PERFORMANCE OVERVIEW

For the six months under review, Templeton Global Income Fund had cumulative total returns of -12.61% based on market price and -1.90% based on net asset value. The Fund underperformed the J.P. Morgan (JPM) Global Government Bond Index (GGBI), which had cumulative total returns of +5.03% in local currency terms and +1.14% in U.S. dollar terms for the same period.(1) You can find the Fund's long-term performance data in the Performance Summary on page 7.

ECONOMIC AND MARKET OVERVIEW

The period under review encompassed one of the most challenging periods in decades for the global economy and financial markets. The series of economic and financial shocks culminated in a systemic failure of U.S. financial institutions and led to an intensified worldwide financial crisis. Rising uncertainty and risk aversion negatively impacted global capital flows with severe effects for global demand and trade and contributed to a series of bank bailouts in the U.S. and Europe. Global central banks reacted with aggressive interest rate reductions, and in some cases, moved toward unconventional monetary easing measures to increase liquidity by expanding central bank balance sheets.

The commodity price-driven inflation shock from early 2008 unwound as global economic growth and asset prices deteriorated sharply. Lower inflation provided central banks worldwide with significant scope for reducing interest rates. During the period, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) cut the federal funds target rate 175 basis points (bps; 100 bps equal one percentage point) to 0.25% and initiated an asset purchase program. While U.S. economic growth slowed in the fourth quarter of 2008 at a -0.8% rate year-over-year, job shedding and business spending retrenchment further weakened economic activity into 2009. The unemployment rate rose from 6.2% to 8.1% over the six-month period.(2) Eurozone economic activity weakened even more abruptly than in the U.S., contracting 1.2% year-over-year in fourth quarter 2008, as deleveraging's impact on investment activity contributed to a deepening recession.(3) The European Central Bank cut interest rates 225 bps to 2.00% in the six-month period and significantly stepped up liquidity operations to aid the banking sector. In Asia, the Bank of Japan cut interest rates 40 bps to 0.10%, and the central bank of China cut 216 bps to 5.31%. Although Asia's economic growth slowed during the period, hampered by declining global trade, it was notably less severe than in the U.S. or Europe. For instance, China registered 6.8% economic growth year-over-year in the fourth quarter of 2008.(4) The world's largest economies also complemented central bank measures with large fiscal stimulus packages to address the crisis. In particular, China proposed fiscal measures for the next two years worth about 12% of 2009 gross domestic product to cushion the declines in investment activity and labor demand.(5)

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Edgar Filing: TEMPLETON GLOBAL INCOME FUND - Form N-CSRS

We invest selectively in bonds around the world to generate income for the Fund, seeking opportunities while monitoring changes in interest rates, currency exchange rates and credit risks.

MANAGER'S DISCUSSION

The Fund's total return was influenced by various factors, including interest rate developments, currency movements and exposure to sovereign debt markets.

INTEREST RATE STRATEGY

The global backdrop of weak economic growth, disinflation and monetary easing was positive for developed global bond markets. However, increased risk aversion accompanied this environment, negatively impacting government bond yields in some non-developed markets. The Fund's performance during the six-month period reflected this divergence in the government bond market as our overall interest rate strategy contributed to the Fund's return but detracted from performance relative to the JPM GGBI. Although the Fund held exposure to eurozone government bonds, its underweighted position hampered performance relative to the JPM GGBI as German long-term bond yields fell during the period. Additionally, our lack of exposure to U.S. government bonds hurt the Fund as their long-term yields also fell. We continued to find other global bond markets more attractive than the U.S. given our assessment of prospects for economic recoupling of these economies to translate into increased monetary easing. We began to see examples of this in Chile and South Korea during the period under review. While the U.S. cut interest rates 175 bps during the period, effectively reaching the limits of using interest rates as a monetary tool, Chile cut 300 bps to 4.75% and South Korea 325 bps to 2.00%. Other countries such as Mexico and Indonesia each cut 75 bps to 7.50% and 8.25%. Although our Chilean and South Korean interest rate exposures benefited relative Fund performance, our exposures to Mexico and Indonesia detracted. We used this period of heightened volatility and forced selling to add to positions where we believed yields were dislocated from fundamentals. Despite the weak global growth environment and significant financial sector deleveraging that reduced inflation risk over the near term, we remained cautious toward the U.S. government bond market. We considered it a less attractive interest rate opportunity, and we remained concerned about the magnitude of fiscal easing, monetary measures and unwinding of global imbalances that could potentially reduce foreign participation in the U.S. market over the medium term.

