For Immediate Release

Internet Gold Announces Proposed Secondary Public Offering on the TASE

Petach Tikva, Israel, March 17, 2005 - Internet Gold (NASDAQ: IGLD, TASE: [Internet Zahav in Hebrew]) today announced that its Board of Directors has authorized a secondary public offering of its securities on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange (TASE) that will be directed to Israeli residents. The exact structure and size of the offering will be determined after evaluating the current financial markets.

The proceeds of the offering will enable the Company to take advantage of the expected structural changes in Israel's communications marketplace that are expected to be implemented during the next few months, giving rise to opportunities to play a major role in the Israeli market.

"We are delighted with the Board's decision to position Internet Gold to move in a changing marketplace," said Eli Holtzman, Internet Gold's CEO. "We believe the offering will attract significant Israeli institutional investors, expanding the liquidity of our share and enhancing our standing as strong contenders in our markets. The structure of the public offering will be determined in the coming days and is expected to consist of both equity and convertible debt."

About Internet Gold

Internet Gold is a communications company that provides Internet access and related value-added services, international telephony, e-advertising, content and e-Commerce services throughout Israel to both residential and business customers.
