Corning Announces Fourth-Quarter Results

CORNING, N.Y. -- Corning Incorporated (NYSE:GLW) today announced fourth-quarter sales of $1.2 billion and a net loss of $32 million, or $0.02 per share. The net loss includes net special charges of $371 million, or $0.24 per share.

Excluding these special charges, Corning's fourth-quarter net income would have been $339 million, or $0.22 per share. These are non-GAAP financial measures. These and all non-GAAP financial measures are reconciled on the company's investor relations Web site and in attachments to this news release.

Wendell P. Weeks, president and chief executive officer, said, "Our solid fourth-quarter performance ended 2005 on a very positive note for Corning. We again met our quarterly sales and EPS guidance before special items, our gross margin remained strong and equity earnings contributed significantly to our positive results."

Corning's fourth-quarter results were impacted by net after-tax special charges of $371 million which primarily included the following non-cash items:

- . A $443 million tax-expense charge primarily to increase the valuation allowance against Corning's U.S. deferred tax assets. This charge reduced Corning's net deferred tax assets to zero.
- . A pretax and after-tax gain of $84 million related to the release of translation capital in the final liquidation of a wholly owned foreign subsidiary.

Full-Year Operating Results

For the full year, Corning recorded sales of $4.58 billion, an increase of 19 percent over 2004 sales of $3.85 billion. The increase was the result of strong growth in Display Technologies and more modest increases in the Telecommunications and Environmental Technologies segments. The company had net income of $585 million or $0.38 per share versus a net loss of $2.17 billion or $1.56 per share in 2004. Corning's 2005 and 2004 net income included significant net special charges. Excluding these charges, Corning's earnings for 2005 increased to $1.3 billion or $0.85 per share compared to $674 million or $0.45 per share in 2004. These are non-GAAP financial measures.

"This past year was extremely gratifying for our shareholders, our employees and our management team," Weeks said. "This was the third consecutive year in which we improved our profitability before special items by half a billion dollars. This increase in profitability - combined with the improvement in our free cash flow, the strength of our balance sheet and our ability to improve our market-leading positions in liquid crystal display glass, diesel emissions products and fiber-to-the-premises products - resulted in a 67-percent year-over-year increase in the valuation of Corning common stock," he said. Profitability before special items and free cash flow are non-GAAP financial measures.

Fourth-Quarter Operating Results

Edgar Filing: CORNING INC /NY - Form 8-K

Corning's fourth-quarter sales increased 16 percent to $1.2 billion from $1.03 billion in 2004, and increased slightly over 2005 third-quarter sales of $1.19 billion. Fourth-quarter gross margins for the company continued to be strong at 44 percent.

Equity earnings for the fourth quarter were $186 million reflecting growth at Samsung Corning Precision Glass Co., Ltd. (SCP), and lower results at Dow Corning Corporation due to expansion spending, unfavorable foreign exchange rates and seasonality. Third-quarter equity earnings included an impairment charge of $106 million at Samsung Corning Co., Ltd. a Korean manufacturer of glass panels and funnels for cathode ray tube (CRT) television and computer monitors.

Fourth-quarter sales for Corning's Display Technologies segment were $518 million, a 67-percent increase over 2004 fourth-quarter sales of $311 million. Fourth-quarter year-over-year liquid crystal display (LCD) glass volume increases of about 90 percent were partially offset by unfavorable exchange rates and price declines of 5 percent. Sequentially, fourth-quarter sales increased 6 percent over third-quarter sales of $489 million and LCD glass volume increased 14 percent. Pricing was off slightly from the third quarter while exchange rates in the fourth quarter had a 6-percent negative impact on sales.

Samsung Corning Precision, a 50-percent owned equity venture in Korea which manufactures LCD glass substrates, increased its volume by 9 percent sequentially. Equity earnings from SCP increased to $129 million versus $114 million in the third quarter. About half of the increase was related to a dividend tax adjustment in the fourth quarter.

Net income for the Display Technologies segment, which includes results of Corning's wholly owned business and equity earnings from SCP, declined about 10 percent to $328 million in the fourth quarter, compared to $363 million in the third quarter. This was primarily due to a slightly lower gross margin percent, higher effective tax rates and higher operating expenses offset by higher earnings from SCP.

Weeks said, "Sales of flat panel desktop monitors and notebook computers have driven the industry growth for several years. But the biggest dynamic to emerge this past year has been LCD televisions, which appear to have captured more than 10 percent of the total TV market in 2005. Going forward, LCD TV will increasingly impact the growth rate of the LCD industry."

