plaintiffs secure injunctive or other relief prohibiting, delaying or otherwise adversely affecting the defendants' ability to complete the merger, then such injunctive or other relief may prevent the merger from becoming effective within the expected time frame or at all.

Other Risks of Oclaro and Opnext

Oclaro's and Opnext's businesses are and will be subject to the risks described above. In addition, Oclaro and Opnext are, and will continue to be, subject to the risks described in Oclaro's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended July 2, 2011, and Opnext's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, each as updated by subsequent Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and related amendments to such filings, all of which are filed with the SEC and incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" for the location of information incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Subsequent to the merger, Avanex changed its name to Oclaro (North America), Inc. and Oclaro changed its NASDAQ Global Market symbol to OCLR. Effective January 3, 2011, Oclaro's common stock began trading on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol OCLR.

Record Date and Voting Power

There were approximately 9,758 holders of record of Oclaro common stock at the close of business on the record date. Because many of such shares are held by brokers and other institutions on behalf of stockholders, Oclaro is unable to estimate the total number of stockholders represented by these record holders. There were 51,481,012 shares of Oclaro common stock issued and outstanding at the close of business on the record date. Each share of Oclaro common stock entitles the holder thereof to one vote on each matter submitted for stockholder approval.

Table of Contents

All properly executed proxies that are not revoked will be voted at the Oclaro special meeting and at any adjournments or postponements of the special meeting in accordance with the instructions contained in the proxy. If a holder of Oclaro common stock executes and returns a proxy and does not specify otherwise, the shares represented by that proxy will be voted FOR each of Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1, 2 and 3 in accordance with the recommendation of the Oclaro board of directors.

An Oclaro stockholder who has submitted a proxy may revoke it at any time before it is voted at the Oclaro special meeting by executing and returning a proxy bearing a later date, providing proxy instructions via the telephone or the Internet (your latest telephone or Internet proxy is counted), filing written notice of revocation with the Corporate Secretary of Oclaro stating that the proxy is revoked or attending the special meeting and voting in person.

Required Vote

The presence, in person or by proxy, at the Oclaro special meeting of a majority of the shares of Oclaro common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the Oclaro special meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum at the meeting. If Oclaro stockholders do not vote by proxy or in person at the Oclaro special meeting, the shares of common stock of such stockholders will not be counted as present for the purpose of determining a quorum. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be counted towards a quorum. The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares voting in person or by proxy at the Oclaro special meeting is required for approval of each of Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1 and 3, and the affirmative vote of a majority of Oclaro common stock outstanding on the record date for the Oclaro special meeting is required for approval of Oclaro Proposal No. 2.

For Oclaro Proposal Nos. 1 and 3, a failure to submit a proxy card or vote at the Oclaro special meeting, or an abstention, vote withheld or broker non-votes will have no effect on the outcome of such proposals. For Oclaro Proposal No. 2, a failure to submit a proxy card or vote at the Oclaro special meeting, or an abstention, vote withheld or broker non-vote for such proposal, will have the same effect as a vote against the approval of Oclaro Proposal No. 2.

As of the record date for the Oclaro special meeting, the directors and executive officers of Oclaro owned approximately 0.8% of the outstanding shares of Oclaro common stock entitled to vote at the Oclaro special meeting. Alain Couder, Jerry Turn, Kate Rundle, Jim Haynes, Edward Collins, Lori Holland, Marissa Peterson, Greg Dougherty and Joel Smith, each either an officer and/or a director of Oclaro have each entered into a voting agreement with Opnext, dated March 26, 2012. They have agreed in the voting agreements to vote all shares of Oclaro common stock owned by them as of the record date in favor of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement. Approximately 417,817 shares of Oclaro common stock, which represent approximately 0.8% of the outstanding shares of Oclaro common stock as of the record date, are subject to the voting agreements. For more information regarding the voting agreements, see the section entitled Voting Agreements on page 113 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Solicitation of Proxies

In addition to solicitation by mail, the directors, officers, employees and agents of Oclaro may solicit proxies from Oclaro's stockholders by personal interview, telephone, telegram or otherwise. Oclaro will bear the cost of the solicitation of proxies, except that Oclaro and Opnext will each pay one-half of the costs of filing, printing and mailing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the proxy card and any additional information furnished to stockholders. Arrangements will also be made with brokerage firms and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries who are record holders of Oclaro common stock for the forwarding of solicitation materials to the beneficial owners of Oclaro common stock. Oclaro will reimburse these brokers, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses they incur in connection with the forwarding of solicitation materials. Oclaro has engaged the services of Proxy Advisory Group, LLC to assist in the solicitation of proxies from Oclaro stockholders and to provide related advice and informational support for a services fee and the reimbursement of customary disbursements that are not expected to exceed $20,000 in total.

If the stockholder fails to provide timely notice of a proposal to be presented at the 2012 annual meeting, the chairman of the meeting may exclude the proposal from being brought before the meeting and the proxies designated by our board of directors will have discretionary authority to vote on such proposal should it be allowed to come before the meeting.

Record Date and Voting Power

Only holders of record of Opnext common stock at the close of business on the record date, May 23, 2012, are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Opnext special meeting. There were approximately 170 holders of record of Opnext common stock at the close of business on the record date. There were 90,638,173 shares of Opnext common stock issued and outstanding at the close of business on the record date. Because many of such shares are held by brokers and other institutions on behalf of stockholders, Opnext is unable to estimate the total number of stockholders represented by these record holders. Each share of Opnext common stock entitles the holder thereof to one vote on each matter submitted for stockholder approval. See Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management Beneficial Ownership of Opnext Shares for information regarding persons known to the management of Opnext to be the beneficial owners of more than 5% of the outstanding shares of Opnext common stock.

Any written notice of revocation or subsequent proxy card must be received by the Secretary of Opnext prior to the taking of the vote at the Opnext special meeting. Such written notice of revocation or subsequent proxy card should be hand delivered to the Secretary of Opnext or should be sent to Opnext, Inc., 46429 Landing Parkway, Fremont, California 94538, Attention: Corporate Secretary.

Required Vote

The presence, in person or by proxy, at the Opnext special meeting of a majority of the shares of Opnext common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the Opnext special meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum at the Opnext special meeting. Approval of Opnext Proposal No. 1 requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Opnext common stock outstanding on the record date for the Opnext special meeting. Approval of Opnext Proposal No. 2 and Opnext Proposal No. 3 requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast in person or by proxy at the Opnext special meeting. Abstentions will be counted towards a quorum and will have the same effect as negative votes on Opnext Proposal No. 1, but will not be counted for any purpose in determining whether Opnext Proposal No. 2 or Opnext Proposal No. 3 is approved. Broker non-votes will be counted towards a quorum, but will not be counted for any purpose in determining whether either proposal is approved.

Certain of the current executive officers and directors of Opnext (and related entities) have entered into a voting agreement with Oclaro dated March 26, 2012. They have agreed in the voting agreements to vote all shares of Opnext common stock owned by them as of the record date in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement. Approximately 35,203,108 shares of Opnext common stock, which represent approximately 38.8% of the outstanding shares of Opnext common stock as of the record date, are subject to the voting agreements. For more information regarding the voting agreements, see the section entitled "Voting Agreements" on page 113 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Solicitation of Proxies

In addition to solicitation by mail, the directors, officers, employees and agents of Opnext may solicit proxies from Opnext stockholders by personal interview, telephone, telegram or otherwise. Opnext will bear the costs of the solicitation of proxies from its stockholders, except that Oclaro and Opnext will each pay one-half of the cost of filing, printing and mailing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the proxy card and any additional information furnished to stockholders. Arrangements will also be made with brokerage firms and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries who are record holders of Opnext common stock for the forwarding of solicitation materials to the beneficial owners of Opnext common stock. Opnext will reimburse these brokers, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses they incur in connection with the forwarding of solicitation materials. Opnext has engaged the services of Morrow & Co., LLC to assist in the solicitation of proxies from Opnext stockholders and to provide related advice and informational support for a service fee of $7,500 and the reimbursement of customary disbursements.

Other Matters

As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the Opnext board of directors does not know of any business to be presented at the Opnext special meeting other than as set forth in the notice accompanying this joint proxy statement/prospectus. If any other matters should properly come before the special meeting, it is intended that the shares represented by proxies will be voted with respect to such matters in accordance with the judgment of the persons voting the proxies.

Procedure for Submitting Stockholder Proposals

If the merger is completed, we will not have public stockholders and there will be no public participation in any future meeting of Opnext stockholders. However, if the merger is not completed or if we are otherwise required to do so under applicable law, we will hold a 2012 annual meeting of our stockholders.

Requirements for Stockholder Proposals to be Considered for Inclusion in Opnext's Proxy Materials. Stockholders may present proper proposals for inclusion in Opnext's proxy statement and for consideration at the annual meeting of its stockholders by submitting their proposals in writing to the Secretary of Opnext in a timely manner as described below.

Requirements for Stockholder Proposals to be Brought Before an Annual Meeting.

Proposals Pursuant to Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act. To be eligible for inclusion in Opnext's 2012 proxy statement, stockholder proposals must be received by Opnext no later than September 28, 2012, and must otherwise comply with Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act. However, if the date of the 2012 Opnext annual meeting changes by more than 30 days from the one-year anniversary of the date of the 2011 Opnext annual meeting, then such proposals must be received a reasonable time before Opnext begins to print and send its proxy materials for the 2012 Opnext annual meeting.

Proposals and Nominations Pursuant to our Bylaws. Under the Opnext bylaws, in order to nominate a director or bring any other business before the stockholders at the 2012 Opnext annual meeting that will not be included in Opnext's proxy statement, stockholders must notify Opnext in writing and such notice must be delivered to the Opnext Corporate Secretary at Opnext's principal executive office, 46429 Landing Parkway, Fremont, California 94538, (i) not later than November 23, 2012 nor earlier than October 24, 2012 or (ii) if the date of the 2012 Opnext annual meeting is more than 30 days before or more than 70 days after the anniversary of the 2011 Opnext annual meeting, not earlier than the 120th day and not later than the 90th day prior to such annual meeting or, if later, the 10th day following the day on which public disclosure of the date of the annual meeting was first made.

OCLARO PROPOSAL NO. 1 AND OPNEXT PROPOSAL NO. 1 THE MERGER

General Description of the Merger

At the effective time of the merger, Tahoe Acquisition Sub, Inc., or merger sub, will be merged with and into Opnext. Opnext will be the surviving corporation and will continue as a wholly owned subsidiary of Oclaro. In the merger, each share of Opnext common stock outstanding at the effective time will automatically be converted into the right to receive 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock. Each Opnext stockholder who would otherwise be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Oclaro common stock will instead of such fraction be paid in cash the dollar amount (rounded to the nearest whole cent), without interest, determined by multiplying such fraction by the average closing price of a share of Oclaro common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the ten most recent days that Oclaro common stock has traded ending on the trading day one day prior to the date the merger becomes effective.

Based on the number of shares of Oclaro common stock and Opnext common stock that were outstanding as of the record date (May 23, 2012), approximately 38,068,000 shares of Oclaro common stock would be issuable pursuant to the merger agreement, representing approximately 43% of the total Oclaro common stock to be outstanding after such issuance. This assumes that no Opnext or Oclaro equity awards are exercised or settled after the record date and prior to the effective time of the merger.

Background

During 2009, 2010 and 2011, Oclaro had discussions with various third parties in the optical components industry regarding acquisitions by Oclaro of, mergers of Oclaro with, or acquisitions of Oclaro by, such companies. Discussions between Opnext management and Oclaro management relating to a potential merger occurred in late 2009 and early 2010 but were ended without serious negotiations until the parties re-engaged in March 2011 as described below. None of the other discussions during 2009, 2010 and 2011 resulted in serious negotiations. In connection with such discussions and in general as part of a series of presentations to the board of directors of Oclaro, a representative of Dewey & LeBoeuf LLP, outside M&A counsel to Oclaro, which is referred to as Dewey, and a representative of Jones Day, outside corporate counsel to Oclaro, which is referred to as Jones Day, discussed with the board the fiduciary duties of the board, and other legal rights, privileges and obligations, in connection with the consideration by the board of various strategic alternatives, including merger transactions similar to the transaction with Opnext. In February 2010, Oclaro formally engaged Foros Securities LLC, which is referred to as Foros, as its financial adviser.

During the summer and fall of 2009, Opnext considered an acquisition of a competing optical communications business, which we refer to as Company A. As part of this process, members of Opnext management, together with Latham & Watkins LLP, outside counsel to Opnext, which is referred to as Latham, and Blackstone Advisory Partners L.P., financial advisor to Opnext, which is referred to as Blackstone, conducted extensive due diligence on, and negotiations with, Company A. Ultimately, the parties mutually agreed not to pursue an acquisition at that time. In addition, beginning in the fall of 2009 and continuing through the spring of 2010, Opnext had discussions with various other companies in the optical components industry regarding acquisitions by Opnext of, mergers of Opnext with, or acquisitions of Opnext by, such companies, including Oclaro as described above. None of such discussions resulted in serious negotiations. Blackstone was engaged by Opnext as its financial adviser with respect to a potential transaction with Company A.

In March 2011, Alain Couder, the Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Oclaro, had a discussion with Harry Bosco, the Chief Executive Officer, President and Chairman of the Board of Directors of Opnext, about a potential merger of Oclaro and Opnext. The discussion was preliminary and high-level and potential financial terms were not discussed.

On May 17, 2011, the board of directors of Opnext held a regularly scheduled meeting, at which time the board of directors formed a strategic advisory committee and instructed the management of Opnext to conduct a valuation of Opnext based upon its current stand-alone business plan as well as a comprehensive review of Opnext's potential strategic options. This review was to be conducted by members of Opnext management. Opnext management subsequently engaged Blackstone to assist with this review pursuant to a new engagement letter dated June 15, 2011. The results of such review were to be reported initially to Opnext's strategic advisory committee and then to the Opnext board of directors.

Opnext's strategic advisory committee held five separate meetings beginning in June and continuing until July 2011 to discuss the status of the comprehensive review being undertaken at the direction of the board of directors. In addition to the members of the strategic advisory committee, various members of Opnext management and representatives of each of Blackstone and Latham participated in the meetings. During these meetings, the valuation of Opnext as well as a comprehensive survey of potential strategic partnerships for Opnext were discussed. Blackstone, in consultation with Opnext's management, provided analyses regarding Opnext's option to remain a stand-alone company as well as options for potential strategic partners, in each case based on Opnext management forecasts of future operating performance, an evaluation of Opnext's operating performance in relation to its potential strategic partners and an evaluation of the potential combined financial and operating performance of Opnext and its potential strategic partners. The potential risks and benefits of all of these options were discussed at length.

On June 9, 2011, the board of directors of Oclaro held a regularly scheduled meeting, which was also attended by members of Oclaro's senior management. At that meeting, Mr. Couder provided several business-related updates to the board and Jerry Turin, the Chief Financial Officer of Oclaro, provided a finance-related update. Following such updates, Edward Collins, the Chair of the M&A Committee of the Oclaro board, reviewed for the board his recent discussions with a member of the board of directors of Opnext regarding a potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext. The board then reviewed a draft letter from Oclaro to Opnext. In the letter, Mr. Couder referred to prior discussions about a potential merger transaction involving Oclaro and Opnext, expressed his strong belief in the merits of such a transaction and suggested that the companies spend time analyzing in greater detail such a transaction, including the synergies and other benefits that could be derived from such a transaction. No exchange ratio or other valuation information was contained in the letter. Following discussion, the board authorized management of Oclaro to provide the letter to Mr. Bosco, which management did on June 9, 2011. Upon receipt of the letter, Mr. Bosco spoke with Mr. Couder, acknowledging receipt of the letter and indicating that he would discuss the content of the letter with the strategic advisory committee (which Mr. Bosco did at a subsequent June meeting of the strategic advisory committee) and the full board of directors of Opnext.

On July 24, 2011, the Opnext strategic advisory committee held a meeting at which the results of the valuation of Opnext and the review of strategic options were presented by members of Opnext management, with the assistance of Blackstone, and with a representative of Latham participating as well. The results of such review included a valuation of Opnext as well as an analysis of the various potential strategic partners for Opnext and noted that Oclaro and another third party's optical communications business, which we refer to as Company B, presented the best potential strategic partners for Opnext, with a third optical communications business, which we refer to as Company C, representing a potential but less preferred strategic partner. This analysis was subsequently communicated by a Blackstone representative to the full board of directors of Opnext at a regularly scheduled meeting which occurred on July 28, 2011. At such full meeting of the board of directors, Mr. Bosco reviewed with the members of the board of Opnext the content of the June 9, 2011 letter from Oclaro. The board of directors of Opnext authorized Opnext management and Blackstone to have discussions related to a strategic transaction with Oclaro, Company B and Company C.

In early August 2011, Messrs. Couder and Bosco met to exchange high level views of the respective companies and identify potential areas of synergy should Opnext and Oclaro combine. Messrs. Couder and Bosco agreed that a small team from each company should engage in a more in-depth study with regard to the potential synergies to be realized in a transaction. Following such meeting, Mr. Bosco briefed the board of directors of Opnext on the meeting. Between the middle of August 2011 and the beginning of October 2011, members of management of Opnext and Oclaro met four times to discuss the potential synergies to be realized in a transaction between the parties.

On August 10, 2011, Mr. Bosco met with the Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the board of directors of Company B to discuss the respective companies and identify potential areas of synergy should Opnext and Company B combine. At the meeting, Mr. Bosco and the Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of Company B agreed to continue the discussions, after which Mr. Bosco reported to the board of directors regarding the nature of the discussions, providing a high level view of Company B and Mr. Bosco's preliminary assessment of the potential benefits and synergies to be realized in a transaction between Opnext and Company B. During August and September 2011, members of management of Opnext met multiple times with members of management of Company B to discuss the potential synergies to be realized in a transaction between the parties.

On September 15, 2011, at the request of Opnext's board of directors, representatives of Blackstone met with representatives of Company C to exchange high level views of the respective companies, but this conversation did not result in serious negotiations.

On September 26, 2011, a telephonic meeting of the board of directors of Opnext was held. This meeting was attended by Opnext's senior management as well as Blackstone. A representative of Blackstone discussed Oclaro, Company B and Company C and the post-closing risks associated with these potential partners. Opnext's senior management described the product portfolios, manufacturing capabilities and research and development activities of Oclaro and Company B and updated the board of directors on the status of discussions with Oclaro and with Company B, with Mr. Bosco informing the board that, by note dated September 22, 2011, the Chairman and CEO of Company B had informed him that it was likely no longer interested in pursuing a potential transaction. The board of directors of Opnext authorized Opnext management and Blackstone to continue discussions related to a strategic transaction with Oclaro and requested that Mr. Bosco confirm with the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Company B that Company B was no longer interested in continuing discussions, which Mr. Bosco did during the week of September 26, 2011, reporting the same to the board of directors of Opnext.

On September 27 and 29, 2011, regularly scheduled meetings of the board of directors of Oclaro were held. A portion of the September 27th meeting was attended by members of Oclaro's senior management. A portion of the September 29th meeting was attended by a representative of Foros and, by telephone, a representative of Jones Day. At that meeting, the board discussed various M&A opportunities, including the potential transaction with Opnext, and Foros provided the board with its preliminary views on illustrative financial terms of a potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext. Following discussion, the board authorized Mr. Couder to engage in negotiations with Opnext regarding a potential merger.

On October 21, 2011, the Opnext board of directors held a regularly scheduled meeting at which representatives of Latham and Blackstone were present. A member of the Opnext strategic advisory committee updated the board of directors on the status of discussions with Oclaro and noted that Company B had confirmed that it was no longer interested in pursuing a strategic transaction. A representative of Blackstone also provided an update on Oclaro. During an adjournment, Mr. Couder from Oclaro met with the Opnext board of directors and discussed the merits and potential synergies of a merger transaction between Opnext and Oclaro. Mr. Couder also proposed to the Opnext board members an exchange ratio of 0.38 of a share of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock, which would result in the Opnext stockholders owning approximately 40.5% of the combined company. Following Mr. Couder's exit, the meeting of the board of directors reconvened and a representative of Latham discussed with the board its fiduciary duties in the context of a potential transaction with Oclaro. At the conclusion of this meeting, the Opnext board of directors determined not to move forward at that time with a transaction with Oclaro on the terms proposed by Mr. Couder.

Over the weekend of October 22-23, 2011, Fabrinet, the primary contract manufacturer to both Oclaro and Opnext, informed both companies that flooding had infiltrated the manufacturing floor space at its manufacturing facilities in Thailand.

On October 24, 2011, a telephonic meeting of the M&A Committee of the Oclaro board was held. Members of Oclaro's senior management attended the meeting. At the meeting, Mr. Couder provided an update on various M&A opportunities, including the potential transaction with Opnext.

In late October 2011, Mr. Bosco notified Mr. Couder of Opnext's rejection of the proposal made by Mr. Couder at the October 21, 2011 meeting and proposed to Mr. Couder an exchange ratio which would result in the Opnext stockholders owning approximately 48% of the combined company. Shortly thereafter, at the direction and on behalf of Oclaro, Foros communicated Oclaro's rejection of such offer and Opnext made a further proposal which would have resulted in the Opnext stockholders owning approximately 45% of the combined company. Oclaro rejected this offer and Mr. Couder indicated that Oclaro was not interested in pursuing a transaction until there was less uncertainty regarding the impact of the flooding in Thailand on each of Opnext and Oclaro. The parties re-engaged approximately two weeks later and, in mid-November 2011, Messrs. Couder and Bosco agreed to present to their respective boards of directors for consideration an exchange ratio of 0.42 of a share of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock, which would result in Opnext stockholders owning approximately 43% of the combined company.

On November 29, 2011, a special telephonic meeting of the board of directors of Oclaro was held. The meeting was also attended by members of Oclaro's senior management, representatives of Foros and a representative of Jones Day. At that meeting, the board discussed various business updates and various M&A opportunities, including the potential transaction with Opnext, and Foros provided the board with additional views on the financial terms of a potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext. Following discussion, the board authorized management of Oclaro to proceed with due diligence regarding a potential merger with Opnext if the board of directors of Opnext authorized Opnext to do the same.

On December 1, 2011, the Opnext board of directors held a telephonic meeting at which the board agreed to proceed to the next phase of discussions on the basis of a 0.42 exchange ratio and approximately 43% ownership of the combined company for the Opnext stockholders, with the parties working to develop an operational plan and financial model for the combined company in an effort to obtain the support of Hitachi and Clarity Partners, L.P. (with their affiliate Clarity Opnext Holdings II, LLC, Clarity Partners), Opnext's two largest stockholders, for a potential transaction. On or about December 2, 2011, Mr. Couder called Mr. Bosco to clarify that the offer was 0.42 of a share of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock.

Starting in early December 2011 and continuing through March 2012, senior executives of Oclaro and senior executives of Opnext (including the CEOs, CFOs, business unit heads, the heads of strategic and business development and the heads of sales of both companies, and Oclaro's Executive Vice President) participated in numerous telephone conferences and face-to-face meetings in an effort to further identify the potential synergies of a transaction as well as to develop a post-flood financial and operating models for the combined company. In mid-January 2012, on the basis of the work that had been done to date, Opnext advised Oclaro that, in principle and subject to due diligence and the negotiation of satisfactory definitive documents, Hitachi and Clarity Partners would support a merger based on an exchange ratio of 0.42.

During late January 2012 and early February 2012, Blackstone and Opnext management held a series of discussions with Company A after being approached by Company A relating to a potential acquisition of Opnext by Company A. Various analyses were prepared by Blackstone and shared with members of Opnext management relating to a potential transaction. Opnext's strategic advisory committee was advised of the discussions with Company A and determined not to pursue the transaction at that time.

On January 24, 2012, the board of directors of Opnext held a regularly scheduled board meeting, which was also attended by members of Opnext's senior management and a representative of Blackstone. At that meeting, a member of the Opnext strategic advisory committee discussed with the board of directors the status of discussions with Oclaro. On January 25 and 26, 2012, the board of directors of Oclaro held a regularly scheduled board meeting, which was also attended by members of Oclaro's senior management and a representative of Jones Day. At that meeting, Mr. Couder discussed with the board the status of discussions with various parties (including Opnext) about a strategic transaction involving Oclaro. Messrs. Couder and Jerry Turin also updated the board on the financial and operational analysis of a potential merger with Opnext.

On or about February 15, 2012, at the direction of Oclaro, Foros called Blackstone to review the proposed combination and, in light of the increase in the implied premium since December 1, 2011, to discuss potentially lowering the exchange ratio. This led to discussions, during February 2012, between Messrs. Couder and Bosco (and each of the boards of directors of Oclaro and Opnext separately) regarding whether a change in the exchange ratio would be appropriate in light of stock price movements. At the conclusion of these discussions, Mr. Bosco stated that the Opnext board would be unwilling to move forward with the transaction if the exchange ratio was lowered. The parties ultimately determined to keep the exchange ratio at 0.42.

On February 16, 2012, a meeting of the M&A Committee of the board of directors of Oclaro was held. The meeting was also attended by members of Oclaro's senior management, representatives of Foros, a representative of Dewey and a representative of Jones Day. At that meeting, Mr. Couder provided several business-related updates and also informed the M&A Committee that two parties who had previously expressed interest in a potential strategic transaction with Oclaro were not interested in proceeding with such a transaction at that time. Mr. Couder also updated the M&A Committee on another transaction involving a possible acquisition by Oclaro. The M&A Committee also discussed the status of the transaction between Oclaro and Opnext, including the possible synergies that might result from such a transaction, the possible business plan of the combined company and the premium that was implied by the exchange ratio of 0.42. Foros provided the M&A Committee with an update of its views on the financial terms of a potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext, and a representative of Dewey advised the M&A Committee on the fiduciary duties of the board in the context of the contemplated transaction with Opnext. The Oclaro M&A Committee authorized management to continue its discussions with Opnext.

On February 17, 2012, representatives of Dewey sent to representatives of Latham a summary of key terms of the potential transaction. On or around February 22, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext permitted the other to review due diligence materials in online data rooms. On February 27, 2012, representatives of Dewey sent to representatives of Latham a draft of the merger agreement. The draft merger agreement contemplated, among other things, a requirement that each company submit the proposed merger to a vote of its stockholders even if a superior competing offer were made for either company and reciprocal break-up fees of 4% of the equity value of the transaction after giving effect to any premium paid in the transaction. Representatives of Dewey also sent to representatives of Latham a draft of a voting agreement to be signed by Hitachi and Clarity Partners, key stockholders of Opnext.

On February 20, 2012, the board of directors of Opnext held a regularly scheduled board meeting, which was also attended by members of Opnext's senior management and representatives of Blackstone and Latham. At that meeting, a member of the Opnext strategic advisory committee discussed with the board, in consultation with Opnext's senior management and Blackstone, the status of discussions with Oclaro, including potential transaction terms, pro forma operating strategies for the combined company and a review of the synergy assumptions for the potential transaction. A representative of Latham also advised the board of directors on the fiduciary duties of the board in the context of the contemplated transaction with Oclaro in addition to discussing the proposed terms of the merger based on the summary of key terms provided by Dewey on February 17, 2012. Following deliberation, the board authorized management to continue its discussions with Oclaro.

Beginning on February 27, 2012 and continuing until March 26, 2012, representatives of Dewey and representatives of Latham exchanged drafts of the proposed merger agreement and voting agreement (and a voting agreement to be signed by the executive officers and directors of Oclaro) and negotiated the terms and conditions thereof. Among the key terms that were negotiated were whether the parties would be entitled to terminate the merger agreement to accept a superior offer, the size and triggers of the reciprocal break-up fees and certain provisions relating to the treatment of employees of each company and of the combined company. On March 21, 2012, Mr. Couder and Mr. Bosco and representatives of Dewey and Latham conducted a negotiation conference call on which it was determined that (i) the parties would be entitled to terminate the merger agreement to accept a superior competing offer, (ii) the break-up fees would be reciprocal in size and (iii) Oclaro would be permitted to issue certain shares as part of an earn-out payment obligation arising from a previous acquisition such that the exchange ratio of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock would result in approximately 42% ownership of the combined company for the Opnext stockholders (as opposed to 43% ownership).

