ROYAL CARIBBEAN REPORTS RECORD THIRD QUARTER EARNINGS

MIAMI (October 21, 2004) Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. (NYSE, OSE: RCL) announced today that net income for the third quarter of 2004 was $282.5 million, or $1.33 per share. This compares to $191.9 million, or $0.97 per share, for the third quarter of 2003. Revenues for the third quarter of 2004 increased 23.7% to $1.4 billion from revenues of $1.1 billion in the third quarter of 2003. The increase in revenues was attributable to a 10.8% increase in capacity coupled with an increase in cruise ticket prices and onboard revenues. Gross Yields for the third quarter of 2004 increased 11.7% from the third quarter of 2003. Net Yields, which the company considers a better measure of revenue performance, increased 12.8% from the third quarter of 2003. As a result, Net Yields for the quarter not only returned to pre-9/11 levels, but also surpassed levels reached in the third quarter of 2000 and 1999. Occupancy reached 109.0%, up from 107.7% in the third quarter of 2003, which approaches levels achieved in 2000 of 109.7%.

Clearly we're doing something right," said Richard D. Fain, chairman and chief executive officer. "The improvement in the market and in the position of our brands is very gratifying."

The company also reported that advanced booking volumes continue to be encouraging. Both pricing and load factors for the fourth quarter of 2004 are ahead of the same time last year. Accordingly, the company forecasts that Net Yields for the fourth quarter of 2004 will increase in the range of 4% to 5%, compared to the same period last year. As a result, the company expects Net Yields for the full year 2004 to increase approximately 9% from the prior year.

The company noted several developments that occurred during the third quarter of 2004:

A unique series of hurricanes hit Florida and several important Caribbean island destinations. While some storm activity is not unusual, this series of storms was exceptionally disruptive because of a unique combination of their path, their speed and their timing. Not only was this season the most costly in the company's 33-year history, it was worse than all the previous seasons combined. Lost revenue and extra costs associated with these hurricanes impacted the company's third quarter earnings by $0.10 per share.

A French-built propulsion pod on Celebrity's GTS Summit failed, necessitating an emergency drydocking of the vessel.

The company exercised its option to build a second Ultra-Voyager ship at the Kvaerner Masa-Yards in Finland, to be delivered in the spring of 2007. The two Ultra-Voyager ships will be approximately 15 percent larger than their Voyager-class predecessors, with a double occupancy capacity of approximately 3,600 passengers.

Gross Cruise Costs and Net Cruise Costs, on a per Available Passenger Cruise Day basis, for the third quarter of 2004 increased 7.4% and 6.7%, respectively, compared to the same quarter in 2003. Included in the third quarter of 2003 was a reduction in Net Cruise Costs of $5.8 million recorded in connection with the resolution of a litigation settlement. The increase in Net Cruise Costs is primarily attributable to costs related to hurricanes and increases in fuel and port expenses.

The company noted several factors that it expects to affect the fourth quarter of 2004:

Because Hurricane Jeanne impacted sailings ending in the fourth quarter, it will affect both revenue and expenses in the fourth quarter. The company estimates that the net impact will be approximately $0.02 to $0.03 per share.

During the fourth quarter of 2004, a new accounting rule will become effective. The new rule requires all shares contingently issuable under the company's convertible debt instruments be included in the calculation of diluted earnings per share. Upon adoption, the company estimates that the accounting rule will reduce 2004 full year earnings per share by approximately $0.02 to $0.03. In addition to impacting earnings per share for 2004 and future periods, the new rule will require the company to restate historical earnings per share.

During the first nine months of 2004, the company accrued taxes associated with new regulations, the implementation of which is now expected to be deferred until 2005. If deferred, the accrual will be reversed in the fourth quarter in an amount equal to approximately $0.04 per share. Starting in 2005, the company will accrue this tax on an ongoing basis.

The company estimates that Net Cruise Costs, on a per Available Passenger Cruise Day basis, for the fourth quarter of 2004 will increase approximately 3%, compared to the same quarter in 2003. This increase is primarily due to an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses, crew payroll expenses and port expenses.

Based upon these expectations, management is comfortable with the current consensus estimate for the fourth quarter of 2004.

Looking forward to the 2005 booking environment, demand for products of Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises remains strong. Through its strategic pricing approach, the company continues to generate early demand for its products, resulting in load factors that are ahead of the same time last year. While the company does not have enough visibility to provide specific yield guidance for 2005, demand remains stronger than at the same time last year and early indications point to a positive yield environment.

The Company indicated other items affecting 2005:

Fuel costs continue to be an important variable. Although the price at-the-pump for the types of fuel used by the company has risen during 2004, it has not risen as rapidly as the price of benchmark crude oil. As a result, if crude oil prices remain at their current level and if the relationship between crude oil prices and at-the-pump prices shifts towards previous levels, the company would incur substantial additional costs.

The Enchantment of the Seas is scheduled to be stretched in the spring of 2005 with a new 73-foot midsection. In connection with this project, the ship will be out of service from May through early July. In addition to lost revenue associated with a decrease in Available Passenger Cruise Days, the company estimates incremental operating expenses associated with this project will be approximately $10.0 million.

The company has scheduled a conference call at 10 a.m. eastern daylight time today to discuss its earnings. This call can be listened to live or on a delayed basis, on the company's investor relations web site at www.rclinvestor.com.

Terminology

Available Passenger Cruise Days

Available Passenger Cruise Days represent double occupancy per cabin multiplied by the number of cruise days for the period.

Gross Yields

Gross Yields represent total revenues per Available Passenger Cruise Day.

Net Yields

Net Yields represent Gross Yields less commissions, transportation and other expenses and onboard and other expenses per Available Passenger Cruise Day. We utilize Net Yields to manage our business on a day-to-day basis and believe that it is the most relevant measure of our pricing performance. We have not provided a quantitative reconciliation of projected Gross Yields to projected Net Yields due to the significant uncertainty in projecting the costs deducted to arrive at this measure. Accordingly, we do not believe that reconciling information for such projected figures would be meaningful.

Gross Cruise Costs

Gross Cruise Costs represent the sum of total operating expenses plus marketing, selling and administrative expenses.

Net Cruise Costs

Net Cruise Costs represent Gross Cruise Costs excluding commissions, transportation and other expenses and onboard and other expenses. In measuring our ability to control costs in a manner that positively impacts net income, we believe changes in Net Cruise Costs to be the most relevant indicator of our performance. We have not provided a quantitative reconciliation of projected Gross Cruise Costs to projected Net Cruise Costs due to the significant uncertainty in projecting the costs deducted to arrive at this measure. Accordingly, we do not believe that reconciling information for such projected figures would be meaningful.

Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. is a global cruise vacation company that operates Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruises, with a combined total of 29 ships in service and two under construction.