WHAT IS A CURRENT ACCOUNT?

A current account is that part of the balance of payments where all of one country's international transactions in goods and services are recorded.

WHAT IS BALANCE OF PAYMENTS?

Balance of payments is a record of all of a country's exports and imports of goods and services, borrowing and lending with the rest of the world during a particular time period. It helps a country evaluate its competitive strengths and weaknesses and forecast the strength of its currency.

CURRENCY STRATEGY

Heightened uncertainty during the reporting period benefited the U.S. dollar, which appreciated 13.15% against its major trading partners.(6) We viewed the U.S. dollar's recent strength as largely due to the global deleveraging process, which increased demand for the dollar, rather than fundamental U.S. economic strength. Although the Fund benefited from its U.S. dollar position, we actively managed the position and scaled down exposure to increase room for currencies that weakened sharply and, in our assessment, overshot fundamental value. We believed recent developments were not conducive to the U.S. dollar's longer-term strength given the Fed's aggressive money supply expansion, the largest planned fiscal deficits since World War II, the trend toward nationalizing many U.S. financial institutions, and foreigners' decreased interest in holding as many U.S. assets as they had in the past. Although recent fiscal and monetary actions prevented a collapse of the U.S. banking system and are crucial policy steps in dealing with the crisis, we believed they could have longer-term consequences such as higher taxes, lower growth, potential longer-term inflationary risks and a weaker U.S. dollar.

Although a recessionary environment and financial distress were broadly felt across most countries, we sought to position the Fund for relative instead of absolute conditions as drivers of currency valuations. As a result, we positioned for Asian currencies' appreciation against those of highly leveraged developed countries that may have benefited from increased risk aversion but whose fundamentals were weak, specifically the U.S. dollar and the euro. Asian economic growth slowed, but less so than in the U.S. or Europe. We also believed that Asia's more limited financial and economic vulnerabilities could support currency performance over the medium term. The region has demonstrated its ability to generate positive current account surpluses despite declining exports. Additionally, Asian corporate and banking systems were less leveraged going into this crisis, partly a legacy of the late 1990s' financial crisis. Our strategy benefited performance relative to the JPM GGBI. For example, the Chinese yuan rose 15.84% against the euro and the Malaysian ringgit 6.10%.(7) In addition to relative fundamentals, we held significant exposure to the Japanese yen, which benefited from deleveraging and helped offset volatility realized in other parts of the portfolio. During the six-month period, the Japanese yen rose 28.57% against the euro and 10.92% against the U.S. dollar.(7)

The deepening European recession was complicated by the scale of leverage in the banking and corporate sectors. Additionally, the European Monetary Union's constraints limited policy response. Overall, the Fund benefited from its net negative position in the euro, which declined 13.73% against the U.S. dollar.(7) Exposure to other European currencies detracted, however, due to increased concerns of a hard landing in eastern Europe given the region's dependence on capital flows amid deleveraging. There was insufficient differentiation among currencies during the period given vast fundamental differences among countries across the region. Against the euro, the Polish zloty fell 28.70% and the Swedish krona fell 17.24%.(7)

Other currencies that hampered Fund performance included the Brazilian real and the Indonesian rupiah, which fell 31.25% and 23.62% against the U.S. dollar.(7) Our currency hedging strategies on underlying bond positions helped protect the

Fund from downside risk to some degree. For example, the Fund largely avoided the negative impact of the Mexican peso's 31.79% and South Korean won's 28.99% depreciation against the U.S. dollar over the period.(7) We began to unwind these currency hedges later in the reporting period after significant weakening in the exchange rates, although we were exposed to some currency weakness in the process.

GLOBAL SOVEREIGN DEBT AND CREDIT STRATEGY

In the credit sector, the Fund invested in emerging market sovereign debt and U.S. municipal debt. These investments typically compensate for greater credit risk by offering higher yields relative to U.S. and European benchmark treasury yields.