In addition, from February 27, 2012 through March 26, 2012, the management teams of Oclaro and Opnext, along with their respective representatives, communicated frequently with each other regarding due diligence, and the management teams of Oclaro and Opnext prepared and exchanged the disclosure schedules contemplated by the merger agreement.

On March 5, 2012, the board of directors of Oclaro held a regularly scheduled telephonic board meeting, which was also attended by members of Oclaro's senior management, representatives of Foros, a representative of Dewey and a representative of Jones Day. Other members of management of Oclaro discussed with the board the status of due diligence. Foros provided the board with its preliminary views on the financial terms of a potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext and a representative of Dewey advised the board on the open issues in the proposed merger agreement. The board authorized management to continue its discussions with Opnext.

On March 22, 2012, the board of directors of Oclaro held a special telephonic board meeting, which was also attended by members of Oclaro's senior management, representatives of Foros, a representative of Dewey and a representative of Jones Day. In addition, representatives of Foros provided the board with its additional preliminary views regarding the financial terms of a potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext. The board authorized management to continue its negotiations with Opnext.

On March 23, 2012, the Opnext strategic advisory committee held a special meeting, which was also attended by members of Opnext's senior management and representatives of Blackstone, Latham and Opnext's accounting advisor. Representatives of each of Blackstone, Latham and Opnext's accounting advisor presented their respective results of due diligence in addition to a presentation by Opnext's management regarding the results of its due diligence. A member of the Opnext strategic advisory committee then discussed a number of topics relating to the potential transaction with Oclaro, including the due diligence results that had been presented and the status of the material outstanding issues in the proposed merger agreement. In addition, representatives of Blackstone provided the strategic advisory committee with additional analyses regarding the potential merger between Oclaro and Opnext.

On March 26, 2012, the board of directors of Oclaro held a special telephonic meeting, which was also attended by members of Oclaro senior management, representatives of Foros, a representative of Dewey and a representative of Jones Day. Management reported to the board on its further due diligence findings. A representative of Dewey discussed with the board the status and terms of the merger agreement and voting agreements. Representatives of Foros reviewed with the Oclaro board of directors its financial analysis of the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock and delivered to the board of directors an oral opinion, confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated March 26, 2012, to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to various assumptions and limitations described in Foros' opinion, the exchange ratio was fair, from a financial point of view, to Oclaro. The Oclaro board, after considering the due diligence findings, and the merits, risks and benefits of the proposed transaction with Opnext, concluded that the transaction was fair to and in the best interests of Oclaro's stockholders, and voted to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

A representative of Latham discussed with the board the board's fiduciary duties with respect to the proposed transaction and the status and terms of the merger agreement and voting agreements. A representative of Blackstone reviewed with the board Blackstone's financial analysis of the exchange ratio and Blackstone then delivered to the board of directors its oral opinion, confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated March 26, 2012, to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to various assumptions and limitations described in Blackstone's opinion, the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Opnext common stock. The Opnext board, after considering the due diligence findings, and the merits, risks and benefits of the proposed transaction with Oclaro, concluded that the transaction was fair to and in the best interests of Opnext's stockholders, and voted to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

Shortly after the board meetings on March 26, 2012, Opnext, Oclaro and their representatives finalized the merger agreement and the disclosure schedules to the merger agreement, and the parties executed the merger agreement on March 26, 2012. Also, certain directors and executive officers of Oclaro and certain directors, executive officers and stockholders (including Hitachi and Clarity Partners) of Opnext entered into voting agreements, each dated as of March 26, 2012.

After the stock market closed on March 26, 2012, Opnext and Oclaro issued a joint press release announcing the execution of the merger agreement.

Reasons for the Merger

Mutual Reasons for the Merger

The boards of directors of Oclaro and Opnext identified and considered many factors in evaluating the merger, including the following:

Creating Synergies and Cost Saving Opportunities. The integration of the product lines, supply chains, administrative functions, sales and marketing teams and research and development efforts of the combined companies is expected to result in cost savings synergies and continuing increases in gross margins, both of which are expected to improve Oclaro's operating results. Both companies believe that the combination of the two companies will create synergies that are expected to improve financial performance faster than either of the two companies could accomplish on a stand-alone basis. It is expected that the combination will result in positive non-GAAP operating income in the first full quarter after the close of the transaction and will generate approximately $35 million to $45 million in annualized cost savings by the end of 18 months after the consummation of the merger.

Integration of Product Lines Resulting in Scale to Better Compete. Both companies believe that the combination of the two companies with their technologies and capabilities will result in a stronger company with a more complete and broader product offering than either company would have on a stand-alone basis. A broader product line is expected to allow the combined company to better serve the customer base.

Leader in the markets. Both companies believe that the combination of the two companies will create a leader in the telecom market of the optical industry and a stronger competitor in the datacom market of the optical industry. As a result of the merger, the combined company will have a comprehensive portfolio of terminal and line product technologies that are critical for the metro and long-haul markets and a broader product portfolio in the industrial and consumer markets. The combined company is expected to become a new leader in the growing optical components and modules market, a leading supplier to the core optical network with a strong leadership position in the fast growing 40G and 100G segment, will be well-positioned to grow its leadership in data communications and will become the largest supplier of laser diodes for industrial and consumer applications.

Utilizing and Integrating Complementary Businesses. Both companies believe that each company's product portfolios are complementary to the other company's products and that there is little overlap between the product portfolios. The companies have complementary chip level and technology portfolios, which are expected to allow the combined company to deliver more vertical integration capabilities from components to subsystems. The combined company will be well positioned through its strategic partnerships to become a highly strategic provider to major customers.

Integration of Technologies and IP. Both companies possess strong intellectual property portfolios and together the combined portfolio is even stronger with an aggregate of over 2,000 patents. The companies expect that the combined company's technological capabilities will support more rapid development of next generation products, which could improve the combined company's competitive position in its target markets. The combined company is expected to have technology leadership in chip level, design and manufacture photonic integration and advanced packaging.

Expansion of Sales Opportunities. Since the companies have complementary customer bases and relationships, both companies believe that the combination will allow them to quickly expand and improve sales opportunities and service to their customers.

Combined Board Representation. The board of directors of the combined company will also enjoy the experience and skills of certain members of the board of each of Oclaro and Opnext.

Oclaro's Reasons for the Merger

In addition to considering the strategic factors outlined above, the Oclaro board of directors consulted with senior management, outside legal counsel and its financial advisor, reviewed a significant amount of information, and considered the following factors in reaching its conclusion to approve the merger and to recommend that the Oclaro stockholders approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock, all of which it viewed as generally supporting its decision to approve the business combination with Opnext:

the complementary nature of Oclaro's and Opnext's product lines;

the potential opportunity for the two companies to integrate their products to meet a wider set of customer needs and to combine their technological resources to develop new products with increased functionality and bring them to market faster;

the potential of the combined company to have a stronger geographic footprint in Japan than Oclaro possessed on a standalone basis prior to the merger;

the competitive and market environments in which Oclaro and Opnext operate, and the potential for the merger to enhance the scale of Oclaro's ability to compete effectively in those environments, particularly given current adverse economic conditions;

historical and current information about each of the combining companies and their businesses, prospects, financial performance and condition, operations, technology, management and competitive position, before and after giving effect to the merger and the merger's potential effect on stockholder value, including public reports filed with the SEC, analyst estimates, market data and management's knowledge of the industry;

the potential improvement in the share price of Oclaro common stock as a result of the cost savings synergies and improved operating results, thus enhancing stockholders value;

the results of the due diligence review of Opnext's business and operations by Oclaro's management, legal advisors and financial advisors;

the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, including the following related factors:

the determination that an exchange ratio that is fixed and not subject to adjustment is appropriate to reflect the strategic purpose of the merger and consistent with market practice for a merger of this type and that a fixed exchange ratio fairly captures the respective ownership interests of the Oclaro and Opnext stockholders in the combined company based on valuations of Oclaro and Opnext at the time of the board's approval of the merger agreement and avoids fluctuations caused by near-term market volatility;

the fact that the merger agreement is not subject to termination solely as a result of any change in the trading price of either Oclaro's or Opnext's stock between signing of the merger agreement and consummation of the merger;

the nature of the conditions to Opnext's obligation to consummate the merger and the limited risk of non-satisfaction of such conditions;

the no-solicitation provisions governing Opnext's ability to engage in negotiations with, provide any confidential information or data to, and otherwise have discussions with, any person relating to an alternative acquisition proposal;

the limited ability of the parties to terminate the merger agreement; and the possible effects of the provisions regarding termination fees and expenses;

the likelihood that the merger will be consummated on a timely basis;

the likelihood of retaining key Oclaro and Opnext employees to help manage the combined entity; and the opinion of Oclaro's financial advisor, dated March 26, 2012, to the Oclaro board of directors that, as of such date and based on and subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other matters set forth in the opinion, the exchange ratio of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock to be issued in exchange for each share of Opnext common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair to Oclaro from a financial point of view.

The Oclaro board of directors also considered the potential risks of the merger, including the following:

the risks, challenges and costs inherent in combining the operations of two major companies and the substantial expenses to be incurred in connection with the merger, including the possibility that delays or difficulties in completing the integration could adversely affect the combined company's operating results and preclude the achievement of some benefits anticipated from the merger;

the possible volatility, at least in the short term, of the trading price of Oclaro's common stock resulting from the merger announcement;

the possible loss of key management, technical or other personnel of either of the combining companies as a result of the management and other changes that will be implemented in integrating the businesses;

the risk of diverting management's attention from other strategic priorities to implement merger integration efforts;

the negative impact or possible reduction of purchase commitments of any delays in purchase commitments after the announcement of the merger as a result of any customers obtaining alternative sources of goods;

the potential loss of one or more large customers or partners of either company as a result of any such customer's or partner's unwillingness to do business with the combined company;

the possibility that the reactions of existing and potential competitors to the combination of the two businesses could adversely impact the competitive environment in which the companies operate;

the risk that the merger might not be consummated in a timely manner, or that the merger might not be consummated at all;

the risk to Oclaro's business, sales, operations and financial results in the event that the merger is not consummated;

the risk that the anticipated benefits of product integration and interoperability and cost savings will not be realized;

the potential incompatibility of business cultures; and various other applicable risks associated with the combined company and the merger, including those described in the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled Risk Factors.

The foregoing information and factors considered by the Oclaro board of directors are not intended to be exhaustive but are believed to include all of the material factors considered by the Oclaro board of directors. In view of the wide variety of factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the merger and the complexity of these matters, the Oclaro board of directors did not find it useful, and did not attempt, to quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to these factors. In considering the factors described above, individual members of the Oclaro board of directors may have given different weight to different factors. The Oclaro board of directors conducted an overall analysis of the factors described above, including thorough discussions with, and questioning of, Oclaro's management and Oclaro's legal and financial advisors, and considered the factors overall to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

Opnext's Reasons for the Merger

The Opnext board of directors consulted with senior management, outside legal counsel and Opnext's financial advisor in evaluating the merger. In addition to considering the strategic factors outlined above, the Opnext board considered a number of factors in reaching its conclusion to approve the merger and to recommend that the Opnext stockholders adopt the merger agreement, including, but not limited to:

the strategic rationale for the merger and the potential benefits of the contemplated transaction;

the possible alternatives to the merger, including the possibility of continuing to operate as an independent entity and the perceived risks thereof, and the potential for an alternative combination transaction to the merger based upon the discussions held by Opnext and senior management, with the assistance of Opnext's financial advisor, with a number of potential strategic partners over a period of several years; management's assessment of the potential competitive advantages and operational and other synergies that potentially could be realized from a number of alternative strategic combinations;

the current and historical market prices of Opnext's and Oclaro's common stock, and the current and historical market prices of Opnext's and Oclaro's common stock relative to those of other industry participants and general market indices, including the fact that the 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock to be paid as the consideration in the merger represented an implied premium over the implied current and historical exchange ratios over the 30-day, 60-day, and 90-day trading periods ended March 23, 2012 (the last trading day prior to the public announcement of the merger);

the current and prospective environment in which Opnext operates, including the competitive environment, reductions in expenditures by Opnext's customers, the trend toward consolidation in the optical components industry and the corresponding effect on Opnext's revenues, the importance of scale in the increasingly competitive market environments in which Opnext operates, and the potential for the merger to enhance Opnext's ability to compete effectively in those environments, and the likely effect of these factors on Opnext's potential growth, development, productivity, profitability and strategic options;

current and historical information concerning Opnext's and Oclaro's respective businesses, operations, management, financial performance and conditions, technology, operations, prospects and competitive position, before and after giving effect to the merger and the merger's potential effect on stockholder value;

the potential business, operational and financial synergies that may be realized over time by the combined company following the merger;

its knowledge of the business, operations, financial condition and earnings of Oclaro, taking into account the results of the due diligence review of Oclaro;

the likelihood that the merger will be completed;

current financial market conditions and historical market prices, volatility and trading information with respect to Opnext's and Oclaro's common stock;

the terms of the merger agreement, including the parties' representations, warranties and covenants, and the conditions to their respective obligations; and the consideration to be received by Opnext's stockholders in the merger, including the form of such consideration, which enables Opnext's stockholders to continue to have a substantial equity interest in the combined company following the merger, as well as the fact that the shares of Oclaro common stock to be received by Opnext's stockholders will be received in a tax-free exchange and would be registered on Form S-4 and will be freely tradable for Opnext stockholders who are not affiliates of Oclaro.

The Opnext board of directors also identified and considered a number of positive factors in its deliberations concerning whether to approve the merger and enter into the merger agreement, including, but not limited to:

discussions with Opnext's management team regarding Opnext's and Oclaro's respective businesses, financial performance and condition, technology, operations, competitive position, business strategy, strategic objectives and options and prospects, as well as risks involved in achieving these objectives; the nature of Opnext's and Oclaro's respective businesses and the industry in which Opnext and Oclaro compete; and current industry, economic and global market conditions, both on a historical and on a prospective basis, all of which led the board of directors to conclude that the merger presented an opportunity for the stockholders of Opnext to realize greater value than the value likely to be realized by stockholders in the event Opnext remained independent;

a review of the possible alternatives to a sale of Opnext, including remaining independent and growing the business organically, pursuing a strategy of growth through acquisitions or pursuing corporate alliances; the value to the stockholders of Opnext of such alternatives; and the timing and likelihood of actually achieving additional value from these alternatives;

the belief by management that the merger would allow for enhanced products and opportunities for Opnext's partners, clients and customers, and management's view that the relatively limited overlap between Opnext and Oclaro would minimize the impact of the merger on the customers and employees of Opnext;

the value of the consideration to be paid in connection with the merger as analyzed through various valuation methodologies, including among others implied exchange ratio analysis, selected publicly traded companies analysis, selected precedent transactions analysis and contribution analysis;

the assessment, based on management's negotiations and discussions with other parties to alternative potential combination transactions during the course of negotiations with Oclaro, of the relative value of such potential combination transactions and the synergies that may be realized by the business combinations;

the opinion of Opnext's financial advisor, dated March 26, 2012, to Opnext's board of directors as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion, of the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock, as more fully described below in the section Opinion of Opnext's Financial Advisor on page 62;

the fact that the merger would be subject to the approval of the stockholders of Opnext and that if an alternative offer affording greater value to Opnext's stockholders were to be made to the stockholders prior to the completion of the merger, the stockholders could elect not to adopt the merger agreement, and that the board of directors could change its recommendation regarding the merger in certain circumstances, subject to possible payment of the termination fee;

the belief that the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, including the parties' mutual representations, warranties and covenants, deal support provisions, and closing conditions, are reasonable for a transaction of this nature, and the prospects for successful consummation of the transaction are high.

The Opnext board of directors also identified and considered a variety of risks and other countervailing factors in its deliberations concerning whether to approve the merger and enter into the merger agreement, including, but not limited to:

the fact that because of the fixed exchange ratio of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock, if Oclaro's share price declines prior to the consummation of the merger, the consideration to be received by the stockholders of Opnext would also decline;

the inability of Opnext's stockholders to realize the long-term value of the successful execution of Opnext's current strategy as an independent company;

the risks associated with remaining an independent company, including increased competition, industry consolidation trends, difficulties of achieving scale, the significant and increasing cost of complying with obligations as a publicly traded company, anticipated operating performance and a review of ongoing product development initiatives;

the possibility that the merger might not be completed and the potential effects of the public announcement and pendency of the merger on management attention, Opnext's ability to retain employees, Opnext's relationship with certain customers, suppliers and strategic partners, and Opnext's sales, operating results and stock price and Opnext's ability to attract and retain key management and sales, marketing and technical personnel;

the risks of integrating the businesses of the combined companies and management and employee disruption associated with the merger, including the risks that the integration of the two companies

management and cultures might not be accomplished quickly or smoothly and that despite the efforts of the combined company, key personnel might not remain employed by the combined company;

the recent trading values of Opnext's common stock in the current recessionary environment and in the aftermath of the earthquake and tsunami in Japan and the flooding in Thailand in 2011, relative to trading values of Opnext's common stock in prior periods;

the restrictions the merger agreement imposes on soliciting competing bids and the fact that Opnext may be obligated to pay to Oclaro a $6 million termination fee under specified circumstances and the possibility that this termination fee could discourage a competing proposal to acquire Opnext or reduce the price in an alternative transaction;

the restrictions the merger agreement imposes on the operations of Opnext during the period between the signing of the merger agreement and the completion of the merger and the fact that such restrictions could have had an adverse effect on the operations of Opnext during such time;

the fact that the merger agreement precludes Opnext from actively soliciting alternative proposals;

the fact that certain of the directors and executive officers of Opnext may have conflicts of interest in connection with the merger, as they may receive certain benefits that are different from, and in addition to, those of the other stockholders of Opnext;

that, while the merger is expected to be completed, there can be no assurance that all conditions to the parties' obligations to complete the merger will be satisfied, and as a result, it is possible that the merger may not be completed, even if the merger agreement is adopted by the stockholders of Opnext;

the risk of not realizing all of the anticipated strategic benefits between Oclaro and Opnext and the risk that other anticipated benefits might not be realized;

the risk that the merger may not be consummated in a timely manner or that the merger may not be consummated at all;

the substantial costs to be incurred in connection with the merger, including the costs of integrating the businesses of Oclaro and Opnext and the transaction expenses arising from the merger; and various other applicable risks associated with the combined company and the merger, including the risks described in the section titled "Risk Factors."

The foregoing information and factors considered by the Opnext board of directors are not intended to be exhaustive but are believed to include all of the material factors considered by the Opnext board of directors. In view of the wide variety of factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the merger and the complexity of these matters, the Opnext board of directors did not find it useful, and did not attempt, to quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to these factors. In considering the factors described above, individual members of the Opnext board of directors may have given different weight to different factors. The Opnext board of directors conducted an overall review of the factors described above, including discussions with Opnext's management and legal and financial advisors, and considered the factors overall to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

With respect to the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, Foros assumed, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction and without independent verification, that such forecasts were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of Oclaro as to the future financial performance of Opnext, including the assessments of the management of Oclaro as to the relative likelihood of achieving the future financial results reflected in the Opnext Forecasts and the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, and Foros relied, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction, on the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts for purposes of its opinion. With respect to the Oclaro Forecasts, Foros assumed, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction and without independent verification, that such forecasts were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of Oclaro as to the future financial performance of Oclaro. With respect to the Synergies/Cost Savings, Foros assumed, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction and without independent verification, that they were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of Oclaro as to the future financial performance of Oclaro and the other matters covered thereby, and Foros also relied, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction and without independent verification, on the assessments of the management of Oclaro as to its ability to achieve the Synergies/Cost Savings and Foros was advised by Oclaro, and assumed, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction and without independent verification, that the Synergies/Cost Savings will be realized in the amounts and at the times projected.

Foros did not make and was not provided with any independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of Oclaro or Opnext, nor did it make any physical inspection of the properties or assets of Oclaro or Opnext. Foros did not evaluate the solvency or fair value of Oclaro, Opnext or the combined company under any state, federal or other laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or similar matters. Foros assumed, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction, that the merger would be consummated in accordance with its terms, without waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement and that, in the course of obtaining the necessary governmental, regulatory and other approvals, consents, releases and waivers for the merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition would be imposed that would have an adverse effect on Oclaro or Opnext or the contemplated benefits of the merger. Foros also assumed, at the Oclaro board of directors' direction, that the merger would qualify for federal income tax purposes as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

Foros' opinion expressed no view or opinion as to any terms or other aspects of the merger (other than the exchange ratio to the extent expressly specified therein), including, without limitation, the form or structure of the merger. Furthermore, Foros expressed no opinion or view as to the relative merits of the merger in comparison to other strategies or transactions that might be available to Oclaro or in which Oclaro might engage or as to the underlying business decision of Oclaro to proceed with or effect the merger. Foros did not express any opinion as to what the value of Oclaro common stock actually would be when issued or the prices at which Oclaro common stock would trade at any time, including following announcement or consummation of the merger. In addition, Foros' opinion was not intended to and does not constitute a recommendation to members of the Oclaro board of directors as to whether they should approve the merger or the merger agreement, and Foros expressed no opinion or recommendation as to how any stockholder should vote or act in connection with the merger or any related matter. Except as described above, the Oclaro board of directors imposed no other limitations on the investigations made or procedures followed by Foros in rendering its opinion.

Foros calculated and compared various financial multiples and ratios based on closing market share prices and other publicly available historical financial data for the Selected Companies, Opnext and Oclaro as of March 23, 2012, the last full trading day prior to the Oclaro board of directors approval of the contemplated merger, and selected Wall Street research, FactSet and public filings and, with respect to Opnext and Oclaro, also based on the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts and the Oclaro Forecasts.

In the analysis of Selected Companies, Foros used non-GAAP operating performance metrics commonly used by Oclaro management in evaluating and reporting core operating performance. Non-GAAP gross profit was calculated in accordance with GAAP, excluding the non-cash compensation related to stock and options granted to employees and directors. Non-GAAP operating income/loss was calculated as operating income/loss in accordance with GAAP, excluding the impact of amortization of intangible assets, restructuring, acquisition and related costs, non-cash compensation related to stock and options granted to employees and directors, certain other one-time charges and credits and excluding any flood related impairment of fixed assets and inventory and related expenses. Non-GAAP net income/loss was calculated as net income/loss in accordance with GAAP excluding the impact of restructuring, acquisition and related costs, flood-related expenses, non-cash compensation related to stock and options granted to employees and directors, net foreign currency translation gains/losses, the impact of amortization of intangible assets and certain other one-time charges and credits.

With respect to the Selected Companies, Opnext and Oclaro, Foros calculated and compared:

annual percentage growth rate of total revenue from calendar year 2010 to calendar year 2011 and of total revenue from calendar year 2011 to estimated total revenue for calendar year 2012;

No company used in this analysis is identical or directly comparable to Opnext or Oclaro. Accordingly, an evaluation of the results of this analysis is not entirely mathematical. Rather, this analysis involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the public trading or other values of the companies to which Opnext and Oclaro were compared.

Contribution Analysis

Foros reviewed the relative revenue, gross profit, non-GAAP operating income, non-GAAP net income (adjusted for positive net cash balances) and tangible book value contributions of Opnext and Oclaro to the future financial performance of the combined company on a pro forma basis. The purpose of the contribution analyses was to derive implied exchange ratios by determining relative implied contributions, without including synergies, of Opnext and Oclaro to the combined company. Financial data for Opnext and Oclaro were based on the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts and the Oclaro Forecasts, respectively. Based on the implied relative equity value contributions, Foros calculated the following implied exchange ratios:

Illustrative Value Accretion of Synergy Cases

Foros reviewed and compared illustrative value accretion to Oclaro's stockholders from the merger implied by the pro forma synergy cases provided by Oclaro management. The pro forma synergy cases provided by

Oclaro management represent different scenarios for estimated future operating performance based on management's due diligence, experience and judgment. At the direction of Oclaro management, Foros reviewed three cases furnished to Foros by Oclaro management to be used for financial analysis: (i) a Revenue/Cost Synergy case which included revenue synergies as well as associated costs and cost synergies, (ii) a Cost Synergy case reflecting the same cost synergies, but excluding the revenue synergies included in the Revenue/Cost Synergy case, and (iii) a Conservative Cost Synergy case which reflects only certain of those synergies included in the Cost Synergy case. Based on the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, the Oclaro Forecasts, and the pro forma synergy cases, Foros calculated pro forma operating performance scenarios for the combined company after the merger giving effect to the pro forma impact of the potential synergies in each case.

Foros applied to such synergy cases a range of enterprise value / next twelve month non-GAAP operating income multiples, a range of price / next twelve month earnings multiples, and a discounted cash flow methodology based on a range of perpetuity growth rates. The purpose of each analysis was to derive the implied increase in pro forma equity value to Oclaro stockholders upon consummation of the merger after giving effect to the pro forma impact of the potential synergy cases to the equity value of Oclaro stockholders as of March 23, 2012. In each case, the implied value of the pro forma synergies forecasted by Oclaro management was added to the market capitalizations of Oclaro and Opnext as of March 23, 2012, to determine an implied pro forma value for the overall combined company as a result of consummation of the merger and after giving effect to the pro forma impact of such potential synergy cases. The market capitalization of Oclaro as of March 23, 2012 was then compared to the pro forma equity ownership of the combined company that would be held by Oclaro's stockholders upon consummation of the merger. In the discounted cash flow methodology, the forecasted levered free cash flow was determined by annualizing the last quarter included in the Oclaro management forecasts (i.e. December 31, 2014 quarter-end) and then applying a range of perpetuity growth rates to determine terminal value. For this analysis of levered free cash flows an illustrative 21% discount rate was applied to the combined company.

The results of these analyses are summarized as follows:

Foros also reviewed the fiscal year 2014 estimated per share revenue, operating income and earnings forecasted by Oclaro management for Oclaro as a standalone company relative to that of the combined company after giving effect to the pro forma impact of the potential synergy cases anticipated by the management of Oclaro to result from the merger. Foros then calculated the pro forma equity ownership of the combined company that would be held by Oclaro's stockholders upon consummation of the merger to compare the change of these operating metrics on a per-share basis from the perspective of Oclaro's stockholders.

The results of these analyses are summarized as follows:

% difference from Standalone	Revenue / Cost Synergy Case	Cost Synergy Case	Conservative Cost Synergy Case

Revenue / Share	3%	1%	1%

Foros also performed an illustrative analysis of the implied present value of the future price per share of Oclaro common stock as compared to the illustrative future price per share of the combined company on a pro forma basis. For this analysis, Foros used the Oclaro Forecasts and the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts. Foros first calculated implied present values per share of Oclaro common stock and per share of the combined company on a pro forma basis by applying an illustrative range of estimated cash adjusted P/E multiples to estimated EPS for Oclaro and the combined company for fiscal year ending June 30, 2014. Foros then discounted such implied per share values back 1.25 years from June 30, 2013 using a discount rate of 22.6%, reflecting a blended cost of equity estimate for the combined company based on the market capitalization and estimated cost of equity of each of Oclaro and Opnext as of March 23, 2012.

The results of these analyses are summarized as follows:

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Foros performed a discounted cash flow analysis of Oclaro and Opnext using the Oclaro Forecasts and the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts. Foros calculated the net present value of levered free cash flows for Oclaro and Opnext anticipated by Oclaro management to be generated during the fourth quarter ending June 30, 2012 through the first half of fiscal year 2015. These levered free cash flows were discounted to March 31, 2012 using discount rates of 20%-26% in the case of Oclaro and 19%-25% in the case of Opnext, reflecting a range of estimates of each company's cost of equity capital. Foros then calculated a normalized free cash flow figure in the terminal year by annualizing the last quarter of financial projections (i.e. December 31, 2014 quarter-end) and then applied perpetuity growth rates ranging from 3.0% to 5.0% to the terminal year free cash flow to calculate illustrative terminal values as of December 31, 2015. These illustrative terminal values were then discounted to March 31, 2012 to calculate implied indications of present value using discount rates of 20%-26% in the case of Oclaro and 19%-25% in the case of Opnext, reflecting a range of estimates of each company's cost of equity capital. Foros then added the implied present values of the indicative levered free cash flows expected to be generated during the fourth quarter ending June 30, 2012 through the first half of fiscal year 2015 to the range of implied present values of the illustrative terminal values to arrive at an implied per share equity reference range for shares of Oclaro common stock and an implied per share equity reference range for shares of Opnext common stock.