Fourth-quarter Telecommunications segment sales declined by 4 percent to $383 million from $398 million in the third quarter. The decline was due in part to normal seasonality, somewhat offset by an increase in fiber-to-the-premises (FTTP) sales.

In the fourth quarter, Environmental Technologies segment sales of $142 million were about even with third-quarter sales of $144 million. Life Sciences segment fourth-quarter sales were $63 million, a decline of 10 percent compared to the third quarter. The decline was due to normal seasonality and a distributor inventory reduction during the quarter.

Cash Flow/Liquidity Update

James B. Flaws, vice chairman and chief financial officer, said, "We ended the year with $2.4 billion in cash and $1.8 billion in debt. Despite spending $1.55 billion in capital primarily to support LCD expansions, we had free cash flow for the full year of $443 million, driven by strong operating performance and customer deposits. Our debt-to-capital ratio was 24 percent at the end of the year, driven primarily by a reduction of $885 million in our outstanding debt balance. This was a significant improvement compared to last year's ratio of 41 percent.

"The overall operating performance of our businesses was solid and we completed our balance sheet improvement program," he said. "This was the first time in more than 25 years that Corning was able to end the year with more cash on hand than debt on our books." Free cash flow is a non-GAAP financial measure.

First-Quarter Outlook

Corning said that it expects first-quarter sales to be in the range of $1.2 billion to $1.25 billion and EPS in the range of $0.21 to $0.23 before special items. This EPS estimate is a non-GAAP financial measure and it excludes any possible special items. Corning said that it will begin expensing employee stock options in 2006 and that the EPS range of $0.21 to $0.23 includes about $0.01 related to this new expense in the first quarter. The gross margin percent for the first quarter is expected to be comparable to the fourth quarter of 2005. The company also expects that its effective tax rate for the first quarter will be in the range of 20 percent to 25 percent.

Corning Announces Fourth-Quarter Results Page Four

In the Display Technologies segment, the company is anticipating that its first-quarter sequential volume growth will be in the range of 3 percent to 8 percent. The company expects its wholly owned business will see quarterly volume growth in the range of 5 percent to 10 percent and Samsung Corning Precision's volume growth will be in the range of flat to up 5 percent. Corning said that price reductions in the first quarter will be more significant than the company has experienced in recent quarters. The company expects sequential quarterly price declines to be more in line with historical levels for the remainder of the year.

"We believe that increased volume and manufacturing cost efficiencies could allow us to offset the impact of price declines and lead to a first-quarter gross margin percent comparable to the fourth quarter of last year," Flaws said. Corning noted, as it has in the past, that industry supply chain fluctuations could influence the company's results in any given quarter.

"We expect to be able to build off last year's very successful LCD glass performance and we anticipate continued volume growth. Our new Taichung, Taiwan LCD facility is now operating and we will continue to meet the rising volume demand for larger-generation substrates. There are growing indications in the marketplace that LCD TV retail prices will fall over time, spurring increased demand for our larger-generation size substrates," Flaws said.

Edgar Filing: CORNING INC /NY - Form 8-K

Corning's Telecommunications segment first-quarter sales are expected to be comparable to 2005 fourth-quarter sales. First-quarter seasonal volume gains will be offset by annual price declines. The company's Environmental Technologies segment sales are expected to be up slightly on a sequential basis and sales in the Life Sciences segment are expected to increase in the first quarter.

The company expects equity earnings from Dow Corning to be up 20 percent to 30 percent compared to the seasonally low fourth-quarter 2005 results.

Weeks said, "Our first-quarter performance should be in line with last quarter's results, even as we factor in the impact of stock option expensing this quarter. We expect 2006 to be another strong year for Corning."

Presentation of Information in this News Release

Non-GAAP financial measures are not in accordance with, or an alternative to, GAAP. Corning's non-GAAP EPS measure excludes restructuring, impairment and other charges and adjustments to prior estimates for such charges. Additionally, the company's non-GAAP measure excludes adjustments to asbestos settlement reserves required by movements in Corning's common stock price, gains and losses arising from debt retirements, charges resulting from the impairment of equity or cost method investments, or adjustments to deferred tax assets, and gains or losses recognized in equity earnings from restructuring, impairment or other charges or credits taken by equity method companies. The company believes presenting a non-GAAP EPS measure is helpful to analyze financial performance without the impact of unusual items that may obscure trends in the company's underlying performance. This non-GAAP measure is reconciled on the company's Web site at www.corning.com/investor_relations and accompanies this news release.

