METHANEX SECURES FURTHER GAS SUPPLY FOR NEW ZEALAND PLANT

November 1, 2006

Methanex Corporation announced today that it has secured additional natural gas supply that will enable it to continue to operate its 530,000 tonne per year New Zealand plant until the end of March 2007. This plant is a flexible asset for Methanex, with operations dependant upon methanol industry supply and demand and the availability of natural gas on commercially acceptable terms.

John Floren, Methanex's Senior Vice President, Global Marketing and Logistics, said, "The decision to extend the operation of our New Zealand plant through to the end of the first quarter of 2007 is driven by our view of methanol industry balances. As a result of numerous planned and unplanned supply outages over the last several months, global inventories of methanol are at extremely low levels. Operating our New Zealand plant will help to ensure continued reliable supply to our customers and will offset some of the current supply shortages in the industry.

Methanex is a Vancouver based, publicly-traded company engaged in the worldwide production and marketing of methanol. Methanex shares are listed for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange in Canada under the trading symbol "MX" and on the NASDAQ Global Market in the United States under the trading symbol "MEOH". Methanex can be visited online at www.methanex.com.