Foros then performed a discounted cash flow analysis of the potential synergies anticipated by Oclaro management to result from the merger. Foros calculated the net present value of levered free cash flows that the combined company could generate as a result of such synergies during the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012 through the first half of fiscal year 2015. These levered free cash flows were discounted to March 31, 2012 using discount rates of 18%-24%, reflecting a range of estimates for the combined company's cost of equity capital. Foros then calculated a normalized free cash flow figure in the terminal year and then applied perpetuity growth rates ranging from 1.0% to 3.0% to the terminal year free cash flow to calculate illustrative terminal values as of December 31, 2015. These illustrative terminal values were then discounted to March 31, 2012 to calculate implied indications of present value using discount rates of 18%-24%, reflecting a range of estimates of the combined company's cost of equity capital. Foros then added the implied present values of the indicative levered free cash flows expected to be generated during the fourth quarter ending June 30, 2012 through the first half of fiscal year 2015 to the range of implied present values of the illustrative terminal values to arrive at implied reference range for the potential synergies.

Foros added the implied equity reference ranges of each of Oclaro and Opnext derived from the discounted cash flow analysis to the implied equity reference ranges of the synergies derived from the discounted cash flow analysis assuming a 21% discount rate for the combined company. Foros then compared the implied pro forma equity reference ranges of the combined company that would be held by Oclaro's stockholders upon consummation of the merger to the implied equity reference ranges of Oclaro on a standalone basis, in each case derived from the discounted cash flow analysis. The results are as follows:

No company, business or transaction used in this analysis is identical or directly comparable to Oclaro, Opnext or the merger. Accordingly, an evaluation of the results of this analysis is not entirely mathematical. Rather, this analysis involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the acquisition or other values of the companies, business segments or transactions to which Oclaro, Opnext and the merger were compared.

The preparation of a financial opinion is a complex analytical process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to particular circumstances and, therefore, a financial opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. Selecting portions of the analyses or of the summary set forth above, without considering the analyses as a whole, could create an incomplete view of the processes underlying Foros' opinion. Foros did not form an opinion or recommendation as to whether any individual analysis or factor, considered in isolation, supported or failed to support its opinion. Foros considered the results of all of its analyses and did not attribute any particular weight to any factor or analysis it considered. Rather, Foros made its determination as to fairness on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all of its analyses.

Foros prepared its analyses for purposes of providing its opinion to the Oclaro board of directors as to the fairness from a financial point of view of the exchange ratio. Foros' analyses do not purport to be appraisals nor do they necessarily reflect the prices at which businesses or securities actually may be sold or the prices at which any securities have traded or may trade at any time in the future. Analyses based upon forecasts of future results are not necessarily indicative of actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by Foros' analyses. Because such analyses are inherently subject to uncertainty, being based upon numerous factors or events beyond the control of the parties or their respective advisors, none of Oclaro, Opnext or their respective affiliates, Foros or any other person assumes responsibility if future results are materially different from those forecast.

The type and amount of consideration payable in merger was determined through arms'-length negotiations between the Oclaro and Opnext and was approved by the Oclaro board of directors. Foros provided advice to the Oclaro board of directors during these negotiations. Foros did not, however, recommend any specific amount of consideration to Oclaro or the board of directors or that any specific amount of consideration constituted the only appropriate consideration for the merger.

Foros acted as financial advisor to the board of directors of Oclaro in connection with the merger and pursuant to the terms of Oclaro's engagement letter with Foros, Oclaro agreed to pay Foros an opinion fee of $500,000, payable upon Foros rendering its opinion (or advising Oclaro that Foros would be unable to deliver an opinion), and a transaction fee of up to $2.5 million (less any fees previously paid), contingent upon the completion of the merger. In addition, Oclaro has agreed to reimburse Foros' expenses and indemnify Foros against certain liabilities arising out of its engagement.

Foros and its affiliates in the past have provided and in the future may provide investment banking and other financial services to Oclaro and have received or in the future may receive compensation for the rendering of these services, including having acted as co-manager on an equity offering by Oclaro on May 6, 2010.

Table of Contents

The decision to recommend and enter into the merger agreement was solely that of the Oclaro board of directors. As described above in the section titled "Reasons for the Merger," Foros's opinion and analyses were only one of many factors considered by the Oclaro board of directors in its evaluation of the merger and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the Oclaro board of directors with respect to the merger. The foregoing summary does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Foros in connection with its opinion and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the written opinion of Foros attached as Annex D to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Opinion of Opnext's Financial Advisor

Pursuant to an engagement letter dated June 15, 2011, Opnext requested that Blackstone render to the Opnext board of directors an opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock. At the meeting of the Opnext board of directors on March 26, 2012, Blackstone rendered its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the Opnext board of directors to the effect that, as of that date and based on and subject to the assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken by Blackstone described in Blackstone's opinion, the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock was fair to the holders of Opnext common stock from a financial point of view.

The full text of the written opinion of Blackstone, dated March 26, 2012, which sets forth the assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken by Blackstone in rendering its opinion, is attached as Annex E to this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Opnext encourages its stockholders to read the opinion carefully in its entirety. Blackstone's opinion was limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock to the holders of Opnext common stock. Blackstone assumed no responsibility for updating or revising its opinion based on circumstances or events occurring after the date of its opinion. Blackstone's opinion was addressed to the Opnext board of directors and does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how such holder should vote with respect to the merger or any other matter, and should not be relied upon by any stockholder as such. The summary of Blackstone's opinion set forth in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion, which is attached as Annex E to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

In arriving at its opinion, Blackstone, among other things:

reviewed certain publicly available information concerning the business, financial condition, and operations of Opnext and Oclaro that Blackstone believed to be relevant to its inquiry; analyses contained in the presentation that was made by Blackstone to the Opnext board of directors on March 26, 2012 and that were utilized by Blackstone in connection with providing its opinion. The following summary, however, does not purport to be a complete description of the financial analyses performed by Blackstone, nor does the order of analyses described represent relative importance or weight given to those analyses by Blackstone. Some of the summaries of the financial analyses include information presented in tabular format. The tables must be read together with the full text of each summary and are alone not a complete description of Blackstone's financial analyses. The following quantitative information, to the extent that it is based on market data, is based on market data as it existed on or before March 22, 2012, and is not necessarily indicative of current or future market conditions.

For purposes of its analyses, Blackstone utilized the Oclaro Forecasts, with certain adjustments that are described in Certain Projections of Oclaro and Opnext Certain Projections Reviewed by the Opnext Board (the Adjusted Oclaro Forecasts) and the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, with certain adjustments that are described in Certain Projections of Oclaro and Opnext Certain Projections Reviewed by the Opext Board (the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts) for the stand-alone analyses performed on Oclaro and Opnext. Blackstone also utilized certain financial projections regarding the future operations of the combined company which were derived from the Adjusted Oclaro Forecasts and the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts (the Opnext Combined Company Projections). Blackstone also relied on Opnext's and Oclaro's managements' estimates of the potential strategic, financial and operational benefits expected to result from the merger. Information regarding the net debt and the number of fully-diluted shares of common stock outstanding for Opnext and Oclaro was contained in their respective most recent SEC filings or was provided by their respective managements.

Valuation of Oclaro

Blackstone performed certain analyses to provide the Opnext board of directors with an indication of the value of Oclaro's common stock. For each of the analyses described below, Blackstone compared the closing share price of Oclaro's common stock of $4.52 as of March 22, 2012, to the range of share prices implied by such analysis. The market data used by Blackstone for purposes of its analysis of Oclaro is as of March 22, 2012.

Selected Companies Analysis

Blackstone reviewed and compared certain financial information for Oclaro to corresponding financial information, ratios and public market multiples for the following publicly traded companies, which, in the exercise of its professional judgment Blackstone determined to be relevant to its analysis:

Selected Companies:

EMCORE Corporation

Finisar Corp.

Oplink Communications Inc.

NeoPhotonics Corporation

Blackstone obtained financial metrics and projections for the selected companies from CapitalIQ, Wall Street research, and the selected companies' public filings. In its analysis, Blackstone derived and compared multiples for Oclaro and the selected companies, calculated as follows:

the firm value, calculated as the market value of fully diluted common equity, plus the book value of debt and preferred stock and minority interests, if any, less cash and short term investments, as a multiple of estimated revenue for calendar year 2012, which is referred to below as 2012E FV/Revenue;

2013E FV/Revenue	0.15x	1.31x	0.38x

* Low and high multiples include multiples for Oclaro

 Median excludes Opnext and Oclaro

* Includes multiples for Finisar Corp. and Oplink Communications Inc. only, as other multiples were not meaningful due to negative EBITDA or unavailability of forecasts

 Excludes multiples for Oplink Communications Inc. and EMCORE Corporation, which were not meaningful due to lack of analyst forecasts

Blackstone then applied the following representative ranges to the respective Oclaro financial metrics, resulting in the following ranges of implied equity value per share of Oclaro common stock:

Financial Multiple	Representative Range		Implied Equity Value per Share
2012E FV/Revenue	0.17x	0.63x	$ 2.12	$6.12
2013E FV/Revenue	0.15x	0.38x	$ 2.29	$4.82

2013E FV/Adj. EBITDA	3.80x	7.60x	$ 4.75	$10.40

Blackstone noted that the range of prices for Oclaro common stock implied by this analysis was between $1.84 and $10.40 per share, compared to a closing share price of $4.52 as of March 22, 2012.

Although Blackstone selected the companies reviewed in the analysis because, among other things, their businesses are reasonably similar to that of Oclaro, no selected company is identical to Oclaro. Accordingly, Blackstone's comparison of selected companies to Oclaro and analysis of the results of such comparisons was not purely quantitative, but instead necessarily involved qualitative considerations and professional judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the relative values of the selected companies and Oclaro.

Illustrative Stand-Alone Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Blackstone conducted an illustrative discounted cash flow analysis for Oclaro on a standalone basis. A discounted cash flow analysis is designed to estimate an implied equity value per share of a company by calculating the present value of the estimated unlevered future free cash flows as well as the terminal value in order to arrive at the firm value of the company. The company's equity value is then calculated by subtracting the book value of debt, preferred stock and minority interest, if any, from the firm value and adding cash and short term investments. The equity value is divided by the number of fully-diluted shares of common stock outstanding to arrive at an implied equity value per share of the company.

The discounted cash flow analysis Blackstone conducted on Oclaro was based on the Adjusted Oclaro Forecasts for the fiscal quarters ending June 30, 2012 through December 31, 2014. Blackstone first calculated the unlevered free cash flows (calculated as operating income, minus the provision (benefit) for income taxes, capital expenditures and changes in working capital, plus depreciation and amortization and stock-based compensation (unlevered free cash flows include expected net cash proceeds from Oclaro's pending transaction with Venture Corporation as described in the Form 8-K filed by Oclaro on March 21, 2012 (the "Venture Transaction") as well as certain other non-operating cash flows that Oclaro is expected to generate)). Blackstone then calculated an implied range of terminal values for Oclaro by applying a range of perpetuity growth rates from 1.0% to 4.0% to Oclaro's annualized unlevered free cash flow for the fiscal quarter ending December 31, 2014. The unlevered free cash flows and the range of terminal values were then discounted to present value using a range of discount rates from 16.0% to 18.0%, which were derived using an estimated weighted average cost of capital using industry comparables. The present value of the unlevered free cash flows and the range of terminal values were then adjusted for Oclaro's projected cash and total debt balances as of June 30, 2012. For the purposes of this analysis, Blackstone utilized the fully-diluted number of shares of Oclaro common stock as of June 30, 2012 provided by Oclaro management.

Blackstone noted that the range of prices for Oclaro common stock implied by this analysis was between $6.29 and $8.07 per share, compared to a closing share price of $4.52 as of March 22, 2012.

Valuation of Opnext

The exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock implies an approximately 42% pro forma ownership of the combined company by Opnext shareholders.

Implied Value and Implied Premium Paid Per Share

Blackstone calculated the implied per share value of the consideration to be received by the holders of Opnext common stock pursuant to the merger agreement, by multiplying the exchange ratio of 0.42 by the closing sale price of Oclaro common stock as of March 22, 2012 of $4.52, and noted that such implied per share value was $1.90, which is referred to below as the "Implied Transaction Price."

The Implied Transaction Price of $1.90 represented a premium of approximately 75.8% to the closing sale price of Opnext common stock of $1.08 as of March 22, 2012.

Blackstone reviewed and compared certain financial information for Opnext to corresponding financial information, ratios and public market multiples for the following publicly traded companies, which, in the exercise of its professional judgment Blackstone determined to be relevant to its analysis:

Blackstone then applied the following representative ranges to the respective Opnext financial metrics, resulting in the following ranges of implied equity value per share of Opnext common stock:

Financial Multiple	Representative Range	Implied Equity Value per Share
2012E FV/Revenue	0.17x 0.63x	$ 1.13 $3.04

2013E FV/Adj. EBITDA	3.80x 7.60x	$ 2.09 $3.75

Blackstone noted that the range of prices for Opnext common stock implied by this analysis was between $0.83 and $3.75 per share, compared to Implied Transaction Price of $1.90 as of March 22, 2012.

Although Blackstone selected the companies reviewed in the analysis because, among other things, their businesses are reasonably similar to that of Opnext, no selected company is identical to Opnext. Accordingly, Blackstone's comparison of selected companies to Opnext and analysis of the results of such comparisons was not purely quantitative, but instead necessarily involved qualitative considerations and professional judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the relative values of the selected companies and Opnext.

Table of Contents*Selected Precedent Transactions Analysis*

Using publicly available information and data from The451, Blackstone reviewed the following transactions involving companies in the optical components manufacturing and communications equipment industries. The transactions considered and the month and year each transaction was announced were as follows:

Ignis ASA	SmartOptics AS	September 2010

In its analysis, Blackstone reviewed the transaction firm value as a multiple of the target company's latest twelve months revenue, or LTM revenue, immediately preceding announcement of the transaction, which is referred to below as Transaction Firm Value/LTM Revenue.

This analysis indicated the following:

Benchmark	High	Low	Mean
Transaction Firm Value/LTM Revenue	1.42x	0.25x	0.79x

Using a reference range of 0.25x to 0.79x multiplied by Opnext's LTM Revenue, Blackstone determined a range of implied equity values per share for Opnext common stock of $1.25 to $3.05, compared to the Implied Transaction Price of $1.90 as of March 22, 2012.

It should be noted that with the exception of Oclaro, with respect to the Oclaro / Mintera Corp. transaction, no company utilized in the analysis above is identical to Opnext or Oclaro. It should also be noted that no transaction utilized in the analysis above is identical to the merger. In addition, in connection with its review, Blackstone considered the dates on which these transactions were announced and the market conditions existing at such time. Accordingly, Blackstone's comparison of the selected transactions to the merger and analysis of the results of such comparisons were not purely quantitative, but instead necessarily involved qualitative considerations and professional judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the relative values of the companies involved in such transactions and of the merger and were based on Blackstone's experience working with corporations on various merger and acquisition transactions.

Illustrative Stand-Alone Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Blackstone conducted an illustrative discounted cash flow analysis for Opnext for the purpose of determining the implied equity value per share for Opnext common stock on a standalone basis using both the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, which is referred to herein as the Base Case, and also using financial forecasts and projections obtained from Wall Street research, which is referred to herein as the Wall Street Research Case, in each case as described below.

Base Case. The Base Case discounted cash flow analysis conducted by Blackstone on Opnext was based on the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts for the fiscal quarters ending June 30, 2012 through December 31, 2014. Blackstone first calculated the unlevered free cash flows (calculated as operating income, minus the provision (benefit) for income taxes, capital expenditures and changes in working capital, plus depreciation and amortization, stock-based compensation and certain other non-operating cash flows that Opnext is expected to generate). Blackstone then calculated an implied range of terminal values for Opnext by applying a range of perpetuity growth rates from 1.0% to 4.0% to Opnext's annualized unlevered free cash flow for the fiscal quarter ending December 31, 2014. The unlevered free cash flows and the range of terminal values were then discounted to present value using a range of discount rates from 16.0% to 18.0%, which were derived using an estimated weighted average cost of capital using industry comparables. The present value of the unlevered free cash flows and the range of terminal values were then adjusted for Opnext's projected cash and total debt balances as of June 30, 2012. For the purposes of this analysis, Blackstone utilized the fully-diluted number of shares of Opnext common stock as of June 30, 2012 provided by Opnext management.

Blackstone noted that the range of prices for Opnext common stock implied by this analysis was between $1.86 and $2.64 per share, compared to the Implied Transaction Price of $1.90 as of March 22, 2012.

Wall Street Research Case. Stock based compensation and working capital were not provided in analyst research, and were calculated by Blackstone using certain assumptions as directed and endorsed by Opnext management. Blackstone first calculated the unlevered free cash flows that Opnext is expected to generate. Blackstone then calculated an implied range of terminal values for Opnext by applying a range of perpetuity growth rates from 1.0% to 4.0% to Opnext's annualized unlevered free cash flow for the fiscal quarter ending March 31, 2014. The unlevered free cash flows and the range of terminal values were then discounted to present value using a range of discount rates from 16.0% to 18.0%, which were derived using an estimated weighted average cost of capital using industry comparables. The present value of the unlevered free cash flows and the range of terminal values were then adjusted for Opnext's projected cash and total debt balances per Opnext's latest filings. For the purposes of this analysis, Blackstone utilized the fully-diluted number of shares of Opnext common stock as of June 30, 2012 provided by Opnext management.

2013E	40.3%	59.7%	42.0%
2014E	43.1%	56.9%	42.0%

The analysis indicates that on a post-synergy contribution basis, and based on the illustrative allocation of pre-tax synergies equally between Opnext and Oclaro, Opnext's contribution to the combined entity is between 40.3% to 45.6% based on the various illustrative financial metrics, as compared to the approximately 42% ownership of the combined entity by Opnext's shareholders implied by the exchange ratio.

Illustrative Pro Forma Accretion / (Dilution) Analysis

Using the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecast, the Adjusted Oclaro Forecasts and the Opnext Combined Company Projections, Blackstone reviewed the potential pro forma effect of the merger on the estimated GAAP EPS and the estimated Adjusted GAAP EPS of the combined company for the fiscal years ending June 2013 and June 2014. The pro forma GAAP EPS includes revenue and cost synergies as well as associated restructuring and transaction-related costs expected to result from the merger. The restructuring costs include costs related to achieving the merger-related synergies, as well as costs related to an information technology and systems-related upgrade by the combined company. The pro forma Adjusted GAAP EPS includes revenue and cost synergies expected to result from the merger, but excludes the associated restructuring and transaction-related costs expected to result from the merger.

The analysis assumes fully diluted shares outstanding for the pro forma combined company based on the fully diluted shares outstanding as of June 30, 2012 for Opnext and Oclaro, as provided by the respective management of each company, and the exchange ratio of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock.

Blackstone analyzed and compared the pro forma GAAP EPS and the pro forma Adjusted GAAP EPS of the combined company to the standalone projected GAAP EPS of Oclaro using a range of synergy achievement cases as shown below:

Miscellaneous

The foregoing summary of material financial analyses does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses or data presented by Blackstone. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. Blackstone believes that the foregoing summary set forth above and its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of it, without considering all of its analyses, could create an incomplete view of the processes underlying the analyses and its opinion. No single factor or analysis was determinative of Blackstone's fairness determination. Rather, Blackstone considered the totality of the factors and analyses performed in arriving at its opinion. Blackstone based its analyses on assumptions that it deemed reasonable, including those concerning general business and economic conditions and industry-specific factors. The other principal assumptions upon which Blackstone based its analysis have been described under the description of each analysis in the foregoing summary. Analyses based upon forecasts of future results are inherently uncertain, as they are subject to numerous factors or events beyond the control of the parties and their advisors. Accordingly, forecasts and analyses used or made by Blackstone are not necessarily indicative of actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by those analyses. Moreover, Blackstone analyses are not and do not purport to be appraisals or otherwise reflective of the prices at which securities may trade at the present time or at any time in the future or at which businesses actually could be bought or sold.

None of the public companies used in the selected comparable companies analysis described above are identical to Opnext, and none of the precedent transactions used in the precedent transactions analysis described above are identical to the merger. Accordingly, an analysis of publicly traded comparable companies and precedent transactions is not mathematical; rather it involves complex considerations and judgments concerning the differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies and precedent transactions and other factors that could affect the value of Opnext and the public trading values of the companies and precedent transactions to which they were compared.

As a part of its investment banking business, Blackstone and its affiliates are continually engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, investments for passive and control purposes, negotiated underwritings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes. Blackstone was selected as Opnext's financial advisors with respect to the merger on the basis of Blackstone's experience and its familiarity with Opnext and the industry in which Opnext operates.

Pursuant to the engagement letter dated June 15, 2011, Opnext has agreed to pay Blackstone a fee for its services in the amount of approximately $3.5 million, substantially all of which is contingent upon completion of the merger. In addition, Opnext agreed to reimburse Blackstone for out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify Blackstone for certain liabilities arising out of the performance of such services (including the rendering of its opinion). In addition, Blackstone has performed other investment banking and financial advisory services for Opnext in the past for which Blackstone received customary compensation. In the ordinary course of Blackstone and its affiliates' businesses, Blackstone and its affiliates may actively trade or hold the securities of Opnext or any of the affiliates of Opnext or Oclaro for Blackstone's or Opnext's or Oclaro's account or for others and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

Blackstone's analyses were prepared solely as part of Blackstone's analysis of the fairness of the exchange ratio provided for in the merger agreement of 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each outstanding share of Opnext common stock and were provided to Opnext's board of directors in that connection. The opinion of Blackstone was only one of the factors taken into consideration by Opnext's board of directors in making its determination to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

Certain Projections of Oclaro and Opnext

The projections summarized below were not prepared for purposes of public disclosure, nor were they prepared on a basis designed to comply with published guidelines of the SEC, the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of projections, or GAAP. Neither Oclaro's nor Opnext's current, former or any other independent auditors, including those listed as experts below in "Experts," nor any other independent accountants, have compiled, examined, or performed any procedures with respect to the projections summarized herein, nor have they expressed any opinion or any other form of assurance on such information or its achievability, and assume no responsibility for, and disclaim any association with, such projections. The independent auditors' reports incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus relate to historical financial information. They do not extend to any prospective financial information and should not be seen to do so.

Although presented with numerical specificity, the projections were prepared in the context of an estimated market spending environment, are not actual facts and were based on numerous variables and assumptions, and various other matters specific to Oclaro's and Opnext's businesses that are inherently uncertain and, in many cases, are beyond the control of Oclaro and Opnext. The projections for both Oclaro and Opnext are subject to many risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, the impact of general economic factors outside Oclaro's and Opnext's control and other operating conditions and risks and uncertainties relating to Oclaro's and Opnext's business (including their ability to achieve strategic goals, objectives and targets over applicable periods, or to adopt new strategies in response to changed circumstances) and other factors described under "Risk Factors." As a result, actual results likely will differ, and may differ materially, from those contained in the projections.

The inclusion of a summary of the projections in this joint proxy statement/prospectus should not be regarded as an indication that any of Oclaro, Opnext or their respective affiliates, officers, directors or other representatives consider the projections to be necessarily predictive of actual future events, and the projections should not be relied upon as such. None of Oclaro, Opnext or their respective affiliates, officers, directors or other representatives can give any stockholder of Oclaro, stockholder of Opnext or other person any assurance that actual results will not differ materially from the projections, and none of them undertakes any obligation to update or otherwise revise or reconcile the projections to reflect circumstances existing after the date the projections were generated or to reflect the occurrence of future events, even in the event that any or all of the assumptions and estimates underlying the projections are shown to be in error. None of Oclaro, Opnext or their respective affiliates, officers, directors or other representatives has made, makes or is authorized in the future to make any representation to any stockholder of Oclaro, stockholder of Opnext or other person regarding Oclaro's or Opnext's ultimate performance compared to the information contained in the projections or that the projected results will be achieved. The summaries of the projections included below are not being included to influence your decision whether to vote for the merger and the transactions contemplated in connection with the merger, but are being provided solely because the projections were considered in connection with the merger.

Oclaro has made no representations to Opnext or any other person, and Opnext has made no representations to Oclaro or any other person, concerning the projections or the assumptions and estimates on which they are based. Opnext and Oclaro urge all stockholders to review Oclaro's and Opnext's most recent SEC filings for a description of Oclaro and Opnext's reported financial results. See Where You Can Find More Information.

Certain Projections Reviewed by the Oclaro Board

Oclaro's management prepared, or approved, the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, the Oclaro Forecasts and certain financial projections regarding the future operations of the combined company which were derived from the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts and the Oclaro Forecasts (the Oclaro Combined Company Projections) for the periods indicated below. Oclaro's management provided the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, the Oclaro Forecasts and the Oclaro Combined Company Projections to the Oclaro board of directors for use in its evaluation of the merger and to Foros. The Oclaro Forecasts were also provided to Opnext and Blackstone.

The Oclaro Combined Company Projections assumed three different synergy cases. The first case (the Conservative Cost Synergy Case) and the second case (the Cost Synergy Case) assumed cost synergies of approximately $36 and $46 million, respectively. The third case (the Revenue/Cost Synergy Case) further assumed potential revenue synergies for an aggregate synergy assumption of approximately $66 million.

On March 25, 2012, it came to the attention of Foros, who alerted Oclaro, that, due to a computational error made by Oclaro management during the preparation of the Oclaro Combined Company Projections, there might be an approximately $2.4 million overstatement of the cash projection included in the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts and the Oclaro Combined Company Projections. On March 26, 2012, after materials were distributed to the Oclaro board of directors, but before the board met to evaluate, among other things, the Oclaro Forecasts and the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts and, therefore, the Oclaro Combined Company Projections as part of the process to approve the merger agreement and before Foros delivered its opinion described above under Opinion of the Oclaro Board of Directors Financial Advisor, management of Oclaro confirmed to Foros that this overstatement had occurred. The analysis provided above under Opinion of the Oclaro Board of Directors Financial Advisor is based on the information provided to the Oclaro board on March 26, 2012, without any adjustment for the overstatement.

Following the signing of the merger agreement on March 26, 2012, the Oclaro board of directors was provided with revised projections correcting the overstatement and determined that such overstatement was not material and, therefore, would not have changed its recommendation with respect to the merger. We have indicated by footnote below the changes to the Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts and the Oclaro Combined Company Projections that resulted from the $2.4 million overstatement.

Following correction of the overstatement mentioned above, the Opnext cash balance in FY2013 and FY2014 was $70 million and $90 million, respectively.

Certain Projections Reviewed by the Opnext Board

Opnext's management prepared, or approved, certain financial projections, including the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, the Adjusted Oclaro Forecasts and the Opnext Combined Company Projections for the periods indicated below. For the purposes of comparison, the fiscal year of Opnext was adjusted to end on June 30 in order to conform to Oclaro's fiscal year end.

Opnext's management provided forecasted financials to Oclaro's management; Oclaro's management made certain adjustments to Opnext's forecasted financials to conform to certain combined company forecast assumptions. These assumptions were subsequently approved by Opnext's management to arrive at the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts. Opnext management then provided the Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts, the Adjusted Oclaro Forecasts and the Opnext Combined Company Projections to the Opnext board of directors for use in its evaluation of the merger and also to Blackstone. The Adjusted Oclaro-Opnext Forecasts were also provided to Oclaro and Fors.

The Opnext Combined Company Projections shown below assume the achievement of low-risk and medium-risk revenue and cost synergies of approximately $36 million and $66 million for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2013 and June 30, 2014, respectively.

- (3) Non-GAAP EPS is based on fully-diluted shares outstanding and assumes the dilution of options via the treasury stock method and the inclusion of time-based restricted stock units and key employee incentive awards. Fully-diluted shares outstanding for Oclaro also assumes the issuance of Oclaro shares to partially satisfy its obligation related to the Mintera Earnout; the remainder of the Mintera Earnout is assumed to be satisfied in cash.

Interests of Oclaro's Directors in the Merger

None of Oclaro's executive officers or the members of its board of directors is party to an agreement with Oclaro, or participates in any Oclaro plan, program or arrangement that provides such executive officer or board member with financial incentives that are contingent upon the consummation of the merger.