- (1) Non-reportable operating segments net (loss) income includes the results of non-reportable operating segments. In 2005, we recorded a charge of $106 million for our share of Samsung Corning's impairment of certain manufacturing assets and other charges for severance and exit costs.
- (2) Non-segment loss and other includes the results of non-segment operations and other corporate activities.
- (3) For 2005, non-segment restructuring, impairment and other (charges) and credits includes impairment charges for the other than temporary decline in the market value of Avanex shares.
- (4) Provision for income taxes includes tax associated with non-segment restructuring, impairment and other (charges) and credits. We recognized a net $443 million charge to tax expense in 2005 which was primarily to increase the valuation allowance against deferred tax assets. In 2004, we increased our valuation allowance by $937 million. Refer to Note 4 (Provision for Income Taxes).
- (5) Equity in earnings of associated companies includes equity earnings in Dow Corning Corporation.

CORNING INCORPORATED AND SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Unaudited)

1. Restructuring, Impairment and Other Charges and (Credits)

In the fourth quarter of 2005, we recorded a gain of $84 million (pretax and after-tax) for the reversal of the cumulative translation account of O.T.I. S.r.l. (OTI), a wholly-owned foreign subsidiary of Corning, upon OTI's substantial liquidation. The photonics' business in Milan, Italy, was the sole operation of OTI, whose results were included in the Telecommunications segment. Subsequent to Corning's agreement to sell its photonics business operations to Avanex in 2003, Corning began liquidating OTI. In October 2005, the assets were substantially liquidated and OTI's cumulative translation account was reversed.

2. Asbestos Settlement

On March 28, 2003, we announced that we had reached agreement with the representatives of asbestos claimants for the settlement of all current and future asbestos claims against us and Pittsburgh Corning Corporation (PCC), which might arise from PCC products or operations. Accordingly, we recorded a charge of $298 million in the first quarter of 2003. The charge included the value of 25 million shares of Corning common stock that we will contribute as part of the settlement if the PCC plan of reorganization is approved and becomes effective. Also at that time, we indicated that any changes in the value of our common stock contribution would be recognized in our quarterly results through the date of contribution to the settlement trust. As required, we recorded a mark-to-market charge of $8 million (pretax and after-tax) in the fourth quarter of 2005 reflecting the increase in Corning's common stock from September 30, 2005 to December 31, 2005. Beginning with the first quarter of 2003, we have recorded total net charges of $643 million to reflect the initial settlement and to mark-to-market the value of our common stock.

3. Loss on Repurchases and Retirement of Debt, Net

In the fourth quarter of 2005, we redeemed for cash the $277 million principal amount of our zero coupon convertible debentures. We recognized a loss of $4 million (pretax and after-tax) on this transaction.

4. Provision for Income Taxes

In the fourth quarter of 2005, we recognized a net $443 million tax expense charge which was primarily to increase the valuation allowance against deferred tax assets. This adjustment resulted primarily from our conclusion that the sale of an appreciated asset was no longer prudent, and correspondingly, no longer met the criteria for a viable tax planning strategy in Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. In 2004, we increased our valuation allowance by $937 million.

the fourth quarter of 2005 are non-GAAP financial measures within the meaning of Regulation G of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Non-GAAP financial measures are not in accordance with, or an alternative to, generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The company believes presenting non-GAAP net income and EPS is helpful to analyze financial performance without the impact of unusual items that may obscure trends in the company's underlying performance. A detailed reconciliation is provided below outlining the differences between these non-GAAP measures and the directly related GAAP measure.

- (a) Corning recorded a gain of $84 million (before- and after-tax) for the reversal of the cumulative translation account of a wholly-owned foreign subsidiary that was substantially liquidated.
- (b) As part of Corning's asbestos settlement arrangement to be incorporated into the Pittsburgh Corning Corporation reorganization plan, Corning will contribute, when the reorganization plan becomes effective, 25 million shares of Corning common stock to a trust. This portion of the asbestos liability requires quarterly adjustment based upon movements in Corning's common stock price prior to contribution of the shares to the trust. In the fourth quarter of 2005, Corning recorded a charge of $8 million for the change in its common stock price of $19.66 at December 31, 2005 compared to $19.33 the common stock price at September 30, 2005.
- (c) Corning recorded a loss of $4 million (before- and after-tax) for the cash redemption of $277 million principal amount of zero-coupon convertible debentures.
- (d) Amount reflects a net $443 million charge to tax expense in 2005 which was primarily to increase the valuation allowance against deferred tax assets resulting from our conclusion that the sale of an appreciated asset no longer met the criteria for a viable tax planning strategy.