U.S. dollar-denominated emerging market debt had a six-month return of -12.75% as measured by the JPM Emerging Markets Bond Index Global (EMBIG).(8) Sovereign interest rate spreads rose from 323 bps at the beginning of the reporting period to 672 bps by period-end, as emerging market credit yields climbed sharply while the U.S. Treasury yield curve shifted downward due to Fed rate cuts.(8) The Fund held limited exposure to sovereign credit risk at the beginning of the reporting period and used market volatility to build positions in high-quality, emerging market sovereign credit where we believed default risk offered value because of increased uncertainty and forced selling during this global deleveraging period. Several positions detracted from relative performance as sovereign spreads continued to widen as we built positions.

The financial market turbulence also negatively impacted U.S. municipal bond yields during the period. Municipal bonds historically traded at yields near or at a premium to U.S. government bond yields given the asset class's tax advantage. By period-end, the Barclays Capital (BC) Municipal Bond Index yielded 125 bps over U.S. 10-year Treasury bond yields.⁹ Spread widening in the period reflected increased investor concern over municipal governments' access to financing. We sought to take advantage of the dislocation in municipal bond valuations relative to fundamentals, particularly given prospects for higher taxes. Fund exposure to this sector contributed positively to performance relative to the index for the period.

Thank you for your continued participation in Templeton Global Income Fund. We look forward to serving your future investment needs.

Sincerely,

Templeton Global Income Fund

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Templeton Global Income Fund (Fund) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, (1940 Act) as a closed-end investment company.

The following summarizes the Fund's significant accounting policies.

A. SECURITY VALUATION

Securities listed on a securities exchange or on the NASDAQ National Market System are valued at the last quoted sale price or the official closing price of the day, respectively. Over-the-counter securities and listed securities for which there is no reported sale are valued within the range of the most recent quoted bid and ask prices. Securities that trade in multiple markets or on multiple exchanges are valued according to the broadest and most representative market. Investments in open-end mutual funds are valued at the closing net asset value.

Corporate debt securities and government securities generally trade in the over-the-counter market rather than on a securities exchange. The Fund may utilize independent pricing services, quotations from bond dealers, and information with respect to bond and note transactions, to assist in determining a current market value for each security. The Fund's pricing services may use valuation models or matrix pricing which considers information with respect to comparable bond and note transactions, quotations from bond dealers, or by reference to other securities that are considered comparable in such characteristics as rating, interest rate and maturity date, option adjusted spread models, prepayment projections, interest rate spreads and yield curves, to determine current value.

The Fund has procedures to determine the fair value of individual securities and other assets for which market prices are not readily available or which may not be reliably priced. Methods for valuing these securities may include: fundamental analysis, matrix pricing, discounts from market prices of similar securities, or discounts applied due to the nature and duration of restrictions on the disposition of the securities. Due to the inherent uncertainty of valuations of such securities, the fair values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for such investments existed. Occasionally, events occur between the time at which trading in a security is completed and the close of the NYSE that might call into question the availability (including the reliability) of the value of a portfolio security held by the Fund. If such an event occurs, the securities may be valued using fair value procedures, which may include the use of independent pricing services. All security valuation procedures are approved by the Fund's Board of Trustees.

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

B. FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION

Portfolio securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars based on the exchange rate of such currencies against U.S. dollars on the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of securities, income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate in effect on the transaction date. Occasionally, events may impact the availability or reliability of foreign exchange rates used to convert the U.S. dollar equivalent value. If such an event occurs, the foreign exchange rate will be valued at fair value using procedures established and approved by the Fund's Board of Trustees.

The Fund does not separately report the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from changes in market prices on securities held. Such changes are included in net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments on the Statement of Operations.

Realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the recorded amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in foreign exchange rates on foreign denominated assets and liabilities other than investments in securities held at the end of the reporting period.

C. FOREIGN CURRENCY CONTRACTS

When the Fund purchases or sells foreign securities it may enter into foreign exchange contracts to minimize foreign exchange risk from the trade date to the settlement date of the transactions. A foreign exchange contract is an agreement between two parties to exchange different currencies at an agreed upon exchange rate at a future date. Realized and unrealized gains and losses on these contracts are included in the Statement of Operations.