Other than continuing membership on the board of directors of Oclaro or continuing in their positions as executive officers of Oclaro after the effective time of the merger as described in further detail below under the heading "Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger" Board of Directors and Executive Officers of the Combined Company, the members of the Oclaro board of directors and the executive officers of Oclaro do not have any interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of Oclaro stockholders generally.

Oclaro's directors and executive officers have rights to indemnification and directors' and officers' liability insurance that will survive completion of the merger.

Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger

In considering the recommendation of the Opnext board of directors with respect to adopting the merger agreement, Opnext stockholders should be aware that certain members of the board of directors and executive officers of Opnext have interests in the merger that are different from, or are in addition to, their interests as Opnext stockholders. These interests may create an appearance of a conflict of interest. The Opnext board of directors was aware of these potential conflicts of interest during its deliberations on the merits of the merger and in making its decisions in approving the merger, the merger agreement and the related transactions.

These interests are described in more detail below, and certain of them are quantified in the tables that follow the narrative below and under the heading "Opnext Proposal No. 3 Advisory Vote Regarding Merger-Related Compensation" on page 118. The dates used below to quantify these interests have been selected for illustrative purposes only and do not necessarily reflect the dates on which certain events will occur. Effective as of December 9, 2010, Gilles Bouchard, Opnext's former Chief Executive Officer and President, resigned from his offices as Chief Executive Officer and President and as an employee of Opnext. Mr. Bouchard does not have any interests in the merger that are different from, or are in addition to, the interests of Opnext stockholders, except with respect to certain indemnification and directors and officers liability insurance, as described in more detail below under the heading "Indemnification and Insurance" on page 79.

Table of Contents

For further information with respect to the compensatory arrangements between Opnext and its executive officers and directors, please also see Opnext's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 filed with the SEC on June 8, 2012 under the headings Compensation Discussion and Analysis and Executive Compensation and Director Compensation.

Board of Directors and Executive Officers of the Combined Company. The merger agreement provides that the Oclaro board of directors following the effective time of the merger will be comprised of four members designated by Opnext (currently expected to be Harry Bosco, David Lee, an individual nominated by Hitach, a large stockholder of Opnext, and one other individual) and the existing six members of the Oclaro board of directors (Alain Couder, Edward Collins, Lori Holland, Marissa Peterson, Greg Dougherty, Joel A. Smith II). To the extent that any of the individuals designated by Opnext become directors of Oclaro, such individuals will be eligible to receive compensation from Oclaro as non-employee directors. It is currently expected that the executive officers of Oclaro following the merger will be the same as the current executive officers of Oclaro, except that, in addition, following the effective time of the merger, Oclaro contemplates that certain employees of Opnext will join Oclaro as executive officers and be compensated as such. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus it is not known which Opnext employees, if any, will become executive officers of Oclaro and no determinations by Oclaro have been made in this regard. It is expected that any Opnext employees who do become executive officers of Oclaro would be offered compensation and benefits generally consistent with the compensation and benefits provided to Oclaro's existing executive officers.

Indemnification and Insurance. The merger agreement provides that for a period of six years after the merger, Oclaro will cause Opnext, as the surviving corporation in the merger, to indemnify each current or former director and officer of Opnext, and its subsidiaries and any person who becomes a director or officer prior to the effective time, from liability to the fullest extent that applicable legal requirements permit a company to indemnify its own officers and directors and in compliance with any agreements related to such indemnification that were in effect as of March 26, 2012, including any provision therein relating to advancement of expenses. The merger agreement further provides that for a period of six years after the merger, Oclaro will maintain in place the existing policy of directors and officers liability insurance (or obtain a comparable replacement policy) in favor of Opnext directors and officers covered as of the effective time of the merger under the current policy. Such policy will cover acts or omissions occurring on or before the closing of the merger and provide coverage and amounts no less favorable in the aggregate than in effect on March 26, 2012, except that Oclaro will not be required to incur annual premium expense in excess of 200% of the current annual premium paid by Opnext for such insurance. If the annual premium payable exceeds 200% of the current annual premium paid by Opnext for such insurance, Oclaro is obligated to obtain a policy providing the greatest coverage available at a cost not exceeding 200% of the current annual premium paid by Opnext for such insurance.

Treatment of Opnext Stock Options

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger each Opnext stock option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time, whether or not vested, will be converted into an option to purchase Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and Oclaro will assume such stock option. Each such option will otherwise remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock option agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Opnext stock option as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the term, exercisability, vesting schedule and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement Opnext Stock Options on page 92.

Pursuant to the terms of the applicable stock option agreement evidencing the Opnext stock options granted to Opnext's executive officers, if the executive's employment with Opnext is terminated by Opnext without cause or by the executive for good reason (each as defined in the stock option agreement), the stock option will thereupon vest with respect to the portion of the stock option that would have otherwise become vested during the twelve (12) month period immediately succeeding the date of such termination of employment had the executive remained employed by Opnext during such period. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the stock option agreement provides that the stock option will become fully vested and exercisable in the event that the executive's employment is terminated by Opnext without cause or by the executive for good reason during the twelve (12) month period immediately following a change in control (as defined in the Opnext equity plan). In addition, pursuant to the terms of the employment agreements with each of Messrs. Bosco and O'Neill (as described in further detail below), if a change in control (as defined in the respective employment agreement) occurs and the executive's employment is terminated by Opnext without cause or as a result of the executive's resignation for good reason, in each case, immediately prior to or upon such change in control, or within a specified period following such change in control (two years for Mr. Bosco and one year for Mr. O'Neill), and subject to the executive's execution and non-revocation of a general release of claims, the stock options will become fully vested and exercisable. The consummation of the merger is expected to constitute a change in control for purposes of the employment agreements with each of Messrs. Bosco and O'Neill and the Opnext equity plan.

The following table sets forth, for each of Opnext's executive officers holding Opnext stock options as of June 7, 2012, the aggregate number of shares of Opnext common stock subject to vested Opnext stock options (the "Vested Stock Options") and unvested Opnext stock options (the "Unvested Stock Options") as of such date, and the number of shares of Oclaro common stock subject to the Oclaro stock options into which such Vested Stock Options and Unvested Stock Options will be converted. As of April 16, 2012, none of the directors of Opnext (other than Mr. Bosco) held any Opnext stock options.

Treatment of Opnext Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger, each share of Opnext restricted stock and each Opnext restricted stock unit that is outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will be converted into a share of restricted stock or a restricted stock unit, as applicable, reflecting Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable restricted stock or restricted stock unit agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such restricted stock unit or restricted stock as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the vesting conditions and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see "The Merger Agreement - Opnext Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units" on page 92.

Pursuant to the terms of the applicable restricted stock unit agreement evidencing the Opnext restricted stock units granted to the directors of Opnext, in the event of a change in control (as defined in the Opnext equity plan) all restricted stock units, to the extent not previously forfeited, will vest in full immediately prior to the consummation of such change in control. Payment in respect of any restricted stock units that become vested as a result of such change in control will be made in whole shares on or within fifteen (15) days following the earliest to occur of the date of such change in control, the date of the director's separation from service or the date of the participant's death. The consummation of the merger is expected to constitute a change in control for purposes of the Opnext equity plan.

Table of Contents

The following table sets forth, for each of Opnext's directors holding Opnext restricted stock units as of June 7, 2012, the number and value of restricted stock units that would be subject to accelerated vesting upon the consummation of the merger (assuming for purposes of this table that the merger is consummated on June 7, 2012). As of June 7, 2012, none of the executive officers of Opnext (other than Mr. Bosco) held any Opnext restricted stock units.

Treatment of Opnext Stock Appreciation Rights

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger, each Opnext stock appreciation right that is outstanding and remains unsettled immediately prior to the effective time will be converted into a stock appreciation right with respect to Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock appreciation right agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such stock appreciation right as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the vesting conditions, form of payment and terms of acceleration). For more information, please see The Merger Agreement - Opnext Stock Appreciation Rights on page 93.

The following table sets forth for each of Opnext's executive officers holding Opnext stock appreciation rights as of June 7, 2012, the aggregate number of shares of Opnext common stock subject to vested Opnext stock appreciation rights (the Vested Stock Appreciation Rights) and unvested Opnext stock appreciation rights (the Unvested Stock Appreciation Rights) as of such date, and the number of shares of Oclaro common stock subject to the Oclaro stock appreciation rights into which such Vested Stock Appreciation Rights and Unvested Stock Appreciation Rights will be converted. In addition, Mr. Bosco serves as Chairman of the Board of Directors of Opnext. Pursuant to the terms of the Bosco Employment Agreement:

If Mr. Bosco's employment is terminated by Opnext without cause or as a result of Mr. Bosco's resignation for good reason (each as defined in the Bosco Employment Agreement), and subject to his execution and non-revocation of a general release of claims, he will receive the following severance payments and benefits:

Registration Rights. In connection with the merger, Oclaro has agreed to provide Hitachi, a stockholder of Opnext, with registration rights applicable to the shares of Oclaro common stock that Hitachi receives in the merger that are equivalent in all material respects to the registration rights previously granted to Hitachi by Opnext with respect to Opnext shares of common stock.

Agreements with other members of Opnext's current management team. It is possible that other members of Opnext's current management team will enter into agreements with Oclaro or its affiliates after the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Any such agreements would not become effective until the merger is completed.

Employee Benefits. The merger agreement requires Oclaro (or Opnext as the surviving corporation or any subsidiary thereof) to continue to provide certain compensation and benefits for at least a period of one year following the effective time of the merger, as well as take certain actions in respect of employee benefits provided to Opnext's employees, including its executive officers. For a detailed description of these requirements, please see The Merger Agreement Employee Benefits Matters on page 99.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger

Scope and Limitations

The following discussion summarizes the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. Holders (as defined below) of Opnext common stock that receive Oclaro common stock in the merger. This discussion is based upon the Code, Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code (the Treasury Regulations), judicial decisions and published administrative rules and pronouncements of the Internal Revenue Service (the IRS), all as currently in effect and all of which are subject to change or differing interpretations, possibly with retroactive effect. This discussion does not address (A) U.S. federal taxes other than income taxes, (B) state, local or non-U.S. taxes or (C) tax reporting requirements applicable to the merger. Nor does it address U.S. federal income tax considerations applicable to holders of Opnext common stock that are subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, for example, holders:

that are not U.S. Holders;

Table of Contents

that are dealers, brokers or traders in securities, mutual funds, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts, insurance companies, banks or other financial institutions or tax-exempt entities;

that are subject to the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code;

that acquired their shares in connection with stock option, warrant or stock purchase plans or in other compensatory transactions;

that hold their shares as a hedge or as part of a hedging, straddle or other risk reduction strategy;

that are partnerships or other pass-through entities (or investors therein);

that do not hold their shares as capital assets;

that own 5% or more of Opnext's common stock;

that are affiliates of Opnext; or whose shares constitute qualified small business stock within the meaning of Section 1202 of the Code.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. Holder means a beneficial owner of Opnext common stock that is:

an individual citizen or resident of the United States;

a corporation (or other entity taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof;

an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or a trust that (A) is subject to the supervision of a court within the United States and the control of one or more U.S. persons or (B) has a valid election in place under the Treasury Regulations to be treated as a U.S. person.

If a partnership (or an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) holds Opnext common stock, the tax treatment of a partner in the partnership generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Any partnership or entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes that holds Opnext common stock, and the partners in such partnership, should consult their own tax advisors.

This discussion of material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger is not binding on the IRS. No assurance can be given that the IRS would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any described herein.

HOLDERS OF OPNEXT COMMON STOCK ARE URGED TO CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS REGARDING THE SPECIFIC TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE MERGER, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF U.S.

FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND NON-U.S. INCOME AND OTHER TAX LAWS IN LIGHT OF THEIR PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCES.

Tax Opinions from Outside Counsel

It is a condition to the consummation of the merger that outside counsel to Oclaro and outside counsel to Opnext each renders a tax opinion to its client to the effect that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the merger will constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. In connection with the filing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, Oclaro has received an opinion of its outside counsel, Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, to the effect that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the merger will constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. Such opinion is, and the foregoing opinions required to be delivered as a condition to consummation of the merger will be, based on factual representations and covenants made by Oclaro, Opnext and merger sub (including those contained in tax representation letters provided by Oclaro, Opnext and merger sub), and on customary assumptions. If any assumption or representation is inaccurate in any way, or any covenant is not complied with, the tax consequences of the merger could differ from those described in the tax opinions. The tax opinions represent the legal judgment of outside counsel to Oclaro and outside counsel to Opnext and are not binding on the IRS. No ruling from the IRS has been or will be requested in connection with the merger, and there can be no assurance that the IRS would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any set forth in the tax opinions. If the condition relating to either tax opinion to be delivered at closing is waived, this joint proxy statement/prospectus will be amended and recirculated.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger to U.S. Holders of Opnext Common Stock

In the opinion of Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, the merger will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. Accordingly:

Except as discussed below under Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares of Oclaro Common Stock, a U.S. Holder will not recognize any gain or loss upon receipt of Oclaro common stock in exchange for its Opnext common stock in connection with the merger.

A U.S. Holder will have an aggregate tax basis in the Oclaro common stock received in the merger equal to the U.S. Holder's aggregate tax basis in its shares surrendered pursuant to the merger, reduced by the portion of the U.S. Holder's tax basis in its shares surrendered in the merger that is allocable to a fractional share of Oclaro common stock. If a U.S. Holder acquired any of its shares of Opnext common stock at different prices or at different times, Treasury Regulations provide guidance on how such U.S. Holder may allocate its tax basis to shares of Oclaro common stock received in the merger. U.S. Holders that hold multiple blocks of Opnext common stock are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the proper allocation of their basis among shares of Oclaro common stock received under these Treasury Regulations.

The holding period of the Oclaro common stock received by a U.S. Holder in connection with the merger will include the holding period of the Opnext common stock surrendered in connection with the merger.

Cash received by a U.S. Holder in lieu of a fractional share of Oclaro common stock in the merger will be treated as if such fractional share had been issued in connection with the merger and then redeemed by Oclaro, and such U.S. Holder generally will recognize capital gain or loss with respect to such cash payment, measured by the difference, if any, between the amount of cash received and the U.S. Holder's tax basis in such fractional share. Such capital gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. Holder's holding period in respect of such fractional share is greater than one year. Non-corporate U.S. Holders are generally subject to tax on long-term capital gains at reduced rates under current law. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to certain limitations.

Backup Withholding. Cash received by a U.S. Holder in lieu of a fractional share of Oclaro common stock may be subject to backup withholding at the applicable rate (currently 28%) if the U.S. Holder fails to provide a valid taxpayer identification number and comply with certain certification procedures, or otherwise establish an exemption from backup withholding. Backup withholding is not an additional tax, but merely an advance payment that may be refunded to the extent that it results in an overpayment of tax, provided the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

THE PRECEDING DISCUSSION DOES NOT PURPORT TO BE A COMPLETE ANALYSIS OR DISCUSSION OF ALL OF THE MERGER'S POTENTIAL TAX EFFECTS. OPNEXT STOCKHOLDERS ARE URGED TO CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS AS TO THE SPECIFIC TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE MERGER, INCLUDING TAX RETURN

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS AND THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF U.S. FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S. AND OTHER APPLICABLE TAX LAWS.

Anticipated Accounting Treatment

The merger is expected to be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting pursuant to Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 805, Business Combinations. Oclaro has been treated as the acquirer in the merger for accounting purposes. Under the acquisition method of accounting, as of the date of the completion of the merger, the purchase price is equivalent to the fair value of the consideration transferred and Oclaro will recognize all assets acquired and liabilities assumed at their fair values.

Appraisal Rights

Under Delaware law, holders of Opnext common stock are not entitled to appraisal rights in connection with the merger because the Oclaro common stock and the Opnext common stock are listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market and the NASDAQ Global Market, respectively. Under Delaware law, holders of Oclaro common stock are not entitled to appraisal rights in connection with the merger.

Regulatory Approvals

Under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the HSR Act), Oclaro and Opnext must file notifications with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (DOJ), and observe a mandatory pre-merger waiting period before completing the merger. On April 16, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext filed their respective notifications under the HSR Act. On April 23, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext were notified that the FTC and DOJ granted the parties request for early termination of the HSR waiting period, effective as of that date. Accordingly, the condition to the merger relating to the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act has been satisfied.

While Oclaro and Opnext already have obtained HSR clearance, Oclaro and Opnext cannot assure you that other government agencies, including state attorneys general, or private parties, will not initiate actions to challenge the merger before or after it is completed. Any such challenge to the merger could result in a court order enjoining the merger or in a governmental agency or court imposing restrictions or conditions that could have a material adverse effect on the combined company if the merger were completed. Such restrictions and conditions could include requiring the divestiture or spin-off of assets or businesses, although the absence of any such restriction or condition is a condition to the completion of the merger. Neither Oclaro nor Opnext can provide assurance that any such conditions, terms, obligations or restrictions will not result in the delay or abandonment of the merger. Neither Oclaro nor Opnext is aware of any foreign approvals that are required to complete the merger.

Restrictions on Resales

All shares of Oclaro common stock received by Opnext stockholders in the merger will be freely tradable, except that shares of Oclaro common stock received by persons who become affiliates of Oclaro for purposes of Rule 144 under the Securities Act may be resold by them only in transactions permitted by Rule 144, or as otherwise permitted under the Securities Act. Persons who may be deemed affiliates of Oclaro generally include individuals or entities that control, are controlled by or are under common control with, Oclaro and may include the officers and directors as well as its principal stockholders.

Legal Proceedings Related to the Merger

Five putative class actions challenging the merger have been filed in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Alameda: (1) Martin Zilberberg v. Charles J. Abbe, No. RG12623460, on March 28, 2012; (2) Eleanor Welty v. Harry L. Bosco, Case No. RG12624240, on April 4, 2012; (3) Todd Wright v. Harry L. Bosco, Case No. RG12624343, on April 5, 2012; (4) Stephen Greenberg v. Charles J. Abbe, No. RG12624444, on April 5, 2012; and (5) Mark Graf v. Opnext, Inc., No. RG12624798, on April 9, 2012 (the Graf Action). The five putative class actions in California have been consolidated under Martin Zilberberg v. Charles J. Abbe, No. RG12623460. Two putative class actions challenging the merger have been filed in the Delaware Court of Chancery: Glenn Freedman v. Opnext, Inc., CA No. 7400-VCL, on April 5, 2012; and (2) Berger v. Bosco, No. 7406-VCL, on April 9, 2012. The two Delaware actions have been consolidated under the caption In re Opnext, Inc. Shareholders Litigation, C.A. No. 7400-VCL. The defendants in each case are Opnext, Inc., and the members of Opnext's Board, Oclaro, Inc. and Tahoe Acquisition Sub, Inc. Each action alleges that the Opnext defendants breached their fiduciary duties to Opnext stockholders by entering into the merger agreement. Each action further alleges that the Oclaro defendants aided and abetted those breaches of fiduciary duties.

On May 14, 2012, the plaintiffs in the consolidated Delaware action and the consolidated California action each filed consolidated, amended class action complaints. Among other relief, the plaintiffs in each case seek an order enjoining the merger, and seeking attorneys' fees. All of the actions except for the Graf Action seek damages and an accounting. On May 16, 2012, the Delaware Court of Chancery granted the defendants motion to proceed in one jurisdiction and stayed the consolidated Delaware action. The plaintiffs have served discovery requests and the defendants have served responses and objections to those requests. No trial date has been set in any of these actions. Each of Opnext and Oclaro intend to file demurrers in the California action, believe that the claims asserted in each of these actions are without merit and intend to defend them vigorously.

Recent Developments

On June 4, 2012, Opnext announced that on May 31, 2012 its board of directors had determined that an unsolicited, non-binding offer to acquire all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Opnext for $1.40 per share in cash was not superior to the merger. The offer had been received on May 23, 2012 from a technology-focused private equity firm with significant available capital and was subject to the performance of due diligence by the private equity firm.

After careful consideration and consultation with its financial and legal advisors and with the Opnext management, Opnext's board of directors determined the offer did not constitute a Company Superior Offer as such term is defined in the Merger Agreement. Opnext's board of directors considered that, if the merger had occurred on May 31, 2012, Opnext stockholders would have received a number of shares of Oclaro common stock worth approximately $1.07 for each share of Opnext common stock that such Opnext stockholder owned. However, the determination that the offer did not constitute a Company Superior Offer was made in part on the basis of the Opnext board's determination of the anticipated value of the Oclaro common stock following the merger, taking into account the expected synergistic benefits of the merger to the combined company and the stockholders thereof. For a more complete description of the synergies expected to result from the merger, please see the section entitled Certain Projections of Oclaro and Opnext beginning on page 74. The Opnext board also considered that the private equity firm's non-binding offer was subject to the performance of a due diligence investigation of Opnext for an unspecified period of time. The Opnext board of directors also considered additional reasons for the merger in making its determination, as more fully discussed in the section entitled Reasons for the Merger beginning on page 46.

Vote Required; Recommendation of Oclaro Board of Directors and Opnext Board of Directors

The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares voting in person or by proxy at the Oclaro special meeting is required for approval of Oclaro Proposal No. 1. The failure to submit a proxy card or vote at the special meeting, or an abstention, vote withheld or broker non-votes will have no effect on the outcome of Oclaro Proposal No. 1.

Abstentions will be counted towards a quorum and will have the same effect as negative votes on Opnext Proposal No. 1 and broker non-votes will be counted towards a quorum, but will not be counted for any purpose in determining whether Opnext Proposal No. 1 is approved.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following describes the material terms of the merger agreement. This description of the merger agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the merger agreement which is attached as Annex A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and which is incorporated herein by reference. The merger agreement has been included to provide you with information regarding its terms. We encourage you to read the entire merger agreement. The merger agreement is not intended to provide any other factual information about us. Such information can be found elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and in the other public filings that each of Oclaro and Opnext makes with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which are available without charge at www.sec.gov.

The Merger

The merger agreement provides that at the effective time, Tahoe Acquisition Sub, Inc., or merger sub, a wholly owned subsidiary of Oclaro, will be merged with and into Opnext. Upon the consummation of the merger, Opnext will continue as the surviving corporation and will be a wholly owned subsidiary of Oclaro.

Effective Time of the Merger

The merger agreement requires the parties to consummate the merger on a date designated by Oclaro and Opnext within two business days after all the conditions to the consummation of the merger contained in the merger agreement are satisfied or waived, including the approval by stockholders of Oclaro of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and of the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock and the adoption of the merger agreement by the stockholders of Opnext. The merger will become effective upon the filing of a certificate of merger with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware or at such later time as is agreed by Oclaro and Opnext and specified in the certificate of merger. Because the consummation of the merger is subject to the satisfaction of other conditions, we cannot predict the exact timing of the consummation of the merger.

Manner and Basis of Converting Shares

At the effective time of the merger, each share of Opnext common stock will automatically be converted into the right to receive 0.42 of share of Oclaro common stock. This number is referred to in this joint proxy/prospectus as the exchange ratio and is subject to future adjustment for stock splits, reverse stock splits, recapitalizations, reclassifications or other similar changes occurring prior to the consummation of the merger.

No fractional shares of Oclaro common stock will be issued in the merger. Instead, each Opnext stockholder otherwise entitled to a fraction of a share of Oclaro common stock will be entitled to be paid in cash the dollar amount, without interest, determined by multiplying such fraction by the average closing price of Oclaro common stock over a ten-day period ending on the trading day one day prior to the effective time, as specified in the merger agreement.

The merger agreement provides that, prior to the consummation of the merger, Oclaro will select The Bank of New York, Oclaro's transfer agent or another bank or trust company reasonably satisfactory to Opnext to act as the exchange agent under the merger agreement and will enter into an agreement reasonably acceptable to Opnext with such exchange agent relating the services to be performed by such exchange agent. The merger agreement provides that at or promptly after the effective time of the merger, Oclaro will deposit with the exchange agent stock certificates representing the shares of Oclaro common stock issuable in exchange for shares of Opnext common stock and a sufficient amount of cash to make payments in lieu of fractional shares.

The merger agreement contemplates that, promptly following the effective time of the merger, the exchange agent for the merger will mail to each record holder of Opnext common stock immediately prior to the effective time of the merger a letter of transmittal and instructions for surrendering and exchanging the stockholder's shares of Opnext common stock represented by stock certificates or by book entry method (shares of Opnext common stock represented by the book entry method will be referred as Opnext book entry shares). The merger agreement provides that, upon surrender of an Opnext common stock certificate or Opnext book entry shares for exchange to the exchange agent, together with a duly signed letter of transmittal, and such other documents as the exchange agent or Oclaro may reasonably require, the holder of the Opnext stock certificate or Opnext book entry shares will be entitled to receive the following:

a certificate representing Oclaro common stock;

cash in lieu of any fractional share of Oclaro common stock; and any dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to Oclaro common stock with a record date after the effective time of the merger and a payment date prior to the date the Opnext stock certificate or Opnext book entry shares was surrendered.

The stock certificate and book entry shares so surrendered will be cancelled.

After the effective time of the merger, all holders of shares of Opnext common stock represented by stock certificates or by book entry shares that were outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will cease to have any rights as stockholders of Opnext. In addition, no transfer of Opnext common stock after the effective time of the merger will be registered on the stock transfer books of Opnext.

If any Opnext stock certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, Oclaro may in its reasonable discretion, and as a condition to the issuance of any certificate representing Oclaro common stock in exchange therefor, require the owner of such certificate to deliver an affidavit certifying such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed and post a bond in such amount as Oclaro and Opnext may reasonably agree to direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made with respect to that certificate against Oclaro, the surviving corporation or the exchange agent.

From and after the effective time of the merger, until it is surrendered and exchanged, each certificate that previously evidenced Opnext common stock and each Opnext book entry share will be deemed to represent only the right to receive shares of Oclaro common stock and cash in lieu of any fractional share of Oclaro common stock. Oclaro will not pay dividends or other distributions on any shares of Oclaro common stock to be issued in exchange for any unsurrendered Opnext common stock certificate or Opnext book entry share until the Opnext common stock certificate or Opnext book entry share is surrendered as provided in the merger agreement.

Stock certificates and book entry shares should not be surrendered for exchange by Opnext stockholders before the effective time of the merger and should be sent only pursuant to instructions set forth in the letters of transmittal which the merger agreement provides will be mailed to Opnext stockholders promptly following the effective time of the merger. In all cases, the certificates representing shares of Oclaro common stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares will be delivered only in accordance with the procedures set forth in the letter of transmittal.

The merger agreement contemplates that, upon demand by Oclaro, the exchange agent will deliver to Oclaro any certificates representing Oclaro common stock and any funds which have not been disbursed to holders of Opnext stock certificates or Opnext book entry shares as of the first year anniversary of the effective time of the merger. Any holders of Opnext stock certificates or Opnext book entry shares who have not surrendered such certificates or book entry shares in compliance with the above-described procedures may thereafter look only to Oclaro for, and be entitled to receive from Oclaro, certificates representing shares of Oclaro common stock, cash in lieu of fractional shares and any dividends or distributions with respect to such Oclaro common stock.

Table of ContentsOpnext Stock Options

The merger agreement provides that, at the effective time of the merger, each Opnext stock option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, whether or not vested, will be converted into an option to purchase Oclaro common stock and Oclaro will assume such stock option in accordance with the terms of the Opnext equity plan and the stock option agreement evidencing that Opnext stock option as in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. Each Opnext stock option assumed by Oclaro may be exercised solely for shares of Oclaro common stock. The number of shares of Oclaro common stock subject to each assumed Opnext stock option will be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Opnext common stock subject to the stock option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger by the exchange ratio (0.42) and rounding down to the nearest whole number of shares of Oclaro common stock. The per share exercise price for shares of Oclaro common stock under each assumed Opnext stock option will be determined by dividing the per share exercise price for the Opnext common stock subject to the stock option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger by the exchange ratio (0.42) and rounding up to the nearest whole cent. Except for the foregoing adjustments to the assumed stock options to reflect the application of the exchange ratio, all terms of the assumed stock options, including the term, exercisability, vesting schedule, acceleration and all other provisions, will remain subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock option agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such stock options immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, except that the Oclaro board of directors or a committee thereof will succeed to the authority and responsibility of the Opnext board of directors or a committee thereof with respect to such stock options. Certain holders of stock options to purchase Opnext common stock will be entitled to acceleration of vesting of their outstanding Opnext stock options upon a qualifying termination of employment following the consummation of the merger. For more information as it relates to Opnext's executive officers who hold Opnext stock options, please see Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger.

