Prudential plc to acquire Good Morning Investment Trust Management Company in Korea

Prudential plc ("Prudential") and Good Morning Shinhan Securities Co. Ltd., Korea's sixth largest brokerage firm, announced today that they have signed a sale and purchase agreement for Prudential to acquire Good Morning Investment Trust Management Company (Good Morning ITMC). The agreement is subject to local regulatory approval and is expected to complete by the end of October 2002. The net assets being acquired by Prudential are £8.1 million as at 30 June 2002.

Good Morning ITMC was established in 2001 and is based in Seoul. As at 30 June 2002, it had funds under management of KRW1.9 trillion (£1.07 billion). Good Morning ITMC will continue to build a diversified distribution network and will work closely with Good Morning Shinhan Securities to grow their existing strong distribution relationship.

Commenting on the acquisition, Mark Tucker, Chief Executive of Prudential Corporation Asia, said: "The acquisition of Good Morning ITMC is another vote of confidence in Asia and in the strength of Korea's economic outlook. PCA entered the Korean market with the launch of PCA LIFE earlier this year. We are here for the long term and have every belief that this asset management company will be another successful part of our plan to build a significant retail financial services business in Korea".

Mr Doh, President of Good Morning Shinhan Securities, said: "Good Morning Shinhan Securities has decided to strategically focus on Shinhan Investment Trust Management Company for building a presence in the Korean investment management trust market. Prudential clearly has a long-term commitment to the Korean market and we believe that they will be able to take Good Morning ITMC to the next level, and this decision is in the best interests of our customers and staff".

This acquisition continues Prudential Corporation Asia's ("PCA") well-managed and focused expansion strategy in Asia. PCA's Managing Director of Regional Mutual Funds, Ajay Srinivasan, added: "Korea is one of the world's largest mutual fund markets and we have been reviewing opportunities to expand our presence here. We are delighted to have found in Good Morning ITMC a business which provides us with a solid platform to build scale in this very significant market. This acquisition of a strong company, backed by our regional and global expertise, is a great fit with our strategy in Asia."

To oversee the new operation, PCA has appointed Dong Jin Kim, former Chairman and Managing Director of JP Morgan Chase in Korea, as CEO of the new company which will be renamed PCA Investment Trust Management Company after the transaction completes.

Prudential has been advised by Lazard.