The Fund may also enter into forward exchange contracts to hedge against fluctuations in foreign exchange rates or to gain exposure to certain foreign currencies. These contracts are valued daily by the Fund and the unrealized appreciation or depreciation on the contracts, as measured by the difference between the contractual forward foreign exchange rates and the forward rates at the reporting date, are included in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Realized and unrealized gains and losses on these contracts are included in the Statement of Operations.

The risks of these contracts include movement in the values of the foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar and the possible inability of the counterparties to fulfill their obligations under the contracts, which may be in excess of the amount reflected in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

D. INTEREST RATE SWAPS

The Fund may enter into interest rate swap contracts to hedge the risk of changes in interest rates. Interest rate swaps are agreements between two parties to exchange cash flows based on a notional principal amount. The interest receivable or payable is recorded as unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Payments received or made are recorded as realized gains or losses in the Statement of Operations. Interest rate swaps are marked to market daily based upon quotations from the market makers and the change, if any, is recorded as unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the Statement of Operations. When the swap contract is terminated early, the Fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the current realized value and the expected cash flows. The risks of interest rate swaps include changes in the market conditions and the possible inability of the counterparty to fulfill its obligations under the agreement.

E. INCOME TAXES

No provision has been made for U.S. income taxes because it is the Fund's policy to qualify as a regulated investment company under the Internal Revenue Code and to distribute to shareholders substantially all of its taxable income and net realized gains.

The Fund has reviewed the tax positions, taken on federal income tax returns, for each of the three open tax years and as of February 28, 2009, and has determined that no provision for income tax is required in the Fund's financial statements.

Foreign securities held by the Fund may be subject to foreign taxation on interest income received. Foreign taxes, if any, are recorded based on the tax regulations and rates that exist in the foreign markets in which the Fund invests.

F. SECURITY TRANSACTIONS, INVESTMENT INCOME, EXPENSES AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Security transactions are accounted for on trade date. Realized gains and losses on security transactions are determined on a specific identification basis. Interest income and estimated expenses are accrued daily. Amortization of premium and accretion of discount on debt securities are included in interest income. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date and are determined according to income tax regulations (tax basis). Distributable earnings determined on a tax basis may differ from earnings recorded in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences may be permanent or temporary. Permanent differences are reclassified among capital accounts to reflect their tax character. These reclassifications have no impact on net assets or the results of operations. Temporary differences are not reclassified, as they may reverse in subsequent periods.

F. SECURITY TRANSACTIONS, INVESTMENT INCOME, EXPENSES AND DISTRIBUTIONS (CONTINUED)

Inflation-indexed bonds provide an inflation hedge through periodic increases or decreases in the security's interest accruals and principal redemption value, by amounts corresponding to the current rate of inflation. Any such adjustments, including adjustments to principal redemption value, are recorded as interest income.

G. ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

H. GUARANTEES AND INDEMNIFICATIONS

Under the Fund's organizational documents, its officers and trustees are indemnified by the Fund against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Fund. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. Currently, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

2. SHARES OF BENEFICIAL INTEREST

At February 28, 2009, there were an unlimited number of shares authorized (without par value). During the period ended February 28, 2009 there were no shares issued; all reinvested distributions were satisfied with previously issued shares purchased in the open market. Transactions in the Fund's shares were as follows:

	SIX MONTHS ENDED FEBRUARY 28, 2009		YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 2008
	SHARES	AMOUNT	SHARES	AMOUNT
Shares issued in reinvestment of distributions	--	$--	339,409	$3,098,161

The Fund's Board of Trustees previously authorized an open-market share repurchase program pursuant to which the Fund may purchase, from time to time,

Edgar Filing: TEMPLETON GLOBAL INCOME FUND - Form N-CSRS

Fund shares in open-market transactions, at the discretion of management. This authorization remains in effect. Through February 28, 2009, the Fund had repurchased a total of 11,210,400 shares. During the periods ended February 28, 2009 and August 31, 2008, there were no shares repurchased.

10. CREDIT RISK

The Fund has 19.28% of its portfolio invested in high yield, senior secured floating rate notes, or other securities rated below investment grade. These securities may be more sensitive to economic conditions causing greater price volatility and are potentially subject to a greater risk of loss due to default than higher rated securities.