Opnext Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units

The merger agreement provides that, at the effective time of the merger, each share of Opnext restricted stock and each Opnext restricted stock unit that remains unvested or unissued as of the effective time will convert automatically into a share of restricted stock or a restricted stock unit, as applicable, reflecting Oclaro common stock and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Opnext equity plan and the applicable restricted stock or restricted stock unit agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such restricted stock unit as in effect immediately prior to the effective time, including the vesting conditions and terms of acceleration. The number of shares of Oclaro common stock subject to each converted share of Opnext restricted stock and each restricted stock unit will be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Opnext common stock subject to such converted share of Opnext restricted stock or Opnext restricted stock unit by the exchange ratio (0.42) and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Oclaro common stock. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the merger agreement, each share of Opnext restricted stock or Opnext restricted stock unit representing Opnext common stock that is vested as of the effective time of the merger and, pursuant to the terms of the underlying restricted stock award agreement evidencing such Opnext restricted stock or restricted stock unit, would otherwise be paid to the holder in shares of Opnext common stock upon or by reference to a change in control (as defined in the restricted stock unit agreement), shall be paid or deemed paid in shares of Opnext common stock immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, and then converted into the right to receive 0.42 of a share of Oclaro common stock for each share Opnext common stock payable in respect thereof. Certain directors of Opnext who hold Opnext restricted stock units will be entitled to acceleration of vesting immediately prior to the consummation of the merger. For more information as it relates to Opnext's directors and executive officers who hold Opnext restricted stock units, please see Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 The Merger Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger.

Opnext Stock Appreciation Rights

The merger agreement provides that, at the effective time of the merger, each stock appreciation right with respect to Opnext common stock that is outstanding and remains unsettled as of the effective time will convert automatically into a stock appreciation right with respect to Oclaro common stock and will remain subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock appreciation right agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such stock appreciation right as in effect immediately prior to the effective time, including the vesting conditions, form of payment and terms of acceleration. The number of shares of Oclaro common stock subject to each converted Opnext stock appreciation right will be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Opnext common stock subject to such converted Opnext stock appreciation right by the exchange ratio (0.42) and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Oclaro common stock. The per share exercise price for each converted Opnext stock appreciation right will be determined by dividing the exercise price for such Opnext stock appreciation right immediately prior to the effective time of the merger by the exchange ratio (0.42) and rounding up to the nearest whole cent. Certain executive officers of Opnext hold Opnext stock appreciation rights. For more information as it relates to Opnext's executive officers who hold Opnext stock appreciation rights, please see Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and Opnext Proposal No. 1 - The Merger - Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger.

The merger agreement provides that Oclaro will file a registration statement on Form S-8 (if available for use by Oclaro) within 15 days after the effective time of the merger for the shares of Oclaro common stock issuable upon exercise of the assumed stock options and the converted restricted stock units and upon the settlement of stock appreciation rights.

Representations and Warranties

The merger agreement contains customary representations and warranties that Oclaro and Opnext have made to, and solely for the benefit of, each other. The representations and warranties in the merger agreement expire at the effective time of the merger. The assertions embodied in the representations and warranties are qualified by information in disclosure schedules that Oclaro and Opnext have exchanged in connection with signing the merger agreement. While Oclaro and Opnext do not believe that these disclosure schedules contain information that securities laws require the parties to publicly disclose other than information that has already been so disclosed, the disclosure schedules do contain information that modifies, qualifies and creates exceptions to the representations and warranties set forth in the merger agreement. Accordingly, the representations and warranties in the merger agreement should not be relied upon as characterizations of the actual state of facts, since such representations and warranties are qualified in important respects by the disclosure schedules and since facts may have changed or may change in the future. The disclosure schedules exchanged by Oclaro and Opnext contain information that has been included in the companies' general prior public disclosures, as well as additional non-public information. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties may have changed since the date of the merger agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in the companies' public disclosures. In addition, certain representations and warranties in the merger agreement were used for the purpose of allocating risk between Oclaro and Opnext rather than establishing matters as facts. The customary representations and warranties of each of Opnext and Oclaro in the merger agreement relate to following subject matters, among other things:

corporate organization, qualifications to do business, corporate standing and corporate power; ownership of subsidiaries' capital stock and the absence of certain obligations with respect to the capital stock of any subsidiary;

The merger agreement provides that, subject to any applicable plan provisions, contractual requirements in effect as of the date of the merger agreement or legal requirements:

all continuing Opnext employees will be eligible to participate in each employee benefit plan and each vacation and severance plan maintained by Oclaro, Opnext as the surviving corporation or any subsidiary thereof, to the same extent as similarly situated employees of Oclaro; and

The merger agreement further provides that Oclaro will (or will cause Opnext as the surviving corporation to) recognize all service of the continuing Opnext employees with Opnext or its subsidiaries, for purposes of eligibility, vesting and level of benefits (but not for purposes of benefit accrual under any defined benefit pension plan) in each employee benefit plan and each vacation and severance plan maintained by Oclaro, Opnext as the surviving corporation or any subsidiary thereof, to the same extent such service was taken into account under Opnext's corresponding benefit plans prior to the effective time of the merger. In addition, the merger agreement provides that Oclaro will (or will cause Opnext as the surviving corporation to):

waive all limitations as to preexisting conditions, exclusions and waiting periods with respect to participation and coverage requirements (unless the consent of any insurance carrier would be required) applicable to the continuing Opnext employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents under welfare benefit plans maintained by Oclaro, Opnext as the surviving corporation or any subsidiary thereof, in which such continuing Opnext employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents may be eligible to participate after the effective time of the merger (other than preexisting condition limitations, exclusions or waiting periods that are in effect with respect to such continuing Opnext employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents prior to the effective time); and provide continuing Opnext employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents with credit in the plan year during which the effective time of the merger occurs for co-payments, annual out-of-pocket limits and deductibles for expenses incurred prior to the effective time of the merger under any welfare plan maintained by Oclaro, Opnext as the surviving corporation or any subsidiary thereof in which continuing Opnext employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents may be eligible to participate after the effective time of the merger (unless the consent of any insurance carrier would be required).

Nothing provided for in the merger agreement shall be construed to create a right in any Opnext employee to employment with Oclaro, the surviving corporation or any other subsidiary of Oclaro or any third-party rights, benefits or remedies of any nature whatsoever. In addition, no Opnext employee or continuing Opnext employee will be deemed to be a third party beneficiary of the merger agreement, except for officers and directors of Opnext to the extent of their respective rights with respect to the maintenance of indemnification rights and directors' and officers' liability insurance coverage. Indemnification and Insurance

The merger agreement provides that, for a period of six years after the merger, Oclaro will cause the surviving corporation and its subsidiaries to indemnify their respective current or former directors and officers and any person who becomes a director or officer of Opnext (or any of its subsidiaries) prior to the effective time of the merger (such officers and directors are referred to collectively as the Opnext indemnified D&O) to the fullest extent that applicable legal requirements permit a company to indemnify its own officers and directors and in compliance with applicable indemnification agreements in effect as of the date of the merger agreement, including any provision relating to advancement of expenses.

In addition, the merger agreement provides that for a period of six years after the merger, Oclaro or the surviving corporation will maintain in effect the existing policy of Opnext's directors' and officers' liability insurance (or a comparable replacement policy):

covering claims arising from facts or events that occurred at or prior to the effective time of the merger (to the extent that such claims are of the type covered by such policy);

covering each Opnext indemnified D&O who is covered as of the effective time by the current insurance policy; and including terms with respect to coverage and amounts that are no less favorable in the aggregate than those terms in effect on March 26, 2012.

Table of Contents

If the annual premiums payable for such insurance coverage exceed $847,360 (which reflects 200% of the annual premium currently paid by Opnext for its existing policy), Oclaro and the surviving corporation may reduce the amount of coverage to the greatest amount of coverage available for a cost equal to that amount.

Obligations of the Oclaro Board of Directors and Opnext Board of Directors with Respect to Their Recommendations and Holding Meetings of Stockholders

Each of Opnext and Oclaro has agreed to take all actions necessary to call, give notice of and, as promptly as practicable after the registration statement on Form S-4 (of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part) is deemed effective under the Securities Act, hold meetings of their respective stockholders, in the case of Opnext, for the adoption of the merger agreement, and, in the case of Oclaro, for the approval of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement (and certain other proposals).

Both Opnext and Oclaro have agreed to include a statement in this joint proxy statement/prospectus to the effect that, in the case of Opnext, the board of directors of Opnext recommends that Opnext's stockholders adopt the merger agreement at the Opnext special meeting, and, in the case of Oclaro, the board of directors of Oclaro recommends that Oclaro's stockholders approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock at the Oclaro special meeting. The merger agreement provides that neither the board of directors of Opnext nor the board of directors of Oclaro may withdraw its recommendation or modify its recommendation in a manner adverse to the other company except in certain circumstances.

The merger agreement provides that each of the boards of directors of Opnext and Oclaro is entitled to withdraw or modify its recommendation that its stockholders vote in favor of the transaction (in the case of Opnext, to adopt the merger agreement at the Opnext special meeting, and, in the case of Oclaro, to approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock at the Oclaro special meeting), or alternatively that each of Opnext and Oclaro may terminate the merger agreement (and pay a termination fee of $6,000,000 to the other party), in connection with an unsolicited written acquisition proposal for such company if the following requirements are met:

such company has not materially breached certain obligations under the merger agreement regarding non-solicitation of alternative transactions (see a description of such obligations under the section entitled The Merger Agreement - Limitation on the Solicitation, Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext and Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals on page 102);

an unsolicited bona fide written acquisition proposal for such company is made after March 26, 2012 and the board of directors of such company determines in its good faith judgment (after having consulted with an independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel) that this offer is more favorable from a financial point of view to such company's stockholders than the merger;

for a period of five business days after receipt of the new acquisition proposal such company engages in good faith negotiations with the other party to amend the merger agreement in such manner that the new acquisition proposal that was determined to be favorable is no longer more favorable than the merger agreement; and

such company's board of directors determines in good faith (after having consulted with its outside legal counsel) that in light of the new acquisition proposal, the withdrawal or change in its recommendation is required in order for such board of directors to comply with its fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of such company under applicable law.

In addition, the merger agreement provides that each of the boards of directors of Opnext and Oclaro is entitled to withdraw or modify its recommendation that its stockholders vote in favor of the transaction (in the case of Opnext, to adopt the merger agreement at the Opnext special meeting, and, in the case of Oclaro, to approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock at the Oclaro special meeting) in other circumstances (unrelated to a competing acquisition proposal) if the following requirements are met:

a material development or change in circumstances affecting the business, assets or operations of such company occurs after March 26, 2012 that was neither known to such company, its subsidiaries and their representatives nor reasonably foreseeable by such company and its subsidiaries;

such company's board of directors determines in good faith (after having consulted with its outside legal counsel) that in light of such material development or change in circumstances, the withdrawal or change in its recommendation is required in order for such board of directors to comply with its fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of such company under applicable law;

such company satisfies certain notice requirements with respect to the other party;

for a period of five business days such company engages in good faith negotiations with the other party to amend the merger agreement in such a manner that obviates the need to withdraw or change the recommendation of such company's board of directors; and such company's board of directors again determines in good faith (after having consulted with its outside legal counsel) that in light of such material development or change in circumstances, the withdrawal or change in its recommendation is required in order for such board of directors to comply with its fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of such company under applicable law (taking into account any changes to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by the other party as a result of the negotiations referred to above).

The merger agreement provides that, if either company withdraws or modifies the recommendation of its board of directors, such company may be required to pay a fee of $6,000,000 million to the other company under certain circumstances. See the section entitled The Merger Agreement Expenses and Termination Fees.

Unless the merger agreement is terminated beforehand in accordance with the termination provisions of the merger agreement, both Opnext and Oclaro have agreed to submit the adoption of the merger agreement, in the case of Opnext, and the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and the amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Oclaro common stock, in the case of Oclaro, to their stockholders, regardless of any withdrawal or modification of the respective recommendation by the board of directors of Opnext or Oclaro.

Limitation on the Solicitation, Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext and Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals

The merger agreement contains detailed provisions prohibiting Opnext and Oclaro from seeking or entering into an alternative transaction to the merger. Under these no solicitation and related provisions, subject to specific exceptions described in the merger agreement, each of Opnext and Oclaro has agreed that, prior to the earlier of consummation of the merger or the termination of the merger agreement, it will not, directly or indirectly (and that it will (a) cause the subsidiaries and the respective officers, directors and financial advisers of such company and its subsidiaries not to; and (b) use its reasonable best efforts to ensure that the other representatives of such company and its subsidiaries do not, directly or indirectly):

solicit, initiate, knowingly encourage or knowingly facilitate the making, submission or announcement of any acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry with respect to such company;

furnish any information regarding such company or any of its subsidiaries to any person in connection with or in response to an acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry with respect to such company;

engage in discussions or negotiations with any person with respect to any acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry with respect to such company;

approve, endorse or recommend any acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry with respect to such company; and enter into any letter of intent or contract relating to any acquisition transaction with respect to such company.

Under the merger agreement, an acquisition inquiry is defined as an inquiry, indication of interest or request for nonpublic information (other than those made or submitted by Oclaro or Opnext, as the case may be) that would reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal, and an acquisition proposal is defined as any offer or proposal with respect to Opnext (other than those made or submitted by Oclaro) or Oclaro (other than those submitted by Opnext) relating to any acquisition transaction.

Under the merger agreement, subject to limited exceptions, an acquisition transaction with respect to Opnext or Oclaro, as the case may be, is defined as any transaction or series of related transactions (other than the one contemplated by the merger agreement or with respect to Oclaro as previously disclosed to Opnext pursuant to the merger agreement) involving:

any merger, exchange, consolidation, business combination, issuance of securities, acquisition of securities, reorganization, recapitalization, takeover offer, tender offer, exchange offer or similar transaction involving such company or one of its material subsidiaries, in which a third party or group acquires more than a 15% interest in the total outstanding voting securities of such company or one of its material subsidiaries, or in which such company or one of its material subsidiaries issues more than 15% of the outstanding voting securities of such company or that significant subsidiary (as described below);

any sale, lease, exchange, transfer, license, acquisition or disposition of assets representing 15% or more of the consolidated net revenues, consolidated net income or consolidated assets of such company and its subsidiaries; or any liquidation or dissolution of such company or one of its material subsidiaries.

Under the merger agreement, a significant subsidiary of Opnext or Oclaro, as the case may be, is defined as any subsidiary that accounts for 10% or more of the consolidated net revenues, consolidated net income or consolidated assets of such company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole.

Under the merger agreement, Opnext and Oclaro agreed to cease any existing discussions with any third party that relate to any acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry with respect to such company.

Each of Opnext and Oclaro has agreed to advise the other party, within 48 hours after receipt of any acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry with respect to such company, of the identity of the person making the acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry and the terms thereof. The merger agreement provides that each party receiving an acquisition proposal or an acquisition inquiry must keep the other party reasonably informed of the status of the acquisition proposal or acquisition inquiry and the status and terms of any material modifications or material proposed modifications thereto.

Each of Opnext and Oclaro has also agreed not to release or waive any provision of any confidentiality, non-solicitation, no-hire, standstill or similar contract under which such company or any of its subsidiaries has any rights and to use commercially reasonable efforts to enforce such contracts at the request of the other party, unless the board of directors of such company determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel) that failure to take such action would be a breach of its fiduciary duties to such company's stockholders under applicable law.

Exception to the Limitation on the Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext or Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals

The merger agreement provides that, if, prior to, in the case of Opnext, the adoption of the merger agreement by the Opnext stockholders, and in the case of Oclaro, the approval of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement by the Oclaro stockholders, Opnext or Oclaro, as the case may be, receives an acquisition proposal from any person with respect to such company, then such company may furnish nonpublic information to, and engage in discussions and negotiations with, the person making the acquisition proposal, as long as:

the acquisition proposal is not a result of any material breach of the no solicitation obligations of such company (see the description of these obligations under the heading Limitation on the Solicitation, Negotiation and Discussion by Opnext and Oclaro of Other Acquisition Proposals above);

such company's board of directors concludes in good faith (after having consulted with its outside legal counsel) that such acquisition proposal is reasonably likely to lead to a superior offer;

such company has given the other party at least one business day's prior notice of its intention to take such action and the identity of the person who made the acquisition proposal;

such company receives an executed confidentiality agreement from the person who made the acquisition proposal with terms at least as favorable to such company in the aggregate as the confidentiality agreement between Opnext and Oclaro (except that no such confidentiality agreement need include a standstill provision); and such company provides the other party with any nonpublic information to be furnished to the person who made the acquisition proposal (that has not previously been delivered to the other party) contemporaneously with furnishing such person with such nonpublic information.

For purposes of the merger agreement, the term superior offer, with respect to either Oclaro or Opnext, as the case may be, is defined as an unsolicited bona fide written acquisition proposal (except any reference in the definition of acquisition proposal to 15% shall be replaced with 50%) by a third party that is determined by the board of directors of such company, in its good faith judgment (after consulting with an independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel and after taking into account the likelihood and anticipated timing of the consummation of the transaction contemplated by such offer) to be more favorable from a financial point of view to such company's stockholders than the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Material Adverse Effect

Several of the representations, warranties, covenants, closing conditions and termination provisions of Oclaro and Opnext in the merger agreement use the phrase material adverse effect. The merger agreement provides that material adverse effect means, with respect to either Oclaro or Opnext, as the case may be, any effect, change, claim, event or circumstance that, considered together with other effects, changes, claims, events and circumstances, has (or would reasonably be expected to have) a material adverse effect on:

the business, financial condition, operations or results of operations of the subject company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole; however, for purposes of this provision, no effect, change, claim, event or circumstance resulting from the following will be deemed to constitute, or be taken into account in determining whether there has occurred, a material adverse effect on the particular subject company:

conditions generally affecting the industries in which the subject company participates or the U.S. or global economy, to the extent that such conditions do not have a disproportionate impact on the subject company and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, as compared to other industry participants;

general conditions in the financial markets and any changes therein (including any changes arising out of acts of terrorism, war, weather conditions or other force majeure events), to the extent that such changes in the trading price or trading volume of the subject company's common stock in and of themselves;

the failure to meet public estimates or forecasts of revenues, earnings or other financial metrics, in and of itself, or the failure to meet internal projections, forecasts or budgets of revenues, earnings or other financial metrics, in and of itself;

any stockholder litigation directly resulting from the execution of the merger agreement or the consummation of the merger; loss of employees, suppliers or customers resulting directly from the announcement or pendency of the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;

the taking of any action expressly required to be taken pursuant to the merger agreement;

the taking of any action requested by the other party pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement (to the extent taken in accordance with such request);

changes in applicable law after March 26, 2012; or the ability of the subject company to consummate the transactions contemplated under the merger agreement.

by mutual written consent;

by either Opnext or Oclaro if the merger shall not have been consummated by December 31, 2012; provided, however, that neither party will be permitted to terminate the merger agreement under this provision of the merger agreement if the failure to consummate the merger by December 31, 2012 is caused by a breach of an obligation to be performed prior to the effective time of the merger by the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement;

The merger agreement provides that, subject to limited exceptions, all fees and expenses incurred in connection with the merger agreement and the merger will be paid by the party incurring such expenses; provided, however, that Oclaro and Opnext will share equally all fees and expenses, other than attorneys' fees, incurred in connection with: (a) the filing, printing and mailing of the registration statement on Form S-4 and this joint proxy statement/prospectus; and (b) the filing by the parties of any notice or other document under any applicable antitrust or competition legal requirement.

OCLARO PROPOSAL NO. 2 AMENDMENT TO OCLARO S RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION TO INCREASE THE AUTHORIZED SHARES OF OCLARO COMMON STOCK

Overview

The Oclaro board of directors has unanimously approved a proposal to amend its restated certificate of incorporation to increase the authorized shares of Oclaro to 176,000,000 shares, subject to stockholder approval. Oclaro s board has declared this amendment to be advisable and recommended that this proposal be presented to Oclaro stockholders for approval. The text of the form of proposed amendment to Oclaro s restated certificate of incorporation to increase the authorized shares of Oclaro to 176,000,000 shares, is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex F.

If the Oclaro stockholders approve this Proposal No. 2 and the Oclaro Proposal No. 1 to approve the issuance of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement, Oclaro expects to file a certificate of amendment to the Oclaro restated certificate of incorporation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock immediately prior to the proposed merger. Upon filing the certificate of amendment to Oclaro s restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares from 91,000,000 to 176,000,000, the first sentence of Article FOURTH of Oclaro s restated certificate of incorporation will be as follows:

FOURTH: The total number of shares of all classes of stock which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is 176,000,000 shares, consisting of: (i) 175,000,000 shares of Common Stock, $0.01 par value per share (Common Stock); and (ii) 1,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.01 par value per share (Preferred Stock).

On May 23, 2012, the record date for the Oclaro special meeting, Oclaro had an aggregate of 51,481,012 shares outstanding, approximately 4,500,000 shares of Oclaro common stock were issuable pursuant to outstanding stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units and performance stock units and approximately 2,566,000 shares of Oclaro common stock were reserved for future issuance pursuant to Oclaro s equity incentive plans.

The primary reason for this increase in the authorized shares is to effect the merger with Opnext. If Oclaro s stockholders do not approve Oclaro Proposal No. 1 to approve the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement, then the Oclaro board of directors will, notwithstanding stockholder approval of this proposed amendment, abandon this proposed amendment.

Reasons for the Increase in Authorized Shares

The primary reason for the increase in authorized shares is to effect the merger. At present, Oclaro does not have sufficient authorized shares of its common stock in order to effect the merger and to issue the Oclaro common stock pursuant to the merger agreement. Additionally, approval of an increase in authorized shares of Oclaro common stock is a closing condition to the obligations of the parties to consummate the merger pursuant to the merger agreement. If Oclaro Proposal No. 2 is not approved by the Oclaro stockholders, and the closing condition to the merger agreement is not waived, Oclaro will be unable to complete the merger.

Although at present, apart from the shares to be issued pursuant to the merger and pursuant to its equity incentive plans, Oclaro has no commitments or agreements to issue additional shares of common stock, it desires to have additional shares available to provide additional flexibility to use its capital stock for business and financial purposes in the future. In this regard, in connection with Oclaro s evaluation of its strategic and financing alternatives, Oclaro may determine to issue additional shares of its common stock at any time

following the completion of the merger. In addition, the additional shares may be used for various purposes without further stockholder approval, except as may be required by applicable law, regulations promulgated by government agencies, the rules of the NASDAQ Global Select Market or other market or exchange on which Oclaro common stock is then listed. These purposes may include, among others:

raising capital;

providing equity incentives to employees, officers or directors;

establishing strategic relationships with other companies; and expanding the business or product lines of the combined company through the acquisition of other businesses or products.

The terms of additional shares of common stock will be identical to those of the currently outstanding shares of Oclaro common stock. However, because holders of Oclaro common stock have no preemptive rights to purchase or subscribe for any unissued stock of Oclaro, the issuance of any additional shares of common stock authorized as a result of the increase in the number of authorized shares of common stock will substantially reduce the current stockholders' percentage of ownership interest in the total outstanding shares of common stock.

Effects of the Increase in Authorized Shares

The proposed increase in the authorized number of shares of common stock could have a number of effects on the stockholders of Oclaro depending upon the exact nature and circumstances of any actual issuances of authorized but unissued shares. The increase could have an anti-takeover effect, in that additional shares could be issued (within the limits imposed by applicable law) in one or more transactions that could make a change in control or takeover of Oclaro difficult. For example, additional shares could be issued by Oclaro so as to dilute the stock ownership or voting rights of persons seeking to obtain control of Oclaro. Similarly, the issuance of additional shares to certain persons allied with Oclaro's management could have the effect of making it more difficult to remove Oclaro's management by diluting the stock ownership or voting rights of persons seeking to cause such removal.

The proposed amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares from 91,000,000 shares to 176,000,000 shares will be effective upon the filing of the certificate of amendment with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. Notwithstanding stockholder approval of this proposed amendment, Oclaro's board of directors may abandon the proposed amendment without any further action by Oclaro stockholders at any time prior to its effectiveness, and will abandon the proposed amendment if Oclaro's stockholders do not approve Proposal No. 1 to approve the issuance of shares pursuant to the merger. Oclaro expects to file such proposed amendment immediately prior to the proposed merger if Oclaro's stockholders approve Oclaro Proposal No. 1 and this Proposal No. 2. As previously noted, the proposed amendment to Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock is a condition to the consummation of the merger.

Vote Required; Recommendation of Oclaro Board of Directors

The affirmative vote of a majority of Oclaro common stock outstanding on the record date for the Oclaro special meeting is required to approve the proposal to amend Oclaro's restated certificate of incorporation to increase the authorized shares of Oclaro to 176,000,000 shares.

A failure to submit a proxy card or vote at the special meeting, or an abstention, vote withheld or broker non-vote will have the same effect as a vote against Oclaro Proposal No. 2.

OCLARO'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT OCLARO STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR OCLARO PROPOSAL NO. 2 TO APPROVE AN AMENDMENT TO OCLARO'S RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION TO INCREASE THE NUMBER OF AUTHORIZED SHARES TO 176,000,000 SHARES.

Table of ContentsOPNEXT PROPOSAL NO. 3 ADVISORY VOTE REGARDING MERGER-RELATED COMPENSATION

Merger-Related Compensation. Opnext is required pursuant to Section 14A of the Exchange Act to include in this joint proxy statement/prospectus a non-binding, advisory vote on the compensation payable to each of its named executive officers, as determined in accordance with Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K, in connection with the proposed merger pursuant to arrangements entered into with Opnext, and Opnext is therefore asking its stockholders to approve the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the compensation that will or may become payable to the named executive officers of Opnext in connection with the merger as disclosed pursuant to Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K and as set forth in this proposal titled Advisory Vote Regarding Merger-Related Compensation is hereby approved.

The information set forth in the table below is intended to comply with Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K, which requires disclosure of information about certain compensation for each of Opnext's named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger (merger-related compensation).

Please note that the amounts indicated below are estimates based on the material assumptions described in the notes to the table below, which may or may not actually occur. Some of these assumptions are based on information currently available and, as a result, the actual amounts, if any, that may become payable to a named executive officer may differ in material respects from the amounts set forth below. Furthermore, for purposes of calculating such amounts, we have assumed:

a closing date for the merger of June 7, 2012, and

A termination of the named executive officer's employment by Opnext without cause or as a result of the executive's resignation for good reason immediately following a change in control on June 7, 2012.

Name	Cash ($)(1)	Merger-Related Compensation		Total ($)
		Equity ($)(2)	Perquisites/Benefits ($)(3)
Harry L. Bosco	$2,000,000	$0	$34,886	$2,034,886
Michael C. Chan	$734,400	$0	$0	$734,400
Robert J. Nobile	$1,180,000	$0	$0	$1,180,000
Justin J. O'Neill	$828,750	$0	$24,410	$853,160

- (1) Cash severance is payable in a lump sum upon a termination of the executive officer's employment by Opnext without cause or for good reason, in each case, immediately prior to or upon a change in control, or within a specified period following such change in control (two years for Mr. Bosco and one year for Messrs. Chan, Nobile and O'Neill), subject to the executive's execution and non-revocation of a general release of claims. Pursuant to Mr. Bosco's employment agreement, in such event, Mr. Bosco would be entitled to receive cash severance equal to two (2) times the sum of (A) his then current annual base salary and (B) the greater of (x) his target annual bonus for Opnext's fiscal year in which such termination occurs or (y) the average actual annual bonus awarded to him for the two full fiscal years immediately preceding the year in which such termination occurs. Pursuant to the employment agreements with each of Messrs. Chan and Nobile, in such event the executive would be entitled to receive cash severance equal to two (2.0) times his then current annual base salary. Pursuant to Mr. O'Neill's employment agreement, in such event Mr. O'Neill would be entitled to receive cash severance equal to one and one-half (1.5) times the sum of (A) his then current annual base salary and (B) the greater of (x) his target annual bonus for Opnext's fiscal year in which such termination occurs or (y) the average actual annual bonus awarded to him for the two full fiscal years immediately preceding the year in which such termination occurs. In addition to the foregoing, in the event Mr. Nobile's employment was terminated either by Opnext without cause or as a result of his resignation for good reason, Mr. Nobile would be entitled pursuant to his employment agreement to receive a cash bonus equal to $530,000 that would otherwise be payable to him on August 16, 2012. The following table quantifies each separate form of compensation included in the aggregate total reported in the column:

Table of Contents

Name	Base Salary	Annual Bonus	Retention Bonus
Harry L. Bosco	$1,000,000	$1,000,000	$0
Michael C. Chan	$734,400	$0	$0

- (2) None of the stock options held by the named executive officers will have their vesting accelerated in connection with the merger pursuant to a single trigger arrangement (e.g. consummation of the merger only). As discussed above under the heading Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger - Treatment of Opnext Stock Options on page 79, the merger agreement provides that at the effective time of the merger each Opnext stock option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time, whether or not vested, will be converted into an option to purchase Oclaro common stock (adjusted to give effect to the exchange ratio) and Oclaro will assume such stock option. Each such option will otherwise remain subject to the same terms and conditions of the Opnext equity plan and the applicable stock option agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Opnext stock option as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (including the term, exercisability, vesting schedule and terms of acceleration).

