Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by the following words: “anticipate,” “believe,” “continue,” “could,” “estimate,” “expect,” “intend,” “may,” “ongoing,” “plan,” “potential,” “predict,” “project,” “sh” or the negative of these terms or other comparable terminology, although not all forward-looking statements contain these words. Forward-looking statements are not a guarantee of future performance or results, and will not necessarily be accurate indications of the times at, or by, which such performance or results will be achieved. Forward-looking statements are based on information available at the time the statements are made and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our results, levels of activity, performance or achievements to be materially different from the information expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements in this Current Report. These factors include, among others, economic conditions generally in the United States and internationally, and in the industry and markets in which we have and may participate in the future, competition within our chosen industry or industries, our current and intended business, our assets and plans, the effect of applicable United States and foreign laws, rules and regulations on our business and the possibility we may fail to successfully develop, compete in and finance our current and intended business operations.

You should read any other cautionary statements made in this Current Report as being applicable to all related forward-looking statements wherever they appear in this Current Report. We cannot assure you that the forward-looking statements in this Current Report will prove to be accurate, and therefore, prospective investors are encouraged not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. You should read this Current Report completely, and it should be considered in light of all other information contained in the reports or registration statement that we file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), including all risk factors outlined therein. Other than as required by law, we undertake no obligation to update or revise these forward-looking statements, even though our situation may change in the future.

Item 2.04 Triggering Events That Accelerate or Increase a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement.

Under the terms of the Promissory Note (the “Note”) of Freestone Resources, Inc., a Nevada corporation (the “Company”), in the original principal amount of $1,382,064, payable to Infinity Web Systems, Inc. 401K Profit Sharing Plan (the “Creditor”), any failure to make a payment of principal or interest on the Note within five days of the due date gives the Creditor the right to declare the entire amount of principal and interest due thereunder immediately due and payable. On January 14, 2019, the Company received written notice (the “Notice”) from John L. Genung, Esq., Substitute Trustee of that certain Deed of Trust effective as of June 24, 2015 in favor of the Creditor that: (i) the unpaid principal and accrued interest on the Company’s has been accelerated due to an uncured default in payment on the Note; and (ii) the Creditor intends to proceed with foreclosure of the collateral securing the Note (the “Collateral”). The Collateral consists of approximately 10.1353 acres of real property located in Ellis County, Texas, which serve as the Company’s principal executive offices and operating facility, together with certain personal property as described in a UCC Financing Statement filed in the office of the Secretary of State of Texas on July 6, 2015. As of January 17, 2019, outstanding principal and accrued interest on the Note were $975,163 and $36,869, respectively.

The Notice of Foreclosure Sale accompanying the Notice designated February 5, 2019, at the Ellis County Courthouse, Waxahatchie, Texas, as the date and place of the planned foreclosure sale of the Collateral.

The Company is currently in contact with the lender and seeking a negotiated settlement or restructuring of the debt.