11. CONCENTRATION OF RISK

Investing in foreign securities may include certain risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in U.S. securities, such as fluctuating currency values and changing local and regional economic, political and social conditions, which may result in greater market volatility. In addition, certain foreign securities may not be as liquid as U.S. securities.

12. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Fund adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued FASB Statement No. 157, "Fair Value Measurement" (SFAS 157), on September 1, 2008. SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The Fund has determined that the implementation of SFAS 157 did not have a material impact on the Fund's financial statements.

SFAS 157 establishes a fair value hierarchy that distinguishes between market data obtained from independent sources (observable inputs) and the Fund's own market assumptions (unobservable inputs). These inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments and are summarized in the following fair value hierarchy:

- Level 1 - quoted prices in active markets for identical securities
- Level 2 - other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speed, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 - significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

12. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS (CONTINUED)

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of February 28, 2009, in valuing the Fund's assets and liabilities carried at fair value:

	LEVEL 1	LEVEL 2	LEVEL 3	TOTAL
ASSETS:
Investments in Securities	$71,412,409	$785,595,169	$--	$857,007,578
Other Financial Instruments(a)	--	101,972,939	--	101,972,939
LIABILITIES:
Other Financial Instruments(a)	--	30,231,991	--	30,231,991

(a) Other financial instruments includes net unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on forward exchange contracts and swaps.

13. NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENT

In March 2008, FASB issued FASB Statement No. 161, "Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 133" (SFAS 161), which expands disclosures about derivative investments and hedging activities. SFAS 161 is effective for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008. The Fund believes applying the various provisions of SFAS 161 will not have a material impact on its financial statements.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT AND CASH PURCHASE PLAN

Edgar Filing: TEMPLETON GLOBAL INCOME FUND - Form N-CSRS

The Fund offers a Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the "Plan") with the following features:

Shareholders must affirmatively elect to participate in the Plan. If you decide to use this service, share dividends and capital gains distributions will be reinvested automatically in shares of the Fund for your account. BNY Mellon Shareowner Services, P.O. Box 358035, Pittsburgh, PA, 15252-8035, will provide additional Plan information upon request.

Whenever the Fund declares dividends in either cash or shares of the Fund, if the market price is equal to or exceeds net asset value at the valuation date, the participant will receive the dividends entirely in shares at a price equal to the net asset value, but not less than 95% of the then current market price of the Fund's shares. If the market price is lower than net asset value or if dividends and/or capital gains distributions are payable only in cash, the participant will receive shares purchased on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise on the open market.

A participant has the option of submitting additional cash payments to the Plan Administrator, in any amounts of at least $100, up to a maximum of $5,000 per month, for the purchase of Fund shares for his or her account. These payments shall be made by check or money order payable to The Bank of New York Mellon and sent to BNY Mellon Shareowner Services, P.O. Box 382009, Pittsburgh, PA, 15252-8009, Attention: Templeton Global Income Fund. The Plan Administrator will apply such payments (less a $5.00 service charge and less a pro rata share of trading fees) to purchases of Fund shares on the open market.

The automatic reinvestment of dividends and/or capital gains does not relieve the participant of any income tax that may be payable on dividends or distributions.

Whenever shares are purchased on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise on the open market, each participant will pay a pro rata portion of trading fees. Trading fees will be deducted from amounts to be invested. The Plan Administrator's fee for a sale of shares through the Plan is $15.00 per transaction plus a $0.12 per share trading fee.

A participant may withdraw from the Plan without penalty at any time by written notice to the Plan Administrator sent to BNY Mellon Shareowner Services, P. O. Box 358035, Pittsburgh, PA, 15252-8035. Upon withdrawal, the participant will receive, without charge, share certificates issued in the participant's name for all full shares held by the Plan Administrator; or, if the participant wishes, the Plan Administrator will sell the shares and send the proceeds to the participant, less a service charge of $15.00 and less trading fees of $0.12 per share.

ITEM 7. DISCLOSURE OF PROXY VOTING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR CLOSED-END MANAGEMENT INVESTMENT COMPANIES.

The board of trustees of the Fund has delegated the authority to vote proxies related to the portfolio securities held by the Fund to the Fund's manager Franklin Advisers, Inc. in accordance with the Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures (Policies) adopted by the manager.