All of the stock options held by the named executive officers may have their vesting accelerated in connection with the merger pursuant to certain double trigger arrangements (e.g. consummation of the merger and a qualifying termination of employment). Pursuant to the terms of the employment agreements with each of Messrs. Bosco and O Neill, if a change in control (as defined in the respective employment agreement) occurs and the executive's employment is terminated by Opnext without cause or as a result of the executive's resignation for good reason, in each case, immediately prior to or upon such change in control, or within a specified period following such change in control (two years for Mr. Bosco and one year for Mr. O Neill), and subject to the executive's execution and non-revocation of a general release of claims, the stock options will become fully vested and exercisable. In addition, the stock option agreements evidencing Opnext stock options held by the named executive officers provide that the stock options will become fully vested and exercisable in the event that the executive's employment is terminated by Opnext without cause or by the executive for good reason during the twelve (12) month period immediately following a change in control (as defined in the Opnext equity plan). The consummation of the merger is expected to constitute a change in control for purposes of the employment agreements with each of Messrs. Bosco and O Neill and the Opnext equity plan. The following table quantifies the value of the unvested Opnext stock options held by the named executive officers (assuming the occurrence of a change in control and qualifying termination of employment on June 7, 2012, and a price per share of our common stock of $1.648, which equals the average closing price of our common stock over the first five business days following March 26, 2012):

Name	Number of Unvested Stock Options	Exercise Price	Value of Unvested Stock Options
Michael C. Chan	100,000	$2.23	$0
	60,000	$2.04	$0

	52,500	$2.04	$0
	52,500	$2.86	$0
Justin J. O Neill	50,000	$2.23	$0
	45,000	$2.04	$0
	52,500	$2.86	$0

- (3) Amounts represent the aggregate full premium payment that would be required to be paid to or on behalf of the executive to provide continued health insurance coverage for the relevant period of time upon a termination of the executive officer's employment by Opnext without cause or for good reason, in each case, immediately prior to or upon a change in control, or within a specified period following such change in control (two years for Mr. Bosco and one year for Mr. O Neill), subject to the executive's execution and non-revocation of a general release of claims. Pursuant to the employment agreements with each of Messrs. Bosco and O Neill, in such event the executive would be entitled to receive certain health insurance benefits at Opnext's expense for 24 months, in the case of Mr. Bosco, or 18 months, in the case of Mr. O Neill, after the date of such termination of employment.

Narrative Disclosure to Merger-Related Compensation Table

Opnext has entered into employment agreements with each of its named executive officers, other than Mr. Oki, which provide for severance payments and benefits upon certain terminations of employment. For more information relating to these agreements, see above under the heading Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger Employment Agreements on page 81.

None of the Opnext stock options held by the named executive officers will have their vesting accelerated in connection with the merger pursuant to a single trigger arrangement (e.g. consummation of the merger only). All of the stock options held by the named executive officers may have their vesting accelerated in connection with the merger pursuant to certain double trigger arrangements (e.g. consummation of the merger and a qualifying termination of employment). For more information relating to the treatment of the Opnext stock options, see above under the heading Interests of Opnext's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger Treatment of Opnext Stock Options on page 79.

Vote Required and Board of Directors Recommendation

The vote regarding this proposal on merger-related compensation is a vote separate and apart from the vote on the proposal to adopt the merger agreement. Accordingly, Opnext's stockholders may vote to approve the proposal to adopt the merger agreement and vote not to approve the proposal on merger-related compensation and vice versa. Because the vote regarding merger-related compensation is advisory only, it will not be binding on either Opnext or Oclaro. Accordingly, if the merger agreement is adopted and the merger is completed, the merger-related compensation will be payable upon a consummation of the merger and a qualifying termination of employment, subject only to the conditions applicable thereto, regardless of the outcome of the non-binding, advisory vote of Opnext's stockholders.

Approval of the merger-related compensation requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Opnext's common stock represented and voting (which shares voting affirmatively also constitute at least a majority of the required quorum) at the Opnext special meeting.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Introduction

The following unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements give effect to the proposed merger of a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oclaro with Opnext. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements have been prepared by Oclaro management for illustrative purposes only. The pro forma information is not necessarily indicative of what the combined company's condensed consolidated financial position or results of operations actually would have been had the merger been completed as of the dates indicated. In addition, the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information does not purport to project the future financial position or operating results of the combined company. The pro forma adjustments are based on the information available at the time of the preparation of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet gives effect to the proposed merger as if it occurred on March 31, 2012. The Oclaro condensed consolidated balance sheet information was derived from its unaudited March 31, 2012 condensed consolidated balance sheet and the Opnext condensed consolidated balance sheet information was derived from its audited March 31, 2012 consolidated balance sheet.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations for the nine months ended March 31, 2012 is presented as if the transaction had been consummated on July 4, 2010 and, due to the different fiscal period ends, combines the historical results of operations of Oclaro for the nine months ended March 31, 2012 and the historical results of operations of Opnext for the three fiscal quarters ended March 31, 2012. This unaudited methodology includes Opnext's reported fiscal quarters ended September 30, 2011, December 31, 2011 and March 31, 2012.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations for the fiscal year ended July 2, 2011 is presented as if the transaction had been consummated on July 4, 2010. Oclaro's audited consolidated statement of operations for the fiscal year ended July 2, 2011 has been combined with Opnext's unaudited historical results of operations for the four fiscal quarters ended June 30, 2011. This unaudited methodology includes the last three reported quarters of Opnext's fiscal year ended March 31, 2011 and the first reported quarter of Opnext's fiscal year ended March 31, 2012.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the accompanying notes to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. In addition, the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, including the notes thereto, are qualified in their entirety by reference to, and should be read in conjunction with, the following historical consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes of Oclaro and Opnext for the applicable periods, which are incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus:

Separate historical financial statements of Oclaro as of and for the fiscal year ended July 2, 2011 and the related notes included in Oclaro's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended July 2, 2011;

Separate historical financial statements of Oclaro as of and for the three and nine months ended March 31, 2012 and the related notes included in Oclaro's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended March 31, 2012.

Separate historical financial statements of Opnext as of and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 and the related notes included in Opnext's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012; and Separate historical interim financial statements of Opnext as of and for the three and six month period ended September 30, 2011 and three and nine months ended December 31, 2011 and the related notes included in Opnext's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2011 respectively.

Table of Contents

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information has been prepared using the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations. Oclaro has been treated as the acquirer in the merger for accounting purposes. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the purchase price is equivalent to the fair value of the consideration transferred on the date of the completion of the merger, calculated as described in Note 3 to these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. The purchase accounting is dependent upon certain valuations and other studies that have yet to commence or progress to a stage where there is sufficient information for a definitive measurement. Accordingly, the pro forma adjustments are preliminary and have been made solely for the purpose of providing unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information. The impact of ongoing integration activities, and other changes in the fair value of the assets and liabilities of Opnext that occur prior to completion of the merger could cause material differences in the information presented.

Intercompany transactions and balances between Oclaro and Opnext, which comprise the sale of certain products by Oclaro to Opnext, have been eliminated in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of operations. In addition, acquisition related transaction costs and the gain on bargain purchase which are directly attributable to the pending merger, but which are not expected to have a continuing impact on the combined entity's results, have been eliminated in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements of operations. Further, the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements do not include any adjustments for the anticipated benefits from cost savings or synergies of Oclaro and Opnext operating as a combined company or for liabilities resulting from integration planning, as managements of Oclaro and Opnext are in the process of making these assessments and estimates of these costs are not currently known. However, liabilities ultimately may be recorded for severance, relocation or retention costs in subsequent quarters related to employees of both companies, the costs of vacating certain leased facilities of either company or other costs associated with exiting or transferring activities between companies that would affect amounts in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements.

Table of ContentsNOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS*1. Description of Transaction

On March 26, 2012, Oclaro and Opnext entered into a definitive agreement pursuant to which the two companies will be combined through the merger of a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oclaro with and into Opnext. The transaction is expected to close in Oclaro's fiscal quarter ending September 29, 2012, subject to approval by the stockholders of both companies and the satisfaction of other customary conditions.

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time of the merger, by virtue of the merger and without any action on the part of any stockholder, each share of common stock of Opnext, par value $0.01 per share (Opnext common stock), will be converted into the right to receive 0.42 of a share of common stock of Oclaro (the exchange ratio), par value $0.01 per share (Oclaro common stock). Options to purchase Opnext common stock will be assumed by Oclaro pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement. Stock appreciation rights, restricted stock and restricted stock units with respect to Opnext common stock will be converted into stock appreciation rights, restricted stock and restricted stock units with respect to Oclaro common stock pursuant to the terms described in the merger agreement.

Consummation of the merger is subject to customary conditions, including: (a) the adoption of the merger agreement by the stockholders of Opnext and the approval by the stockholders of Oclaro of the issuance of shares of Oclaro common stock and of a certificate of amendment to Oclaro's certificate of incorporation in connection with the merger; (b) expiration of the waiting period under U.S. antitrust laws; (c) absence of any applicable restraining order or injunction prohibiting the merger; (d) the effectiveness of a registration statement on Form S-4; (e) the absence of material adverse effect with respect to each of Opnext and Oclaro; (f) the accuracy of the representations and warranties of each party, subject to specified materiality thresholds; (g) performance in all material respects by each party of its obligations under the merger agreement; and (h) the delivery of customary tax opinions from counsel to Opnext and Oclaro. The merger agreement contains certain termination rights for both Opnext and Oclaro in certain circumstances, some of which would require Opnext or Oclaro to pay the other a termination fee of $6,000,000.

2. Basis of Presentation

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information was prepared using the acquisition method of accounting and was based on the historical financial statements of Oclaro and Opnext. For ease of reference, all pro forma financial statements use Oclaro's period end dates and Opnext's reported financial information has been recast accordingly to correspond to period end dates that are close to Oclaro's period end dates by adding Opnext's comparable quarterly periods as necessary.

The acquisition method of accounting is based on ASC Topic 805, which uses the fair value concepts defined in ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures.

ASC Topic 805 requires, among other things, that assets and liabilities acquired be recognized at their fair values as of the acquisition date. Financial statements of Oclaro issued after completion of the merger will reflect such fair values, measured as of the acquisition date, which may be different than the estimated fair values included in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. The financial statements of Oclaro issued after the completion of the merger will not be retroactively restated to reflect the historical financial position or results of operations of Opnext. In addition, ASC Topic 805 establishes that the consideration transferred be measured at the closing date of the merger at the then-current market price, which will likely result in a purchase price that is different from the amount assumed in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements.

ASC Topic 820, defines the term fair value and sets forth the valuation requirements for any asset or liability measured at fair value. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. This is an exit price concept for the valuation of the asset or liability. In addition, fair value measurements for an asset assume the highest and best use by market participants unrelated to Oclaro in the principal (or the most advantageous) market for the asset or liability. As a result of these standards, Oclaro may be required to record assets which are not intended to be used or sold and/or to value assets at fair value measures that do not reflect Oclaro's intended use of those assets. Many of these fair value measurements can be highly subjective and it is also possible that other professionals, applying reasonable judgment to the same facts and circumstances, could develop and support a range of alternative estimated amounts.

Under ASC 805, acquisition-related transaction costs (such as advisory, legal, valuation, other professional fees) are not included as a component of consideration transferred and are excluded from the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of operations. Such costs will be expensed in the historical statements of operations in the period incurred. Oclaro expects to incur total acquisition-related transaction costs of approximately $5.0 million, of which $1.0 million was expensed in the nine months ended March 31, 2012, and Opnext expects to incur total acquisition-related transaction costs of approximately $6.0 million, of which $1.5 million was expensed in the nine months ended March 31, 2012. As discussed in Note 5, the liabilities related to these costs have been included in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet as of March 31, 2012.

3. Estimate of Consideration Expected to be Transferred

The following is a preliminary estimate of consideration expected to be transferred to effect the merger with Opnext:

(Thousands, except per share amounts)
Opnext common stock outstanding as of May 30, 2012	90,638
Exchange ratio	0.42
Oclaro common stock to be issued	38,068
Oclaro common stock price as of May 30, 2012	$ 2.51
Fair value of Oclaro shares to be issued	$ 95,551
Fair value of vested Oclaro equivalent stock awards	1,813
Total estimated purchase price	$ 97,364

Fair Value of Shares to be Issued: Under the terms of the merger agreement, Opnext stockholders will receive 0.42 shares of Oclaro common stock for each share of Opnext common stock they own. Based on the number of shares of Opnext common stock outstanding as of May 30, 2012, Oclaro expects to issue approximately 38 million common shares in the proposed combination. The fair value of Oclaro equivalent stock was estimated based on a per share price of $2.51, which is the closing market price of Oclaro's common stock as of May 30, 2012, and giving effect to the exchange ratio of 0.42.

Fair Value Estimate of Stock Awards Assumed: As of March 26, 2012, Opnext had outstanding stock options for the purchase of approximately 10.5 million shares of Opnext common stock, approximately 596,000 restricted stock units and approximately 471,000 stock appreciation rights. In accordance with the merger agreement, 0.42 Oclaro stock options, shares of restricted stock, restricted stock units and stock appreciation rights will be issued for each Opnext stock option, share of restricted stock, restricted stock unit and stock appreciation right assumed, respectively.

The fair values of Opnext vested stock options and stock appreciation rights assumed were determined using a Black-Scholes valuation model with the following assumptions: weighted-average expected life of 2.0 years; weighted-average risk-free interest rate of 0.7%; expected volatility of 84.7% and no dividend yield. The fair values of Opnext vested restricted stock units assumed were determined using their intrinsic value, estimated based on a per share price of $2.51, which is the closing market price of Oclaro's common stock as of May 30, 2012, and giving effect to the exchange ratio of 0.42.

The fair values of the Opnext unvested stock options, restricted stock units and stock appreciation rights assumed will be recorded as operating expenses on a straight-line basis over the remaining service periods, while the fair values of the Opnext vested stock options, restricted stock units and stock appreciation rights are included in the total purchase price.

Sensitivity of Common Stock Price: The estimated consideration expected to be transferred reflected in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements does not purport to represent what the actual consideration transferred will be when the merger is completed. In accordance with ASC Topic 805, the fair value of equity securities issued as part of the consideration transferred will be measured on the closing date of the merger at the then-current market price. This requirement will likely result in a per share equity component different from the $2.51 closing price of Oclaro common stock on May 30, 2012 that is assumed in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, and that difference may be material. Oclaro believes that an increase or decrease by as much as 20% in the Oclaro common stock price on the closing date of the merger from the common stock price assumed in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements is reasonably possible based upon the recent history of Oclaro's common stock price. A change in the price of Oclaro's common stock of 20% would increase or decrease the consideration paid as follows, with a corresponding increase or decrease in the goodwill recorded in connection with the merger:

% change in common stock price	-20%	+20%
Stock price	$ 2.01	$ 3.01
Change in consideration transferred (in thousands)	$ (19,635)	$ 19,693

4. Estimate of Assets to be Acquired and Liabilities to be Assumed

The following is a preliminary estimate of the fair value of assets to be acquired and the liabilities to be assumed by Oclaro in the merger, reconciled to the estimate of consideration expected to be transferred (in thousands):

Net book value of assets acquired as of March 31, 2012	$ 159,228
Less: write off of existing Opnext intangible assets	(10,241)
Adjusted net book value of assets acquired as of March 31, 2012	148,987
Adjustments:
Inventories	10,768
Property and equipment	13,757
Identifiable intangible assets	28,000
Transaction costs	(4,500)
Fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed	197,012
Gain on bargain purchase	(99,648)
Total estimated purchase price	$ 97,364

The preliminary valuation of assets acquired and liabilities assumed performed for the purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements was primarily limited to the identification and initial measurement of intangible assets, property and equipment, inventories and deferred taxes. Oclaro believes this was an appropriate approach based on a review of similar acquisitions, which appeared to indicate that, excluding goodwill or gain on bargain purchase, the most significant and material portion of the purchase price would be allocated to identifiable intangible assets. Oclaro will continue to refine its identification and initial measurement of assets to be acquired and the liabilities to be assumed as further information becomes available.

Table of Contents

The following is a discussion of the adjustments made to Opnext's assets and liabilities in connection with the preparation of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements:

Inventories: As of the effective time of the merger, inventories are required to be measured at fair value. Opnext's inventory consists of raw materials, work in process and finished goods. For purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, the preliminary fair value of inventories have been determined based on currently available information and certain high-level assumptions and may be different from the final acquisition accounting, and the difference could have a material impact on the accompanying pro forma condensed combined financial statements. Raw materials were valued based on Opnext's current net book values. Work in process, finished goods and spare parts were valued using the comparative sales method, which estimates the expected sales price of the subject inventory, reduced for all costs expected to be incurred in its completion (for work in process), disposition and a profit on those efforts.

Property and equipment: As of the effective time of the merger, property and equipment are required to be measured at fair value, unless those assets are classified as held-for-sale on the acquisition date. The acquired assets can include assets that are not intended to be used or sold, or that are intended to be used in a manner other than their highest and best use. For purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, the fair value of property and equipment have been determined primarily through the use of either the sales comparison method or the depreciated replacement cost method. The sales comparison method is a form of the market approach in which the value of the asset is estimated based on the market price of an asset of comparable features such as location and size. The depreciated replacement cost method is a form of the cost approach in which the value of the asset is estimated based on the cost to replace the asset with an asset of comparable utility and adjusting for physical deterioration, functional obsolescence and economic obsolescence.

Oclaro does not have sufficient information at this time as to the specific types, nature, age, condition or location of these assets to perform a final valuation. However, for the purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, using currently available information, such as Opnext's balance sheet, fixed asset register, high-level discussions with company management and certain other high-level assumptions, the fair value of property and equipment were estimated by Oclaro management and were as follows:

	Estimated Average Useful Lives (Years)	Estimated Fair Value March 31, 2012 (Thousands)
Property and equipment:
Building improvements	3.0	$ 2,804
Machinery, electronic and other equipment	3.0	52,394
Computer software	2.0	3,081
Construction in progress	5.0	3,760
		$ 62,039

These preliminary estimates of fair value and weighted-average useful life will likely be different from the final acquisition accounting, and the difference could have a material impact on the accompanying pro forma condensed combined financial statements.

Identified Intangible assets: As of the effective time of the merger, identifiable intangible assets are required to be measured at fair value and these acquired assets could include assets that are not intended to be used or sold or that are intended to be used in a manner other than their highest and best use. For purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, it is assumed that all assets will be used in a manner that represents their highest and best use. Based on internal assessments as well as discussions with Opnext, Oclaro has initially identified the following significant intangible assets: developed technology, patents, customer relationships, trademarks and in-process research and development.

For purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, the fair value of these intangible assets has been determined primarily through the use of the income approach, which requires an estimate or forecast of all the expected future cash flows through the application of the multi-period excess earnings method, relief-from-royalty method or other acceptable methods noted within ASC Topic 805.

At this time, Oclaro does not have sufficient information as to the amount, timing and risk of the estimated future cash flows needed to perform a final valuation of developed technology, patents, customer relationships, trademarks and in-process research and development. Some of the more significant assumptions inherent in the development of estimated cash flows, from the perspective of a market participant, include: the amount and timing of projected future cash flows (including revenue, cost of revenue, research and development expenses, sales and marketing expenses, general and administrative expenses, working capital, capital expenditures and contributory asset charges) and the selected discount rate that is reflective of the risks inherent in the projections of future cash flows. However, for the purposes of these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements, based on a review of similar allocations within the sector and certain other high-level assumptions, the fair value of the customer relationships, technology and other intangibles were initially estimated by Oclaro management to be as follows: developed technology $13.7 million with a weighted average useful life of 6 years; contract backlog $1.8 million with a weighted average useful life of 1 year; customer relationships $7.3 million with a weighted average useful life of 6 years; trademarks and other $4.8 million with a weighted average useful life of 4 years; and in-process research and development of $0.4 million.

These preliminary estimates of fair value and weighted-average useful life will likely be different from the final acquisition accounting, and the difference could have a material impact on the accompanying pro forma condensed combined financial statements. Once Oclaro has full access to the specifics of Opnext's intangible assets, additional insight will be gained that could impact: (i) the estimated total value assigned to intangible assets, and (ii) the estimated weighted-average useful life of each category of intangible assets. The estimated intangible asset values and their useful lives could be impacted by a variety of factors that may become known to Oclaro only upon access to additional information and/or changes in such factors that may occur prior to the effective time of the merger. For each $1 million change in the fair value of identifiable intangible assets, there could be an annual change in amortization expense increase or decrease of approximately $0.2 million, assuming a weighted-average useful life of 5.3 years.

Deferred taxes: As of the effective time of the merger, Oclaro will provide deferred taxes as part of the accounting for the acquisition, primarily related to the estimated fair value adjustments for acquired intangibles, inventories and property and equipment. These estimates are based on a preliminary valuation and are subject to further review by Oclaro's management, which may result in material adjustments at the closing date of the merger see Note 5, item (J) for details regarding the adjustment to taxes.

Other Assets/Liabilities: Adjustments to Opnext's remaining assets and liabilities may also be necessary, however at this time Oclaro has limited knowledge as to the specific details and nature of those assets and liabilities necessary in order to make adjustments to those values. However, since the majority of the remaining assets and liabilities are current assets and liabilities, Oclaro believes that the current Opnext book values for these assets represent reasonable estimates of fair value or net realizable value, as applicable. Oclaro does not anticipate that the actual adjustments for these assets and liabilities on the closing date will be materially different.

5. Adjustments to Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Statements of Operations and Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Balance Sheet

Pro forma adjustments are necessary to reflect the estimated consideration transferred, to adjust amounts related to the net tangible assets of Opnext to a preliminary estimate of their fair values, to eliminate transactions between Oclaro and Opnext and to reflect changes in depreciation and amortization expense resulting from the

- (F) Accounts Receivable and Accounts Payable To eliminate accounts receivable and accounts payable balances related to product sales to Opnext by Oclaro and product sales to Oclaro by Opnext.
- (G) Inventory To record the difference between the historical book value and preliminary estimated fair values of Opnext inventory acquired in the transaction. No corresponding adjustments have been recorded in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations as the step-up in inventory value is not expected to be recurring.
- (H) Property and Equipment To record the difference between the historical book value and preliminary estimated fair values of Opnext property and equipment acquired in the transaction.
- (I) Intangible Assets To record the difference between the historical amounts of Opnext net intangible assets and initial estimated fair values of identified intangible assets acquired. These initial estimated fair values and useful lives are considered preliminary and are subject to change at the closing date of the transaction. Accordingly, the estimates related to deferred taxes are also subject to change. Changes in fair value or useful lives of the identified acquired intangible assets may be material. Determination of the estimated remaining useful lives of the individual categories of identified intangible assets was based on the nature of the applicable intangible asset and the expected future cash flows to be derived from the intangible asset. The acquired finite-lived intangible assets are being amortized over the estimated useful life in proportion to the economic benefits consumed using the straight-line method. Adjustments reflect the following:

- (K) Transaction Costs To record estimated costs remaining to be incurred related directly to the transaction of approximately $8.5 million, including estimated investment banking, legal and accounting fees, and other external costs directly related to the merger. Estimated remaining transaction costs for Oclaro and Opnext were $4.0 million and $4.5 million, respectively.
- (L) Common Stock To eliminate Opnext's historical stockholders' equity, to reflect the fair value of shares of Oclaro common stock expected to be issued upon completion of the merger, to record estimated non-recurring costs for remaining Oclaro acquisition related transaction costs and to record the estimated gain on bargain purchase.

	(Thousands)
Eliminate Opnext historical stockholders' equity	$ (159,228)
Fair value of Oclaro shares to be issued	95,551
Fair value of vested Oclaro equivalent stock awards to be issued	1,813
Estimated non-recurring costs for remaining Oclaro acquisition related transaction costs	(4,000)
Gain on bargain purchase	99,648
	$ 33,784

The bargain purchase gain primarily results from the difference between the estimate of consideration to be paid and the preliminary estimate of the fair value of net assets to be acquired and liabilities to be assumed. The consideration for Opnext consists of a fixed number of Oclaro shares for each Opnext Share (0.42 for one), which was agreed upon on March 26, 2012. The closing price of Oclaro and Opnext's shares of common stock were $4.66 and $1.13, respectively, on March 26, 2012.

As of March 31, 2012, the book value of Opnext's net assets was $159.2 million. As of March 26, 2012, Opnext had a market value of $102.2 million, based on Opnext's March 26, 2012 closing per share price of $1.13 multiplied by the 90.4 million shares of Opnext common stock which were issued and outstanding as of that date, or $57.0 million less than the March 31, 2012 book value of net assets.

Subsequently, the consideration to be paid was determined by the trading price of Oclaro shares, multiplied by the agreed upon fixed number of shares Opnext's shareholders will receive in the merger. On May 30, 2012, the closing price of Oclaro's shares of common stock was $2.51. This share price, multiplied by the fixed number of shares, results in estimated consideration paid of $97.4 million, less than the preliminary estimate of the fair market value of the net assets acquired and liabilities assumed of $197.0 million as of March 31, 2012.

AGREEMENT

The parties to this Agreement, intending to be legally bound, agree as follows:

Section 1. DESCRIPTION OF TRANSACTION

1.1 Merger of Merger Sub into the Company. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, at the Effective Time (as defined in Section 1.3), Merger Sub shall be merged with and into the Company. By virtue of the Merger, at the Effective Time, the separate existence of Merger Sub shall cease and the Company shall continue as the surviving corporation in the Merger (the Surviving Corporation).

1.2 Effects of the Merger. The Merger shall have the effects set forth in this Agreement and in the applicable provisions of the DGCL.

1.3 Closing; Effective Time. The consummation of the Merger (the Closing) shall take place at the Northern California offices of outside counsel to Parent, on a date to be designated jointly by Parent and the Company, which shall be no later than the second business day after the satisfaction or waiver of the last to be satisfied or waived of the conditions set forth in Sections 6 and 7 (other than the conditions, which by their nature are to be satisfied at the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of each of such conditions). The date on which the Closing actually takes place is referred to as the Closing Date. Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, a certificate of merger satisfying the applicable requirements of the DGCL shall be duly executed by the Company and concurrently with or as soon as practicable following the Closing shall be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. The Merger shall become effective at the time of the filing of such certificate of merger with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware or at such later time as may be designated jointly by Parent and the Company and specified in such certificate of merger (the time as of which the Merger becomes effective being referred to as the Effective Time).

1.4 Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws; Directors and Officers.

(a) The Certificate of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation shall be amended and restated immediately after the Effective Time to read as set forth in Exhibit B.

(b) The Bylaws of the Surviving Corporation shall be amended and restated as of the Effective Time to read as set forth in Exhibit C.

(c) The directors and officer of the Surviving Corporation immediately after the Effective Time shall be the respective individuals who are directors and officers of Merger Sub immediately prior to the Effective Time.