(a) Amount reflects the following items: a gain of $84 million (before- and after-tax) for the reversal of the cumulative translation account of a wholly-owned foreign subsidiary that was substantially liquidated; an impairment charge of $25 million (before- and after-tax) for the other-than-temporary decline in our investment in Avanex below its cost basis; and net charges of $38 million ($34 million after-tax and minority interest) for restructuring costs primarily associated with the telecommunications segment.

(b) As part of Corning's asbestos settlement arrangement to be incorporated into the Pittsburgh Corning Corporation reorganization plan, Corning will contribute, when the reorganization plan becomes effective, 25 million shares of Corning common stock to a trust. This portion of the asbestos liability requires quarterly adjustment based upon movements in Corning's common stock price prior to contribution of the shares to the trust. For 2005, Corning recorded a charge of $197 million (before- and after-tax) for the change in its common stock price of $19.66 at December 31, 2005 compared to $11.77, the common stock price at December 31, 2004.

Edgar Filing: CORNING INC /NY - Form 8-K

- (c) Corning recorded a loss of $16 million (before- and after-tax) associated with the cash redemption of $377 million principal amount of debentures.
- (d) Amount reflects a net $443 million charge to tax expense in 2005 which was primarily to increase the valuation allowance against deferred tax assets resulting from our conclusion that the sale of an appreciated asset no longer met the criteria for a viable tax planning strategy.
- (e) Amount is primarily the result of Corning's $106 million share of an impairment charge taken by Samsung Corning Co., Ltd., a South Korea-based manufacturer of glass panels and funnels for cathode ray tube television and display monitors, for certain of its manufacturing assets and severance and exit costs.

- (a) Corning recorded charges of $1.789 billion ($1.802 billion after-tax and minority interest) primarily related to the impairment of goodwill and fixed assets in the Telecommunications segment.
- (b) As part of Corning's asbestos settlement arrangement to be incorporated into the Pittsburgh Corning Corporation reorganization plan, Corning will contribute, when the reorganization plan becomes effective, 25 million shares of Corning common stock to a trust. This portion of the asbestos liability requires quarterly adjustment based upon movements in Corning's common stock price prior to contribution of the shares to the trust. For 2004, Corning recorded a charge of $33 million ($30 million after-tax) for the change in its common stock price of $11.77 at December 31, 2004 compared to $10.43, the common stock price at December 31, 2003.
- (c) During 2004, Corning retired a significant portion of long-term debt, resulting in a loss of $36 million ($34 million after-tax).
- (d) In the third quarter of 2004, Corning increased income tax expense by $937 million as a result of the company's decision to provide a valuation allowance against a significant portion of its deferred tax assets.
- (e) This amount reflects charges of $35 million for impairments of certain non-strategic equity method investments in Corning's Telecommunications segment and $21 million related to restructuring actions and bankruptcy related charges recorded by Dow Corning Corporation.
- (f) This gain relates to the final settlement of escrowed proceeds from the 2002 sale of Corning's precision lens business to 3M Company.

This schedule will be updated as additional announcements occur.

- (a) From time to time, Corning may need to make adjustments to estimates used in the determination of prior year restructuring and impairment charges, which could result in a gain or loss during the quarter.
- (b) As part of Corning's asbestos settlement arrangement to be incorporated into the Pittsburgh Corning Corporation reorganization plan, Corning will contribute, when the reorganization plan becomes effective, 25 million shares of Corning common stock to a trust. The common stock will be contributed to the trust, after the plan has been approved by the asbestos claimants and bankruptcy court. The portion of the asbestos liability to be settled in common stock requires adjustment each quarter based upon movements in Corning's common stock price prior to contribution of the shares to the trust. In the first quarter of 2006, Corning will record a charge or credit for the change in its common stock price as of March 31, 2006 compared to $19.66, the common stock price at December 31, 2005.

Please note that the company may pursue other financing, restructuring and divestiture activities at any time in the future, and that the potential impact of these events is not included within Corning's first quarter 2006 guidance.

This schedule contains forward looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such forward looking statements are based on current expectations and involve certain risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ from those projected in the forward looking statements. Additional information concerning factors that could cause actual results to materially differ from those in the forward looking statements is contained in the Securities and Exchange Commission filings of this Company.