The manager has delegated its administrative duties with respect to the voting of proxies to the Proxy Group within Franklin Templeton Companies, LLC (Proxy Group), an affiliate and wholly owned subsidiary of Franklin Resources, Inc. All proxies received by the Proxy Group will be voted based upon the manager's instructions and/or policies. The manager votes proxies solely in the interests of the Fund and its shareholders.

To assist it in analyzing proxies, the manager subscribes to RiskMetrics Group (RiskMetrics), an unaffiliated third party corporate governance research service that provides in-depth analyses of shareholder meeting agendas, vote recommendations, recordkeeping and vote disclosure services. In addition, the manager subscribes to Glass, Lewis & Co., LLC (Glass Lewis), an unaffiliated third party analytical research firm, to receive analyses and vote recommendations on the shareholder meetings of publicly held U.S. companies. Although RiskMetrics' and/or Glass Lewis' analyses are thoroughly reviewed and considered in making a final voting decision, the manager does not consider recommendations from RiskMetrics, Glass Lewis or any other third party to be determinative of the manager's ultimate decision. As a matter of policy, the officers, directors/trustees and employees of the manager and the Proxy Group will not be influenced by outside sources whose interests conflict with the interests of the Fund and its shareholders. Efforts are made to resolve all conflicts in the interests of the manager's clients. Material conflicts of interest are identified by the Proxy Group based upon analyses of client, distributor, broker dealer and vendor lists, information periodically gathered from directors and officers, and information derived from other sources, including public filings. In situations where a material conflict of interest is identified, the Proxy Group may defer to the voting recommendation of RiskMetrics, Glass Lewis or those of another independent third party provider of proxy services; or send the proxy directly to the Fund with the manager's recommendation regarding the vote for approval. If the conflict is not resolved by the Fund, the Proxy Group may refer the matter, along with the recommended course of action by the manager, if any, to an interdepartmental Proxy Review Committee (which may include portfolio managers and/or research analysts employed by the manager), for evaluation and voting instructions. The Proxy Review Committee may defer to the voting recommendation of RiskMetrics, Glass Lewis or those of another independent third party provider of proxy services; or send the proxy directly to the Fund. Where the Proxy Group or the Proxy Review Committee refers a matter to the Fund, it may rely upon the instructions of a representative of the Fund, such as the board of directors or a committee of the board.

Where a material conflict of interest has been identified, but the items on which the manager's vote recommendations differ from Glass Lewis, RiskMetrics, or another independent third party provider of proxy services relate specifically to (1) shareholder proposals regarding social or environmental issues or political contributions, (2) "Other Business" without describing the matters that might be considered, or (3) items the manager wishes to vote in opposition to the recommendations of an issuer's management, the Proxy Group may defer to the vote recommendations of the manager rather than sending the proxy directly to the Fund for approval.

To avoid certain potential conflicts of interest, the manager will employ echo voting, if possible, in the following instances: (1) when the Fund invests in an underlying fund in reliance on any one of Sections 12(d)(1)(E), (F), or (G) of the 1940 Act, or pursuant to an SEC exemptive order; (2) when the Fund invests uninvested cash in affiliated money market funds pursuant to an SEC exemptive order ("cash sweep arrangement"); or (3) when required pursuant to the Fund's governing documents or applicable law. Echo voting means that the investment manager will vote the shares in the same proportion as the vote of all of the other holders of the Fund's shares.

The recommendation of management on any issue is a factor that the manager considers in determining how proxies should be voted. However, the manager does not consider recommendations from management to be determinative of the manager's ultimate decision. As a matter of practice, the votes with respect to most issues are cast in accordance with the position of the company's management. Each issue, however, is considered on its own merits, and the manager will not support the position of the company's management in any situation where it deems that the ratification of management's position would adversely affect the investment merits of owning that company's shares.

MANAGER'S PROXY VOTING POLICIES AND PRINCIPLES The manager has adopted general

proxy voting guidelines, which are summarized below. These guidelines are not an exhaustive list of all the issues that may arise and the manager cannot anticipate all future situations. In all cases, each proxy will be considered based on the relevant facts and circumstances.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS. The manager supports an independent board of directors, and prefers that key committees such as audit, nominating, and compensation committees be comprised of independent directors. The manager will generally vote against management efforts to classify a board and will generally support proposals to declassify the board of directors. The manager will consider withholding votes from directors who have attended less than 75% of meetings without a valid reason. While generally in favor of separating Chairman and CEO positions, the manager will review this issue as well as proposals to restore or provide for cumulative voting on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration factors such as the company's corporate governance guidelines or provisions and performance.