1.5 Conversion of Shares.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, at the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any further action on the part of Parent, Merger Sub, the Company or any stockholder of the Company:

(i) any shares of Company Common Stock held by the Company or any wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Company (or held in the Company's treasury) immediately prior to the Effective Time shall continue to be so held and no consideration shall be paid or payable in respect thereof;

(ii) any shares of Company Common Stock held by Parent, Merger Sub or any other wholly-owned Subsidiary of Parent immediately prior to the Effective Time shall remain issued and outstanding and no consideration shall be paid or payable in respect thereof;

(iii) except as provided in clauses (i) and (ii) above and subject to Sections 1.5(b), 1.5(c) and 1.5(d), each share of Company Common Stock that is outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (together with any associated Rights) shall be converted into the right to receive 0.42 of a share of Parent Common Stock (such number as may be adjusted in accordance with Section 1.5(b), the Exchange Ratio); and

(d) No fractional shares of Parent Common Stock shall be issued in connection with the Merger, and no certificates or scrip for any such fractional shares shall be issued. Any holder of Company Common Stock who would otherwise be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Parent Common Stock (after aggregating all fractional shares of Parent Common Stock issuable to such holder) shall, in lieu of such fraction of a share and upon surrender of such holder's Company Stock Certificate(s) (as defined in Section 1.6) or non-certificated shares of Company Common Stock represented by book entry (Book Entry Shares), be paid in cash the dollar amount (rounded to the nearest whole cent), without interest, determined by multiplying such fraction by the average closing price of a share of Parent Common Stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the 10 most recent trading days that Parent Common Stock has traded ending on the trading day one day prior to the date the Merger becomes effective.

1.6 Closing of the Company's Transfer Books. At the Effective Time: (a) except as provided in Section 1.5(a)(i) or Section 1.5(a)(ii), all shares of Company Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall automatically be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and all holders of Book Entry Shares or of certificates representing shares of Company Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to have any rights as stockholders of the Company, except the right to receive shares of Parent Common Stock as contemplated by Section 1.5, cash in lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 1.5(d) and any dividends or other distributions pursuant to Section 1.7(c); and (b) the stock transfer books of the Company shall be closed with respect to all shares of Company Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. No further transfer of any such shares of Company Common Stock shall be made on such stock transfer books after the Effective Time. If, after the Effective Time, a valid certificate previously representing any shares of Company Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (a Company Stock Certificate) or a Book Entry Share is presented to the Exchange Agent (as defined in Section 1.7) or to the Surviving Corporation or Parent, such Company Stock Certificate or Book Entry Share shall be canceled and shall be exchanged as provided in Section 1.7.

1.7 Exchange of Certificates.

(a) Prior to the Closing Date, Parent shall select The Bank of New York, Parent's transfer agent or another bank or trust company reasonably satisfactory to the Company to act as exchange agent in the Merger (the Exchange Agent) and shall enter into an agreement reasonably acceptable to the Company with the Exchange Agent relating to the services to be performed by the Exchange Agent. At or promptly after the Effective Time, Parent shall cause to be deposited with the Exchange Agent: (i) certificates representing the shares of Parent Common Stock issuable pursuant to Section 1.5; and (ii) cash sufficient to make payments in lieu of fractional shares in accordance with Section 1.5(d). The shares of Parent Common Stock and cash amounts so deposited with the Exchange Agent, together with any dividends or distributions received by the Exchange Agent with respect to such shares of Parent Common Stock, are referred to collectively as the Exchange Fund.

(b) Promptly after the Effective Time, Parent shall cause the Exchange Agent to mail to the Persons who were record holders of Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares immediately prior to the Effective Time: (i) a letter of transmittal in customary form and containing such provisions as Parent may reasonably specify and the Company shall reasonably approve prior to the Effective Time (including a provision confirming that delivery of Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares shall pass, only upon delivery of such Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares to the Exchange Agent); and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares in exchange for certificates representing Parent Common Stock, cash in lieu of any fractional shares pursuant to Section 1.5(d) and any dividends or other distributions pursuant to Section 1.7(c). Upon surrender of a Company Stock Certificate or Book Entry Shares to the Exchange Agent for exchange, together with a duly executed letter of transmittal and such other documents as may be reasonably required by the Exchange Agent or Parent: (A) the holder of such Company Stock

Certificate or Book Entry Shares shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor a certificate representing the number of whole shares of Parent Common Stock that such holder has the right to receive pursuant to the provisions of Section 1.5, cash in lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 1.5(d) and any dividends or other distributions pursuant to Section 1.7(c); and (B) the Company Stock Certificate or Book Entry Shares so surrendered shall be canceled. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 1.7(b), each Company Stock Certificate or Book Entry Shares shall be deemed, from and after the Effective Time, to represent only the right to receive shares of Parent Common Stock as contemplated by Section 1.5 (and cash in lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 1.5(d) and any dividends or other distributions pursuant to Section 1.7(c)). If any Company Stock Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, Parent may, in its reasonable discretion and as a condition to the issuance of any certificate representing Parent Common Stock, require the owner of such lost, stolen or destroyed Company Stock Certificate to provide an appropriate affidavit and to deliver a bond (in such sum as Parent and the Company reasonably agree to direct) as indemnity against any claim that may be made against the Exchange Agent, Parent or the Surviving Corporation with respect to such Company Stock Certificate.

(c) No dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to Parent Common Stock with a record date after the Effective Time shall be paid or otherwise delivered to the holder of any unsurrendered Company Stock Certificate or Book Entry Shares with respect to the shares of Parent Common Stock that such holder has the right to receive in the Merger until such holder surrenders such Company Stock Certificate or Book Entry Shares in accordance with this Section 1.7 (at which time such holder shall be entitled, subject to the effect of applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws, to receive all such dividends and distributions, without interest).

(d) Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains undistributed to holders of Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares as of the date that is one year after the date on which the Merger becomes effective shall be delivered to Parent upon demand, and any holders of Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares who have not theretofore surrendered their Company Stock Certificates or Book Entry Shares in accordance with this Section 1.7 shall thereafter look only to Parent for, and be entitled to receive from Parent, satisfaction of their claims for Parent Common Stock, cash in lieu of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock and any dividends or distributions with respect to shares of Parent Common Stock.

(e) Each of the Exchange Agent, Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from any consideration payable or otherwise deliverable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder or former holder of Company Common Stock such amounts as may be required to be deducted or withheld from such consideration under the Code or any provision of state, local or foreign Tax law or under any other applicable Legal Requirement. To the extent such amounts are so deducted or withheld and timely paid over to the appropriate Governmental Body, (i) such amounts shall be treated for all purposes under this Agreement as having been paid to the Person to whom such amounts would otherwise have been paid, and (ii) Parent, the Exchange Agent or the Surviving Corporation, as the case may be, shall promptly deliver the amounts so deducted or withheld to the applicable taxing or other authority.

(f) Neither Parent nor the Surviving Corporation shall be liable to any holder or former holder of Company Common Stock or to any other Person with respect to any shares of Parent Common Stock (or dividends or distributions with respect thereto), or for any cash amounts, delivered to any public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property law, escheat law or other similar Legal Requirement.

1.8 Tax Consequences. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Merger is intended to constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. The parties to this Agreement adopt this Agreement as a plan of reorganization within the meaning of Sections 1.368-2(g) and 1.368-3(a) of the United States Treasury Regulations. The Company, Parent and Merger Sub will each be a party to the reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(b) of the Code.

1.9 Further Action. If, at any time after the Effective Time, any further action is determined by Parent or the Surviving Corporation to be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this Agreement or to vest the Surviving Corporation with full right, title and possession of and to all rights and property of Merger Sub and the Company, the officers and directors of the Surviving Corporation and Parent shall be fully authorized (in the name of Merger Sub, in the name of the Company and otherwise) to take such action.

provided, however, that prior to the adoption of this Agreement by the Required Company Stockholder Vote, neither this Section 4.4(a) nor any other provision of this Agreement shall prohibit the Company from furnishing nonpublic information regarding the Opnext Corporations to, or entering into discussions and negotiations with, any Person in response to an Acquisition Proposal that is submitted to the Company by such Person after the date hereof (and not withdrawn) if: (A) such Acquisition Proposal did not result from any material breach of, or any action materially inconsistent with, any of the provisions set forth in this Section 4.4(a); (B) the Company Board concludes in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel, that such Acquisition Proposal is reasonably likely to lead to a Company Superior Offer; (C) at least one business day prior to furnishing any such nonpublic information to, or entering into discussions or negotiations with, such Person, the Company gives Parent written notice of the identity of such Person and of the Company's intention to furnish nonpublic information to, or enter into discussions with, such Person, and the Company receives from such Person an executed confidentiality agreement containing provisions (including nondisclosure provisions, use restrictions and non-solicitation) at least as favorable to the Company (in the aggregate) as the provisions of the Confidentiality Agreement as in effect immediately prior to the execution of this Agreement (provided, however, that no such confidentiality agreement need include standstill provisions); and (D) the Company contemporaneously furnishes any such nonpublic information provided to such Person to Parent (to the extent such nonpublic information has not been previously furnished by the Company to Parent).

(b) From the date hereof until the Effective Time or, if earlier, the termination of this Agreement in accordance with its terms, Parent shall not, directly or indirectly, shall cause its Subsidiaries and the respective officers, directors and financial advisers of the Oclaro Corporations to not, directly or indirectly, and shall use its reasonable best efforts to ensure that the other Representatives of the Oclaro Corporations do not, directly or indirectly provided, however, that prior to the approval of the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger by the Required Parent Stockholder Vote, neither this Section 4.4(b) nor any other provision of this Agreement shall prohibit Parent from furnishing nonpublic information regarding the Oclaro Corporations to, or entering into discussions and negotiations with, any Person in response to an Acquisition Proposal that is submitted to Parent by such Person after the date hereof (and not withdrawn) if: (A) such Acquisition Proposal did not result from any material breach of, or any action materially inconsistent with, any of the provisions set forth in this Section 4.4(b); (B) the Parent Board concludes in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel, that such Acquisition Proposal is reasonably likely to lead to a Company Superior Offer; (C) at least one business day prior to furnishing any such nonpublic information to, or entering into discussions or negotiations with, such Person, Parent gives the Company written notice of the identity of such Person and of Parent's intention to furnish nonpublic information to, or enter into discussions with, such Person, and Parent receives from such Person an executed confidentiality agreement containing provisions (including nondisclosure provisions, use restrictions or non-solicitation provisions) at least as favorable to Parent (in the aggregate) as the provisions of the Confidentiality Agreement as in effect immediately prior to the execution of this Agreement (provided, however, that no such confidentiality agreement need include standstill provisions); and (D) Parent contemporaneously furnishes any nonpublic information provided to such Person to the Company (to the extent such nonpublic information has not been previously furnished by Parent to the Company).

(c) Each of Parent and the Company shall promptly (and in no event later than 48 hours after receipt of any Acquisition Proposal with respect to an Oclaro Corporation or an Opnext Corporation, as the case may be, or Acquisition Inquiry with respect to an Oclaro Corporation or an Opnext Corporation, as the case may be) advise the other party to this Agreement orally and in writing of any such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry (including the identity of the Person making or submitting such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry and the terms thereof and copies of all correspondence and other written material sent or provided to such party in connection therewith) that is made or submitted by any Person during the Pre-Closing Period. Each party receiving an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry shall keep the other party reasonably informed with respect to: (i) the status of any such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; and (ii) the status and terms of any material modification or proposed material modification thereto.

(d) Each of Parent and the Company shall immediately cease and cause to be terminated any discussions existing as of the date of this Agreement with any Person that relate to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry.

(e) Each of Parent and the Company agrees not to release or permit the release of any Person from, or to waive or permit the waiver of any provision of, any confidentiality, non-solicitation, no hire, standstill or similar Contract to which any such party or any of its Subsidiaries is a party or under which any such party or any of its Subsidiaries has any rights, and will use its reasonable best efforts to cause each such agreement to be enforced in accordance with its terms at the request of the other party to this Agreement unless, in each case, the Company Board or the Parent Board, as applicable, determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside counsel, that failure to take such action would be a breach of its fiduciary duties to its stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements.

Section 5. ADDITIONAL COVENANTS OF THE PARTIES5.1 Registration Statement; Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

(a) As promptly as practicable after the date of this Agreement (but in any event within 45 days following the date of this Agreement), Parent and the Company shall prepare and cause to be filed with the SEC the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus and Parent shall prepare and cause to be filed with the SEC the Form S-4 Registration Statement, in which the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus will be included as a prospectus. Each of Parent and the Company shall use reasonable best efforts: (i) to cause the Form S-4 Registration Statement and the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus to comply with the applicable rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC; (ii) to promptly notify the other of, cooperate with each other with respect to and respond promptly to any comments of the SEC or its staff; (iii) to have the Form S-4 Registration Statement declared effective under the Securities Act as promptly as practicable after it is filed with the SEC; and (iv) to keep the Form S-4 Registration Statement effective through the Closing in order to permit the consummation of the Merger. Parent shall use reasonable best efforts to cause the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus to be mailed to Parent's stockholders, and the Company shall use reasonable best efforts to cause the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus to be mailed to the Company's stockholders, as promptly as practicable after the Form S-4 Registration Statement is declared effective under the Securities Act. Each of Parent and the Company shall promptly furnish the other party all information concerning such party, its Subsidiaries and stockholders that may be required or reasonably requested in connection with any action contemplated by this Section 5.1. If either Parent or the Company becomes aware of any information that should be disclosed in an amendment or supplement to the Form S-4 Registration Statement or the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus, then such party: (i) shall promptly inform the other party thereof; (ii) shall provide the other party (and its counsel) with a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any amendment or supplement to the Form S-4 Registration Statement or the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus prior to it being filed with the SEC; (iii) shall provide the other party with a copy of such amendment or supplement promptly after it is filed with the SEC; and (iv) shall cooperate, if appropriate, in mailing such amendment or supplement to the stockholders of the Company or Parent.

(b) Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall use reasonable best efforts to obtain all regulatory approvals needed to ensure that the Parent Common Stock to be issued in the Merger will (to the extent required) be registered or qualified or exempt from registration or qualification under the securities laws of every state of the United States in which any registered holder of Company Common Stock has an address of record on the record date for determining the stockholders entitled to notice of and to vote at the Company Stockholders Meeting; provided, however, that Parent shall not be required: (i) to qualify to do business as a foreign corporation in any jurisdiction in which it is not now qualified; or (ii) to file a general consent to service of process in any jurisdiction.

5.2 Company Stockholders Meeting.

(a) Subject to the earlier termination of this Agreement in accordance with Section 8, the Company: (i) shall take all action necessary under all applicable Legal Requirements to call, give notice of and hold a meeting of the holders of Company Common Stock to vote on a proposal to adopt this Agreement (the Company Stockholders Meeting); and (ii) shall submit such proposal to such holders at the Company Stockholders Meeting and shall not submit any other proposal to such holders in connection with the Company's Stockholders Meeting without the prior written consent of Parent. The Company in consultation with Parent shall set a record date for Persons entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Company's Stockholders Meeting and shall not change such record date without the prior written consent of Parent. The Company Stockholders Meeting shall be held (on a date selected by the Company in consultation with Parent) as promptly as practicable after the Form S-4 Registration Statement is declared effective under the Securities Act. The Company shall ensure that all proxies solicited in connection with the Company Stockholders Meeting are solicited in compliance with all applicable Legal Requirements. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Company after consultation with Parent may adjourn or postpone the Company's Stockholders Meeting: (A) to the extent necessary to ensure that any supplement or amendment to the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus that is required by applicable Legal Requirements is timely provided to the Company's stockholders; (B) if as of the time for which the Company Stockholders Meeting is originally scheduled there are insufficient shares of Company Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct the business to be conducted at the Company's Stockholders Meeting; or (C) if additional time is reasonably required to solicit proxies in favor of the adoption of this Agreement.

(b) Subject to Section 5.2(c): (i) the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus shall include a statement to the effect that the Company Board recommends that the Company's stockholders vote to adopt this Agreement at the Company Stockholders Meeting (the recommendation of the Company Board that the Company's stockholders vote to adopt this Agreement being referred to as the Company Board Recommendation); (ii) the Company Board Recommendation shall not be withdrawn or modified in a manner adverse to Parent; (iii) neither the Company Board nor any committee thereof shall: (A) fail to reaffirm the Company Board Recommendation, or fail to publicly state that the Merger and this Agreement are in the best interest of the Company's stockholders, within ten business days after Parent requests in writing that such action be taken; (B) fail to publicly announce, within ten business days after a tender offer or exchange offer relating to the securities of the Company shall have been commenced, a statement disclosing that the Company Board recommends rejection of such tender or exchange offer; or (C) resolve to take any action described in clauses (ii) or (iii) of this sentence (each of the foregoing actions described in clauses (ii) and (iii) being referred to as a Company Change in Recommendation).

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Section 5.2(b) or elsewhere in this Agreement, at any time prior to the adoption of this Agreement by the Required Company Stockholder Vote, the Company Board may effect, or cause the Company to effect, as the case may be, a Company Change in Recommendation or, alternatively, solely with respect to clause (i) of this Section 5.2(c), may terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1(j) and pay Parent the Company Termination Fee in accordance with Section 8.3(b):

(i) if: (A) the Company has not materially breached its obligations under Section 4.4(a) in connection with the Acquisition Proposal referred to in the following clause (B); (B) after the date of this Agreement, an unsolicited, bona fide, written Acquisition Proposal is made to the Company and is not withdrawn; (C) the Company Board determines in its good faith judgment, after consulting with an independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel, that such offer constitutes a Company Superior Offer; (D) the Company Board does not effect, or cause the Company to effect, a Company Change in Recommendation and does not terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1(j), in either case at any time within five business days after Parent receives written notice from the Company confirming that the Company Board has determined that such Acquisition Proposal is a Company Superior Offer; (E) during such five business day period, if requested by Parent, the Company engages in good faith negotiations with Parent to amend this Agreement in such a manner that the offer that was determined to constitute a Company Superior Offer no longer constitutes a Company Superior Offer; (F) at the end of such five business day period, such Acquisition Proposal has not been withdrawn and continues to constitute a Company Superior Offer (taking into account any changes to the terms of this Agreement proposed by Parent as a result of the negotiations required by clause (E) or otherwise); and (G) the Company Board determines in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel, that, in light of such Company Superior Offer, the failure to make a Company Change in Recommendation or, alternatively, terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1(j), would be a breach of the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements; or

(ii) if: (A) other than the development or circumstances contemplated by clause (i) of this Section 5.2(c), a material development or change in circumstances that affects the business, assets or operations of any Opnext Corporation occurs or arises after the date of this Agreement that was neither known to any Opnext Corporation nor reasonably foreseeable to any Opnext Corporation as of the date of this Agreement (such material development or change in circumstances being referred to as a Company Intervening Event); (B) the Company Board determines in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel, that, in light of such Company Intervening Event, the failure to make a Company Change in Recommendation would be a breach of the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements; (C) at least five business days prior to effecting a Company Change in Recommendation, the Company provides Parent with a written notice specifying the facts underlying the Company Board's determination that a Company Intervening Event has occurred and the rationale and basis for such Company Change in Recommendation; (D) during such five-business day period, if requested by Parent, the Company engages in good faith negotiations with Parent to amend this Agreement in such a manner that obviates the need for the Company Board to effect, or cause the Company to effect, a Company Change in Recommendation as a result of such Company Intervening Event; and (E) the Company Board determines in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel and after the conclusion of such five business day period, that, in light of such Company Intervening Event, the failure to make a Company Change in Recommendation would be a breach of the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements (taking into account any changes to the terms of this Agreement proposed by Parent as a result of the negotiations required by clause (D) or otherwise).

(d) Notwithstanding any Company Change in Recommendation, unless earlier terminated in accordance with Section 8.1, this Agreement shall be submitted to the holders of Company's Common Stock at the Company Stockholders' Meeting for the purpose of voting on the adoption of this Agreement and nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to relieve the Company of such obligation.

(e) Nothing contained in this Section 5.2 shall prohibit the Company from: (i) taking, and disclosing to its stockholders, a position contemplated by Rule 14e-2(a) under the Exchange Act or a statement required under Rule 14d-9 under the Exchange Act; or (ii) making any disclosure to stockholders of the Company that is required by applicable Legal Requirements; provided, however, that any disclosure other than: (A) a "stop, look and listen" or similar communication of the type contemplated by Rule 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act; (B) an express rejection of any applicable Acquisition Proposal; or (C) an express reaffirmation of the Company Board Recommendation, shall, in each case, be deemed to be a Company Change in Recommendation.

5.3 Parent Stockholders' Meeting.

(a) Subject to the earlier termination of this Agreement in accordance with Section 8, Parent: (i) shall take all action necessary under all applicable Legal Requirements to call, give notice of and hold a meeting of the holders of Parent Common Stock to vote on a proposal to approve the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger (the Parent Stockholders' Meeting); and (ii) shall submit such proposal to such holders at the Parent Stockholders' Meeting and, except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement (and except for Parent Proposals), shall not submit any other proposal to such holders in connection with the Parent Stockholders' Meeting without the prior written consent of the Company. Parent in consultation with the Company shall set a record date for Persons entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Parent Stockholders' Meeting and shall not change such record date without the prior written consent of the Company. The Parent Stockholders Meeting shall be held on the date that (or, to the extent that Parent and the Company agree, as promptly as practicable after) this Agreement shall have been adopted by the Company's stockholders at the Company Stockholders Meeting. Parent shall ensure that all proxies solicited in connection with the Parent Stockholders Meeting are solicited in compliance with all applicable Legal Requirements. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, Parent after consultation with the Company may adjourn or postpone the Parent Stockholders Meeting: (A) to the extent necessary to ensure that any supplement or amendment to the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus that is required by applicable Legal Requirements is timely provided to Parent's stockholders; (B) if as of the time for which the Parent Stockholders Meeting is originally scheduled there are insufficient shares of Parent Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct the business to be conducted at the Parent Stockholders Meeting; or (C) if additional time is reasonably required to solicit proxies in favor of the approval of the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger.

(b) Subject to Section 5.3(c): (i) the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus shall include a statement to the effect that the Parent Board recommends that Parent's stockholders vote to approve: (A) the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger; and (B) Parent's Certificate of Amendment at the Parent Stockholders Meeting (the recommendation of the Parent Board that Parent's stockholders vote to approve: (A) the issuance of Parent Common Stock in the Merger; and (B) Parent's Certificate of Amendment being collectively referred to as the Parent Board Recommendation); (ii) the Parent Board Recommendation shall not be withdrawn or modified in a manner adverse to the Company; (iii) neither the Parent Board nor any committee thereof shall: (A) fail to reaffirm the Parent Board Recommendation, or fail to publicly state that the Merger and this Agreement and Parent's Certificate of Amendment are in the best interest of Parent's stockholders, within ten business days after the Company requests in writing that such action be taken; (B) fail to publicly announce, within ten business days after a tender offer or exchange offer relating to the securities of Parent shall have been commenced, a statement disclosing that the Parent Board recommends rejection of such tender or exchange offer; or (C) resolve to take any action described in clauses (ii) or (iii) of this sentence (each of the foregoing actions described in clauses (ii) and (iii) being referred to as a Parent Change in Recommendation).

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Section 5.3(b) or elsewhere in this Agreement, at any time prior to the approval of the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger by the Required Parent Stockholder Vote, the Parent Board may effect, or cause Parent to effect, as the case may be, a Parent Change in Recommendation or, alternatively, solely with respect to clause (i) of this Section 5.3(c), may terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1(k) and pay the Company the Parent Termination Fee in accordance with Section 8.3(b):

(i) if: (A) Parent has not materially breached its obligations under Section 4.4(b) in connection with the Acquisition Proposal referred to in the following clause (B); (B) after the date of this Agreement, an unsolicited, bona fide, written Acquisition Proposal is made to Parent and is not withdrawn; (C) the Parent Board determines in its good faith judgment, after consulting with an independent financial advisor and outside legal counsel, that such offer constitutes a Parent Superior Offer; (D) the Parent Board does not effect, or cause Parent to effect, a Parent Change in Recommendation and does not terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1(k), in either case at any time within five business days after the Company receives written notice from Parent confirming that the Parent Board has determined that such Acquisition Proposal is a Parent Superior Offer; (E) during such five business day period, if requested by the Company, Parent engages in good faith negotiations with the Company to amend this Agreement in such a manner that the offer that was determined to constitute a Parent Superior Offer no longer constitutes a Parent Superior Offer; (F) at the end of such five business day period, such Acquisition Proposal has not been withdrawn and continues to constitute a Parent

Superior Offer (taking into account any changes to the terms of this Agreement proposed by the Company as a result of the negotiations required by clause (E) or otherwise); and (G) the Parent Board determines in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel, that, in light of such Parent Superior Offer, the failure to make a Parent Change in Recommendation or, alternatively, terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.1(k), would be a breach of the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements; or

(ii) if: (A) other than the development or circumstances contemplated by clause (i) of this Section 5.3(c), a material development or change in circumstances that affects the business, assets or operations of any Oclaro Corporation occurs or arises after the date of this Agreement that was neither known to any Oclaro Corporation nor reasonably foreseeable to any Oclaro Corporation as of the date of this Agreement (such material development or change in circumstances being referred to as a Parent Intervening Event); (B) the Parent Board determines in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel, that, in light of such Parent Intervening Event, the failure to make a Parent Change in Recommendation would be a breach of the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements; (C) at least five business days prior to effecting a Parent Change in Recommendation, Parent provides the Company with a written notice specifying the facts underlying the Parent Board's determination that a Parent Intervening Event has occurred and the rationale and basis for such Parent Change in Recommendation; (D) during such five-business day period, if requested by the Company, Parent engages in good faith negotiations with the Company to amend this Agreement in such a manner that obviates the need for the Parent Board to effect, or cause Parent to effect, a Parent Change in Recommendation as a result of such Parent Intervening Event; and (E) the Parent Board determines in good faith, after having consulted with its outside legal counsel and after the conclusion of such five business day period, that, in light of such Parent Intervening Event, the failure to make a Parent Change in Recommendation would be a breach of the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Legal Requirements (taking into account any changes to the terms of this Agreement proposed by the Company as a result of the negotiations required by clause (D) or otherwise).

(d) Notwithstanding any Parent Change in Recommendation, unless earlier terminated in accordance with Section 8.1, this Agreement shall be submitted to the holders of Parent Common Stock at the Parent Stockholders Meeting for the purpose of voting on the approval of the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger and nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to relieve Parent of such obligation.

(e) Nothing contained in this Section 5.3 shall prohibit Parent from: (i) taking, and disclosing to its stockholders, a position contemplated by Rule 14e-2(a) under the Exchange Act or a statement required under Rule 14d-9 under the Exchange Act; or (ii) making any disclosure to stockholders of Parent that is required by applicable Legal Requirements; provided, however, that any disclosure other than (A) a stop, look and listen or similar communication of the type contemplated by Rule 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act; (B) an express rejection of any applicable Acquisition Proposal; or (C) an express reaffirmation of the Parent Board Recommendation, shall, in each case, be deemed to be a Parent Change in Recommendation.

5.4 Company Options; Company RSUs; and Company SARs.

(a) At the Effective Time, each Company Option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the Effective Time, whether or not vested, shall be converted into and become an option to purchase Parent Common Stock, and Parent shall assume such Company Option in accordance with the terms (as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time) of the Company Equity Plan and the terms of the stock option agreement by which such Company Option is evidenced. All rights with respect to Company Common Stock under Company Options assumed by Parent shall thereupon be converted into options with respect to Parent Common Stock. Accordingly, from and after the Effective Time: (A) each Company Option assumed by Parent may be exercised solely for shares of Parent Common Stock; (B) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock subject to each Company Option assumed by Parent shall be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Company Common Stock that were subject to such Company Option immediately prior to the Effective Time by the Exchange Ratio, and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Parent Common Stock; (C) the per share exercise price for the Parent Common Stock issuable upon exercise of each Company Option assumed by Parent shall be determined by dividing the per share exercise price of Company Common Stock subject to such Company Option, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, by the Exchange Ratio, and rounding the resulting exercise price up to the nearest whole cent; and (D) except as provided in the foregoing clauses (A), (B) and (C), any restriction on the exercise of any Company Option assumed by Parent shall continue in full force and effect and the term, exercisability, vesting schedule, terms of acceleration and all other provisions of such Company Option shall remain subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Company Equity Plan and the applicable stock option agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Company Option immediately prior to the Effective Time; provided, however, that Parent Board or a committee thereof shall succeed to the authority and responsibility of the Company Board or any committee thereof with respect to each Company Option assumed by Parent.

