As previously disclosed, pursuant to a Patent Transfer Agreement (the “Patent Transfer Agreement”) dated February 22, 2011, Oramed Ltd., a wholly owned subsidiary of Oramed Pharmaceuticals Inc. (the “Company”), assigned to Entera Bio Ltd. (“Entera”) all of its right, title and interest in and to a certain patent application related to the oral administration of proteins. Under the Patent Transfer Agreement, Oramed Ltd. is entitled to receive from Entera royalties of 3% of Entera’s net revenues (as defined in the Patent Transfer Agreement) and a license back of that patent application for use in respect of diabetes and influenza. On December 11, 2018, Entera announced that it had entered into a research collaboration and license agreement (the “Amgen License”) with Amgen in inflammatory disease and other serious illnesses. As reported by Entera, under the terms of the Amgen License, Entera will receive a modest initial technology access fee from Amgen and will be responsible for preclinical development at Amgen’s expense. Entera will be eligible to receive up to $270 million in aggregate payments, as well as tiered royalties up to mid-single digits, upon achievement of various clinical and commercial milestones if Amgen decides to move all of these programs forward. Amgen is responsible for clinical development, manufacturing and commercialization of any of the resulting programs. To the extent the Amgen License results in net revenues as defined in the Patent Transfer Agreement, Oramed Ltd. will be entitled to the aforementioned royalties.
