- 1 Volumes above include synthetic oil and gas production and does not consider the production of Extended Well Tests (EWT) in exploratory blocks in Brazil, since they refer to exploratory areas, without declaration of commerciality, consequently with no associated reserves. Production does not include volumes of injected gas either. In addition, this volume does not include Bolivia's production, since Article 357 of the Bolivian Constitution (enacted on 07/02/2009) prohibits concessionaires from disclosing reserves.

Graph 1 Changes in Proved Reserves during 2018 (ANP/SPE criteria)

Petrobras succeeded to replace 96% of the produced volume, disregarding the effects of the divestments carried out in 2018, mainly due to drilling of new wells, positive responses to water injection and to the good performance of reservoirs in the pre-salt of Santos and Campos basins. The ratio between proved reserves and produced volume is 13.9 years.