(b) Effective as of the Effective Time, each Company RSU with respect to which shares of Company Common Stock remain unvested or unissued as of the Effective Time shall be converted automatically into a restricted stock unit reflecting Parent Common Stock and shall remain subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Company Equity Plan and the applicable restricted stock unit agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Company RSU immediately prior to the Effective Time, including the vesting conditions and terms of acceleration, except that the number of shares of Parent Common Stock subject to each such converted Company RSU shall be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to such Company RSU by the Exchange Ratio and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Parent Common Stock. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 5.4(b) or elsewhere in this Agreement, each Company RSU that is vested as of the Effective Time and, pursuant to the terms of the applicable restricted stock unit agreement evidencing such Company RSU, would otherwise be paid to the holder in shares of Company Common Stock upon or by reference to a Change in Control (as defined in such restricted stock unit agreement), shall be paid or deemed paid in shares of Company Common Stock immediately prior to the Effective Time, and the holder thereof shall thereupon be entitled to receive the consideration set forth in Section 1.5(a)(iii) with respect to each such share of Company Common Stock on the terms and conditions set forth therein.

(c) Effective as of the Effective Time, each Company SAR that is outstanding and that remains unsettled as of the Effective Time shall be converted automatically into a stock appreciation right with respect to Parent Common Stock and shall remain subject to the same terms and conditions set forth in the Company Equity Plan and the applicable stock appreciation right agreement, employment agreement or other agreement evidencing such Company SAR immediately prior to the Effective Time, including the vesting conditions, form of payment and terms of acceleration, except that: (i) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock subject to each such converted Company SAR (and, if applicable, payable upon settlement thereof) shall be determined by multiplying the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to (and, if applicable, payable upon settlement of) such Company SAR by the Exchange Ratio and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Parent Common Stock; and (ii) the per share exercise price for each Company SAR assumed by Parent shall be determined by dividing the per share exercise price of such Company SAR, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, by the Exchange Ratio, and rounding the resulting exercise price up to the nearest whole cent.

(d) Parent shall file with the SEC, no later than 15 days after the date on which the Merger becomes effective, a registration statement on Form S-8, if available for use by Parent, relating to the shares of Parent Common Stock issuable with respect to the Company Options assumed by Parent in accordance with Section 5.4(a), the Company RSUs converted in accordance with Section 5.4(b) and the Company SARs converted in accordance with Section 5.4(c).

(e) At the Effective Time, Parent may (if Parent determines that it desires to do so) assume the Company Equity Plan. If Parent elects to assume the Company Equity Plan, then, under the Company Equity Plan, Parent shall be entitled to grant stock awards, to the extent permissible under applicable Legal Requirements, using the share reserves of the Company Equity Plan as of the Effective Time (including any shares returned to such share reserves as a result of the termination of Company Options that are assumed by Parent pursuant to Section 5.4(a)), except that: (i) stock covered by such awards shall be shares of Parent Common Stock; (ii) all references in the Company Equity Plan to a number of shares of Company Common Stock shall be deemed amended to refer instead to a number of shares of Parent Common Stock determined by multiplying the number of referenced shares of Company Common Stock by the Exchange Ratio, and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Parent Common Stock; and (iii) the Parent Board or a committee thereof shall succeed to the authority and responsibility of the Company Board or any committee thereof with respect to the administration of the Company Equity Plan.

(f) Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall take such action as it determines to be necessary (under the Company Equity Plan and otherwise) to effectuate the provisions of this Section 5.4.

5.5 Employee Benefits.

(a) For a period of at least one year following the Effective Time, Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Corporation (or any Subsidiary thereof) to, provide each Continuing Employee total compensation and employee benefits (other than with respect to equity-based compensation) that are at least substantially comparable in the aggregate to the total compensation and employee benefits provided to similarly situated employees of Parent.

(b) Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Corporation to, provide that, subject to any applicable plan provisions or contractual requirements as in effect on the date of this Agreement or Legal Requirements: (i) all Continuing Employees shall be eligible to participate in each employee benefit plan as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA and each vacation and severance plan (that is not an employee benefit plan as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA) maintained by Parent or the Surviving Corporation (or any Subsidiary thereof) to the same extent as similarly situated employees of Parent; and (ii) for purposes of determining a Continuing Employee's eligibility to participate in such plans (but not for purposes of benefit accrual), such Continuing Employee shall receive credit under such plans for his or her years of continuous service with the Opnext Corporations prior to the Effective Time.

(c) With respect to each employee benefit plan as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA and each vacation and severance plan (that is not an employee benefit plan as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA) maintained by Parent or the Surviving Corporation (or any Subsidiary thereof) (collectively, the Parent Benefit Plans) in which any Continuing Employee will participate after the Effective Time, Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Corporation to, recognize all service of the Continuing Employees with the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company, as the case may be, for purposes of eligibility, vesting and level of benefits, but not for purposes of benefit accrual under any defined benefit pension plan, in any such Parent Benefit Plan to the same extent as such service was taken into account under a corresponding Company Employee Plan as of the Effective Time. In addition, Parent shall or shall cause the Surviving Corporation to: (i) waive all limitations as to preexisting conditions, exclusions and waiting periods with respect to participation and coverage requirements (provided that such preexisting condition limitations, exclusions or waiting periods can legally be waived by Parent or the Surviving Corporation without the consent of any insurance carrier) applicable to the Continuing Employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents under any Parent Benefit Plan that is a welfare benefit plan in which such Continuing Employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents may be eligible to participate after the Effective Time, other than preexisting condition limitations, exclusions or waiting periods that are already in effect with respect to such Continuing Employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents and that have not been satisfied or waived as of the Effective Time under any welfare benefit plan maintained for the Continuing Employees immediately prior to the Effective Time; and (ii) provide Continuing Employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents with credit for the plan year in which the Effective Time occurs for any co-payments, annual out-of-pocket limits and deductibles for expenses incurred prior to the Effective Time in satisfying any applicable deductible or out-of-pocket requirements under any Parent Benefit Plan that is a welfare plan in which such Continuing Employees and their spouses, domestic partners and eligible dependents may be eligible to participate after the Effective Time (provided that such credits can legally be provided by Parent or the Surviving Corporation without the consent of any insurance carrier).

(d) Nothing in this Section 5.5 or elsewhere in this Agreement shall be construed to create: (i) a right in any Company Associate to employment with Parent, the Surviving Corporation or any other Subsidiary of Parent; or (ii) with any Company Associate any third-party rights, benefits or remedies of any nature whatsoever. Except for Indemnified Parties (as defined in Section 5.6) to the extent of their respective rights pursuant to Section 5.6, no Company Associate, and no Continuing Employee, shall be deemed to be a third party beneficiary of this Agreement. No provision of this Section 5.5 shall modify or amend any other agreement, plan, program or document unless this Agreement expressly states that the provision amends that other agreement, plan, program or document.

(e) If requested by Parent in writing at least ten days prior to the Closing, the Company shall take (or cause to be taken) all actions necessary or appropriate to terminate, effective no later than the day prior to the date on which the Merger becomes effective, any Company Employee Plan that contains a cash or deferred arrangement intended to qualify under Section 401(k) of the Code (a Company 401(k) Plan). If the Company is required to terminate any Company 401(k) Plan, then the Company shall provide to Parent prior to the Closing Date written evidence of the adoption by the Company Board of resolutions authorizing the termination of such Company 401(k) Plan (the form and substance of which resolutions shall be subject to the reasonable review of Parent).

(f) Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall not, and shall ensure that its Subsidiaries and the respective Representatives of the Opnext Corporations do not, make any communications with any employees of the Opnext Corporations regarding post-Closing employment matters, including post-Closing employee benefits and compensation, which are inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, without the prior approval of Parent, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

5.6 Indemnification of Officers and Directors.

(a) For a period of six years after the Effective Time, Parent shall cause the Surviving Corporation and its Subsidiaries to indemnify their respective current or former directors and officers and any person who becomes a director or officer of any of the Opnext Corporations prior to the Effective Time (the Indemnified Parties) to the fullest extent that applicable Legal Requirements permit a company to indemnify its own directors and officers and in compliance with any agreements related to such indemnification that are in effect as of the date hereof, including any provision therein relating to advancement of expenses.

(b) For a period of six years following the Effective Time, Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall cause to be maintained in effect the existing policy of Company's directors and officers liability insurance (or a comparable replacement policy) (the D&O Policy) covering claims arising from facts or events that occurred at or prior to the Effective Time to the extent that such claims are of the type covered by the D&O Policy (including for acts or omissions occurring in connection with this Agreement and the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions to the extent that such acts or omissions are covered by the D&O Policy) and covering each Indemnified Party who is covered as of the Effective Time by the D&O Policy, in any case on terms with respect to coverage and amounts that are no less favorable in the aggregate than those terms in effect on the date hereof; provided, however, that in no event shall Parent or the Surviving Corporation be required to expend in any one year an amount in excess of 200% of the current annual premium paid by the Company (which annual premium is set forth on Part 5.6(b) of the Company Disclosure Schedule) for such insurance (such 200% amount, the Maximum Annual Premium); and provided further, however, that if the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed the Maximum Annual Premium, Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall be obligated to obtain a policy with the greatest comparable coverage available for a cost not exceeding the Maximum Annual Premium. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, in lieu of its obligations under the first sentence of this Section 5.6(b), Parent may purchase a six-year tail prepaid policy on the D&O Policy on terms with respect to coverage and amounts no less favorable in the aggregate than the D&O Policy, and in the event that Parent shall purchase such a tail policy, Parent and the Surviving Corporation shall maintain such tail policy in full force and effect and continue to honor their respective obligations thereunder, in lieu of all other obligations of Parent and the Surviving Corporation under the first sentence of this Section 5.6(b) for so long as such tail policy shall be maintained in full force and effect.

(c) The obligations under this Section 5.6 shall not be terminated, amended or otherwise modified in such a manner as to adversely affect any Indemnified Party (or any other person who is a beneficiary under the D&O Policy or the tail policy referred to in Section 5.6(b)) (and any of such person's heirs and representatives)) without the prior written consent of such affected Indemnified Party or other person who is a beneficiary under the D&O Policy or the tail policy referred to in Section 5.6(b) (and, after the death of any of the foregoing persons, such person's heirs and representatives). Each of the Indemnified Parties or other persons who are beneficiaries under the D&O Policy or the tail policy referred to in Section 5.6(b) (and, after the death of any of the foregoing persons, such person's heirs and representatives) are intended to be third party beneficiaries of this Section 5.6, with full rights of enforcement as if a party thereto. The rights of the Indemnified Parties (and other persons who are beneficiaries under the D&O Policy or the tail policy referred to in Section 5.6(b) (and their heirs and representatives)) under this Section 5.6 shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other rights that such persons may have under the certificate or articles of incorporation, bylaws or other equivalent organizational documents, any and all indemnification agreements of or entered into by Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or applicable Legal Requirement (whether at law or in equity).

(d) In the event that Parent, the Surviving Corporation or any of their respective Subsidiaries (or any of their respective successors or assigns) shall consolidate or merge with any other Person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity in such consolidation or merger, then in each case, to the extent necessary to protect the rights of the Indemnified Parties, proper provision shall be made so that the continuing or surviving corporation or entity (or its successors or assigns, if applicable) shall assume the obligations set forth in this Section 5.6.

5.7 Regulatory Approvals and Related Matters.

(a) Each party shall use reasonable best efforts to file, as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement (and in any event no later than 15 business days after the date hereof), all notices, reports and other documents required to be filed by such party with any Governmental Body with respect to the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions, and to submit promptly any additional information requested by any such Governmental Body. Requirement requires further approval of the stockholders of the Company without the further approval of such stockholders; and (b) after any such approval of the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock in the Merger by Parent's stockholders, no amendment shall be made which by law or regulation of the NASDAQ Global Select Market requires further approval of Parent's stockholders without the further approval of such stockholders. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the parties hereto.

9.2 Waiver.

(a) Subject to Sections 9.2(b) and 9.2(c), at any time prior to the Effective Time, any party hereto may: (i) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties to this Agreement; (ii) waive any inaccuracy in or breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or obligation of the other party in this Agreement or in any document delivered pursuant to this Agreement; and (iii) waive compliance with any covenant, obligation or condition for the benefit of such party contained in this Agreement.

(b) No failure on the part of any party to exercise any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Agreement, and no delay on the part of any party in exercising any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Agreement, shall operate as a waiver of such power, right, privilege or remedy; and no single or partial exercise of any such power, right, privilege or remedy shall preclude any other or further exercise thereof or of any other power, right, privilege or remedy.

(c) No party shall be deemed to have waived any claim arising out of this Agreement, or any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Agreement, unless the waiver of such claim, power, right, privilege or remedy is expressly set forth in a written instrument duly executed and delivered on behalf of such party; and any such waiver shall not be applicable or have any effect except in the specific instance in which it is given.

9.3 No Survival of Representations and Warranties. None of the representations and warranties contained in this Agreement or in any certificate delivered pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the Merger.

9.4 Entire Agreement; Counterparts; Exchanges by Facsimile or Electronic Delivery. This Agreement and the other agreements, exhibits and disclosure schedules referred to herein constitute the entire agreement and supersede all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among or between any of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof; provided, however, that, except as otherwise expressly set forth in this Agreement, the Confidentiality Agreement shall not be superseded and shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with its terms (it being understood that no provision in this Agreement or in the Confidentiality Agreement shall limit any party's rights or remedies in the case of fraud). This Agreement may be executed in separate counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument. 9.5 Applicable Law; Jurisdiction; Specific Performance; Remedies. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur and that the parties would not have any adequate remedy at law in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement, this being in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity (and each party hereby waives any requirement for the securing or posting of any bond in connection with such remedy). All rights and remedies existing under this Agreement are cumulative to, and not exclusive of, any rights or remedies otherwise available. The parties hereto further agree not to assert that a remedy of specific enforcement is unenforceable, invalid, contrary to Legal Requirements or inequitable for any reason, and agree not to assert that a remedy of monetary damages would provide an adequate remedy.

9.6 Disclosure Schedules. The Company Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in separate parts corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections contained in Section 2. The Parent Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in separate parts corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections contained in Section 3. The Company Disclosure Schedule and Parent Disclosure Schedule shall each be delivered as of the date hereof, and no amendments or modifications thereto shall be made. Any purported update or modification to the Company Disclosure Schedule or Parent Disclosure Schedule after the date hereof shall be disregarded.

9.8 Assignability; No Third Party Rights. This Agreement shall be binding upon, and shall be enforceable by and inure solely to the benefit of, the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns; provided, however, that neither this Agreement nor any party's rights or obligations hereunder may be assigned or delegated by such party without the prior written consent of the other parties, and any attempted assignment or delegation of this Agreement or any of such rights or obligations by any party without the prior written consent of the other parties shall be void and of no effect. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto) any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement, except (i) as specifically provided in Section 5.6 and (ii) after the Effective Time, with respect to the payment of consideration to holders of Company Common Stock pursuant to Section 1 hereof.

any attempted or purported assignment or delegation of any of such interests or obligations shall be void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Voting Agreement shall be binding upon Stockholder and Stockholder's heirs, estate, executors and personal representatives and Stockholder's successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of the Company and its successors and assigns. Without limiting any of the restrictions set forth in Section 2, Section 3 or elsewhere in this Voting Agreement, this Voting Agreement shall be binding upon any Person to whom any Subject Securities are transferred. Nothing in this Voting Agreement is intended to confer on any Person (other than Parent and its successors and assigns) any rights or remedies of any nature.

Specific Performance. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Voting Agreement were not performed in accordance with its specific terms or were otherwise breached. Stockholder agrees that, in the event of any breach or threatened breach by Stockholder of any covenant or obligation contained in this Voting Agreement, the Company shall be entitled (in addition to any other remedy that may be available to it, including monetary damages) to seek and obtain: (a) a decree or order of specific performance to enforce the observance and performance of such covenant or obligation; and (b) an injunction restraining such breach or threatened breach. Stockholder further agrees that neither the Company nor any other Person shall be required to obtain, furnish or post any bond or similar instrument in connection with or as a condition to obtaining any remedy referred to in this Section 5.9, and Stockholder irrevocably waives any right he or it may have to require the obtaining, furnishing or posting of any such bond or similar instrument.

Attorneys' Fees. If any Legal Proceeding relating to this Voting Agreement or the enforcement of any provision of this Voting Agreement is brought against Stockholder, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover reasonable attorneys' fees, costs and disbursements (in addition to any other relief to which the prevailing party may be entitled).

Non-Exclusivity. The rights and remedies of the Company under this Voting Agreement are not exclusive of or limited by any other rights or remedies which it may have, whether at law, in equity, by contract or otherwise, all of which shall be cumulative (and not alternative).

Governing Law; Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial. This Voting Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws thereof. In any action between any of the parties arising out of or relating to this Voting Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Voting Agreement, each of the parties: (a) irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Chancery Court of the State of Delaware; (b) irrevocably waives the right to trial by jury; and (c) irrevocably consents to service of process by first class certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepared, to the address at which Stockholder or the Company, as the case may be, is to receive notice in accordance with Section 5.4.

Counterparts; Exchanges by Facsimile or Other Electronic Delivery. This Voting Agreement may be executed in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but both such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. The exchange of a fully executed Voting Agreement (in counterparts or otherwise) by facsimile or other electronic transmission shall be sufficient to bind the parties to the terms and conditions of this Voting Agreement.

Captions. The captions contained in this Voting Agreement are for convenience of reference only, shall not be deemed to be a part of this Voting Agreement and shall not be referred to in connection with the construction or interpretation of this Voting Agreement.

Waiver. Subject to the remainder of this Section 5.15, at any time prior to the Expiration Date, any party hereto may: (a) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties to this Voting Agreement; (b) waive any inaccuracy in or breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or obligation of the other party in this Voting Agreement or in any document delivered pursuant to this Voting Agreement; and (iii) waive compliance with any covenant, obligation or condition for the benefit of such party contained in this Voting Agreement. No failure on the part of the Company to exercise any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Voting Agreement, and no delay on the part of the Company in exercising any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Voting Agreement, shall operate as a waiver of such power, right, privilege or remedy; and no single or partial exercise of any such power, right, privilege or remedy shall preclude any other or further exercise thereof or of any other power, right, privilege or remedy. The Company shall not be deemed to have waived any claim available to the Company arising out of this Voting Agreement, or any power, right, privilege or remedy of the Company under this Voting Agreement, unless the waiver of such claim, power, right, privilege or remedy is expressly set forth in a written instrument duly executed and delivered on behalf of the Company; and any such waiver shall not be applicable or have any effect except in the specific instance in which it is given.

Independence of Obligations. The covenants and obligations of Stockholder set forth in this Voting Agreement shall be construed as independent of any other Contract between Stockholder, on the one hand, and the Company or Parent, on the other. The existence of any claim or cause of action by Stockholder against the Company or Parent shall not constitute a defense to the enforcement of any of such covenants or obligations against Stockholder. Nothing in this Voting Agreement shall limit any of the rights or remedies of the Company under the Merger Agreement, or any of the rights or remedies of the Company or any of the obligations of Stockholder under any agreement between Stockholder and the Company or any certificate or instrument executed by Stockholder in favor of the Company; and nothing in the Merger Agreement or in any other such agreement, certificate or instrument, shall limit any of the rights or remedies of the Company or any of the obligations of Stockholder under this Voting Agreement.

Other Capacities. Notwithstanding any provision of this Voting Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Voting Agreement shall limit or restrict Stockholder or any of its directors, officers, employees or other representatives or affiliates from acting in Stockholder's or such person's capacity as a director or officer of Parent (it being understood that this Voting Agreement shall apply to Stockholder solely in Stockholder's capacity as a stockholder of Parent).

Termination. Unless earlier terminated, this Voting Agreement shall terminate upon the Expiration Date, and thereupon shall be null and void and of no effect.

Construction.

For purposes of this Voting Agreement, whenever the context requires: the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa; the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter genders; the feminine gender shall include the masculine and neuter genders; and the neuter gender shall include masculine and feminine genders.

The parties agree that any rule of construction to the effect that ambiguities are to be resolved against the drafting party shall not be applied in the construction or interpretation of this Voting Agreement.

As used in this Voting Agreement, the words include and including, and variations thereof, shall not be deemed to be terms of limitation, but rather shall be deemed to be followed by the words without limitation.

Except as otherwise indicated, all references in this Voting Agreement to Sections and Exhibits are intended to refer to Sections of this Voting Agreement and Exhibits to this Voting Agreement.

5.8 Assignment; Binding Effect; No Third Party Rights. Except as provided herein, neither this Voting Agreement nor any of the interests or obligations hereunder may be assigned or delegated by Stockholder, and any attempted or purported assignment or delegation of any of such interests or obligations shall be void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Voting Agreement shall be binding upon Stockholder and Stockholder's heirs, estate, executors and personal representatives and Stockholder's successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of Parent and its successors and assigns. We have not made or been provided with any independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of Oclaro or Opnext, nor have we made any physical inspection of the properties or assets of Oclaro or Opnext. We have not evaluated the solvency or fair value of Oclaro, Opnext or the combined companies under any state, federal or other laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or similar matters. We have assumed, at your direction, that the Merger will be consummated in accordance with its terms, without waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement and that, in the course of obtaining the necessary governmental, regulatory and other approvals, consents, releases and waivers for the Merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition will be imposed that would have an adverse effect on Oclaro or Opnext or the contemplated benefits of the Merger. We also have assumed, at your direction, that the Merger will qualify for federal income tax purposes as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

We express no view or opinion as to any terms or other aspects of the Merger (other than the Exchange Ratio to the extent expressly specified herein), including, without limitation, the form or structure of the Merger. Our opinion is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to Oclaro of the Exchange Ratio provided for in the Merger, and no opinion or view is expressed with respect to any consideration received in connection with the Merger by the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of any party. In addition, no opinion or view is expressed with respect to the fairness of the amount, nature or any other aspect of any compensation to any of the officers, directors or employees of any party to the Merger, or class of such persons, relative to the Exchange Ratio. Furthermore, no opinion or view is expressed as to the relative merits of the Merger in comparison to other strategies or transactions that might be available to Oclaro or in which Oclaro might engage or as to the underlying business decision of Oclaro to proceed with or effect the Merger. We are not expressing any opinion as to what the value of Oclaro Common Stock actually will be when issued or the prices at which Oclaro Common Stock will trade at any time, including following announcement or consummation of the Merger.

This opinion is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to members of the Board of Directors as to whether they should approve the Merger or the Merger Agreement, and we express no opinion or recommendation as to how any stockholder should vote or act in connection with the Merger or any related matter.

We have acted as financial advisor to the Board of Directors of Oclaro in connection with the Merger and will receive fees for our services, a portion of which is payable in connection with our conducting an analysis for purposes of determining whether we can render an opinion and a significant portion of which is contingent upon consummation of the Merger. In addition, Oclaro has agreed to reimburse our expenses and indemnify us against certain liabilities arising out of our engagement.

We and our affiliates in the past have provided and in the future may provide investment banking and other financial services to Oclaro and have received or in the future may receive compensation for the rendering of these services, including having acted as co-manager on an equity offering by Oclaro on May 6, 2010.

It is understood that this letter is for the benefit and use of the Board of Directors of Oclaro (in its capacity as such) in connection with and for purposes of its evaluation of the Merger and may not be used for any other purpose without our prior written consent, except that this opinion, may, if required by law, be included in its entirety in any proxy or other information statement or registration statement to be mailed to stockholders of Oclaro in connection with the Merger.

Our opinion is necessarily based on financial, economic, monetary, market and other conditions and circumstances as they exist and can be evaluated on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. It should be understood that subsequent developments may affect this opinion, and we do not have any obligation to update, revise, or reaffirm this opinion. The issuance of this opinion was approved by our Opinion Committee.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, including the various assumptions and limitations set forth herein, we are of the opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Exchange Ratio provided for in the Merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to Oclaro.

Very truly yours,

Members of the Board:

We understand that Opnext, Inc. (Opnext or the Company), Oclaro, Inc. (Acquiror), and Tahoe Acquisition Sub, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Acquiror (Merger Sub) plan to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the Merger Agreement), which provides for, among other things, the acquisition of Opnext by Acquiror (the Merger). Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, Merger Sub will be merged with and into Opnext, Opnext will be the surviving corporation in the Merger and each issued and outstanding share of common stock, par value $.01 per share, of Opnext (Company Common Stock), other than those shares of Company Common Stock which are not being converted into the right to receive the merger consideration under the Merger Agreement, will be converted into the right to receive 0.42 shares of common stock of Acquiror (the Exchange Ratio). The terms and conditions of the Merger are fully set forth in the Merger Agreement.

You have asked us whether, in our opinion, as investment bankers, the Exchange Ratio is fair to the holders of Company Common Stock from a financial point of view.

statements made available to us. We have further relied, at your direction and with your consent, upon the assurances of the management of Opnext that they are not aware of any facts that would make any such information inaccurate, incomplete or misleading.

In addition, at your direction, we have also relied, without assuming responsibility or liability for independent verification, upon the views of the management of Opnext and Acquiror relating to the strategic, financial and operational benefits, and operating cost savings (including the amount, timing and achievability thereof) anticipated to result from the Merger.

We have not been asked to undertake, and have not undertaken, an independent verification of any information provided to or reviewed by us, nor have we been furnished with any such verification and we do not assume any responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness thereof. We did not conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or assets of Opnext or Acquiror. We did not make an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of Opnext or Acquiror, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals, nor have we evaluated the solvency of Opnext or Acquiror under any state or federal laws.

We also have assumed, at your direction and with your consent, that the final executed form of the Merger Agreement will not differ in any material respects from the latest drafts provided to us, and the consummation of the Merger will be effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, without waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement, and that, in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third-party consents and approvals (contractual or otherwise) for the Merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition will be imposed that would have an adverse effect on Opnext or Acquiror or the contemplated benefits of the Merger. In addition, at your direction, we have assumed that the Merger will qualify as a tax-free reorganization for U.S. federal income tax purposes. We are not legal, tax or regulatory advisors and have relied upon, without independent verification, the assessment of Opnext and its legal, tax and regulatory advisors with respect to such matters.

We have not considered the relative merits of the Merger as compared to any other business plan or opportunity that might be available to Opnext or the effect of any other arrangement in which Opnext might engage. Our opinion is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Company Common Stock of the Exchange Ratio, and we express no opinion as to the fairness of the Merger to the holders of any other class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of Opnext or as to the underlying decision by Opnext to engage in the Merger. Our opinion does not address any other aspect or implication of the Merger, the Merger Agreement, or any other agreement or understanding entered into in connection with the Merger or otherwise. We also express no opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation paid to any of Opnext's officers, directors or employees, or any class of such persons, relative to the compensation to the public stockholders of Opnext. Our opinion is necessarily based upon economic, market, monetary, regulatory and other conditions as they exist and can be evaluated, and the information made available to us, as of the date hereof. We express no opinion as to the prices or trading ranges at which Company Common Stock or Acquiror's common stock will trade at any time, either before or after consummation of the Merger. Furthermore, we are not expressing any opinion as to the impact of the Merger on the solvency or viability of the surviving corporation in the Merger, the ability of the surviving corporation to pay its obligations when they become due, or as to the value of Acquiror's common stock at the time it is issued to Opnext's stockholders.

This opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how such holder should vote with respect to the Merger or any other matter, and should not be relied upon by any stockholder as such. We assume no responsibility for updating or revising our opinion based on circumstances or events occurring after the date hereof. This opinion has been approved by a fairness committee in accordance with established procedures.

This opinion is provided to the Board of Directors of Opnext in connection with and for the purposes of its evaluation of the Merger only and is not a recommendation as to any action the Board of Directors should take with respect to the Merger or any aspect thereof. Any summary or description of this opinion in such documents shall require our prior written approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld.

We have acted as financial advisor to Opnext with respect to the Merger and will receive a fee from Opnext for our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the Merger. In addition, Opnext has agreed to reimburse us for out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify us for certain liabilities arising out of the performance of such services (including the rendering of this opinion). In addition, we have performed other investment banking and financial advisory services for Opnext in the past for which we have received customary compensation. In the ordinary course of our and our affiliates' businesses, we and our affiliates may actively trade or hold the securities of Opnext or any of the affiliates of Opnext or Acquiror for our or their own account or for others and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.