RATIFICATION OF AUDITORS OF PORTFOLIO COMPANIES. The manager will closely scrutinize the role and performance of auditors. On a case-by-case basis, the manager will examine proposals relating to non-audit relationships and non-audit fees. The manager will also consider, on a case-by-case basis, proposals to rotate auditors, and will vote against the ratification of auditors when there is clear and compelling evidence of accounting irregularities or negligence.

MANAGEMENT AND DIRECTOR COMPENSATION. A company's equity-based compensation plan should be in alignment with the shareholders' long-term interests. The manager believes that executive compensation should be directly linked to the performance of the company. The manager evaluates plans on a case-by-case basis by considering several factors to determine whether the plan is fair and reasonable, including the RiskMetrics quantitative model utilized to assess such plans and/or the Glass Lewis evaluation of the plans. The manager will generally oppose plans that have the potential to be excessively dilutive, and will almost always oppose plans that are structured to allow the repricing of underwater options, or plans that have an automatic share replenishment "evergreen" feature. The manager will generally support employee stock option plans in which the purchase price is at least 85% of fair market value, and when potential dilution is 10% or less.

Severance compensation arrangements will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, although the manager will generally oppose "golden parachutes" that are considered to be excessive. The manager will normally support proposals that require a percentage of directors' compensation to be in the form of common stock, as it aligns their interests with those of shareholders.

ANTI-TAKEOVER MECHANISMS AND RELATED ISSUES. The manager generally opposes anti-takeover measures since they tend to reduce shareholder rights. However, as with all proxy issues, the manager conducts an independent review of each anti-takeover proposal. On occasion, the manager may vote with management when the research analyst has concluded that the proposal is not onerous and would not harm the Fund or its shareholders' interests. The manager generally supports proposals that require shareholder rights' plans ("poison pills") to be subject to a shareholder vote and will closely evaluate such plans on a case-by-case basis to determine whether or not they warrant support. In addition, the manager will generally vote against any proposal to issue stock that has unequal or subordinate voting rights. The manager generally opposes any supermajority voting requirements as well as the payment of "greenmail." The manager generally supports "fair price" provisions and confidential voting.

CHANGES TO CAPITAL STRUCTURE. The manager realizes that a company's financing decisions have a significant impact on its shareholders, particularly when they involve the issuance of additional shares of common or preferred stock or the assumption of additional debt. The manager will review, on a case-by-case basis, proposals by companies to increase authorized shares and the purpose for the increase. The manager will generally not vote in favor of dual-class capital structures to increase the number of authorized shares where that class of stock would have superior voting rights. The manager will generally vote in favor of the issuance of preferred stock in cases where the company specifies the voting, dividend, conversion and other rights of such stock and the terms of the preferred stock issuance are deemed reasonable.

MERGERS AND CORPORATE RESTRUCTURING. Mergers and acquisitions will be subject to careful review by the research analyst to determine whether they would be beneficial to shareholders. The manager will analyze various economic and strategic factors in making the final decision on a merger or acquisition. Corporate restructuring proposals are also subject to a thorough examination on a case-by-case basis.

SOCIAL AND CORPORATE POLICY ISSUES. The manager will generally give management discretion with regard to social, environmental and ethical issues, although the manager may vote in favor of those that are believed to have significant economic benefits or implications for the Fund and its shareholders.

GLOBAL CORPORATE GOVERNANCE. Many of the tenets discussed above are applied to the manager's proxy voting decisions for international investments. However, the manager must be flexible in these instances and must be mindful of the varied market practices of each region.

The manager will attempt to process every proxy it receives for all domestic and foreign issuers. However, there may be situations in which the manager cannot process proxies, for example, where a meeting notice was received too late, or sell orders preclude the ability to vote. If a security is on loan, the manager may determine that it is not in the best interests of the Fund to recall the security for voting purposes. Also, the manager may abstain from voting under certain circumstances or vote against items such as "Other Business" when the manager is not given adequate information from the company.
