ABOUT THE MEETING

What should I receive?

This Proxy Statement, the Corporation's Annual Report, the Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders and the proxy card were sent to stockholders on or about March 19, 2007. The Corporation's Annual Report includes the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006, duly certified by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, as independent registered public accountants.

Who is soliciting my vote?

The Board of Directors of the Corporation (the Board) is soliciting your vote at the Meeting.

What will I be voting on?

The Corporation's stockholders will be voting on:

Election of directors (see page 7)

Ratification of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Corporation's independent registered public accounting firm for 2007 (see page 20).

How many votes do I have?

You will have one vote for every share of the Corporation's shares of common stock, par value $6 per share (Common Stock) you owned as of the close of business on March 12, 2007, the record date for the Meeting (the Record Date).

How many votes can all stockholders cast?

One vote for each of the Corporation's 279,087,586 shares of Common Stock that were outstanding on the Record Date. The shares covered by any proxy that is properly executed and received before 9:00 a.m. local time on the day of the Meeting will be voted.

How many votes must be present to hold the Meeting?

A majority of the votes that can be cast. Votes cast by proxy or in person at the Meeting will be counted by ADP Financial Information Services, Inc., an independent third party. We urge you to vote by proxy even if you plan to attend the Meeting, so that we will know as soon as possible that enough votes will be present for us to hold the Meeting.

How do I vote?

You can vote either in person at the Meeting or by proxy without attending the Meeting.

To vote by proxy, you must either

Fill out the enclosed proxy card, date and sign it, and return it in the enclosed postage paid envelope,

Vote by telephone (instructions are on the Proxy Card, as authorized by the General Corporation Law of Puerto Rico and the Bylaws of the Corporation), or

Vote over the Internet (instructions are on the proxy card, as authorized by the General Corporation Law of Puerto Rico and the Bylaws of the Corporation).

If you want to vote in person at the Meeting, and you hold your Common Stock through a securities broker or nominee (that is, in street name), you must obtain a proxy from your broker or nominee and bring that proxy to the Meeting.

In addition to solicitation by mail, management may participate in the solicitation of proxies by telephone, personal contacts or otherwise. The Board has engaged the firm of Georgeson & Company, Inc. to aid in the solicitation of proxies. The cost of solicitation will be borne by the Corporation and is estimated at $7,000.

To avoid delays in ballot taking and counting, and in order to ensure that your proxy is voted in accordance with your wishes, compliance with the following instructions is respectfully requested: when signing a proxy as attorney, executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, authorized officer of a corporation, or on behalf of a minor, please give full title. If shares are in the name of more than one record holder, all record holders should sign.

Can I change my vote?

Yes. Just send in a new proxy card with a later date, or cast a new vote by telephone or over the Internet, or send a written notice of revocation to the President or Secretary of Popular, Inc., P.O. Box 362708, San Juan, Puerto Rico 00936-2708, delivered before the proxy is exercised. If you attend the Meeting and want to vote in person, you may request that your previously submitted proxy not be used.

What vote is required and how are abstentions and broker non-votes treated?

For purposes of determining quorum, abstentions and broker non-votes will be counted as shares that are present and entitled to vote. A broker non-vote results when a broker or nominee has expressly indicated in the proxy card that it does not have discretionary authority to vote on a particular matter and has not received voting instructions from the beneficial owner. As to the election of directors, the proxy card being provided by the Board enables stockholders to vote for the election of the nominees proposed by the Board, or to withhold authority to vote for one or more of the nominees being proposed. The election of directors and the ratification of the independent registered public accounting firm will be acted upon a majority of the votes cast. Therefore, abstentions and broker non-votes will not have an effect on the election of directors of the Corporation, or the ratification of independent registered public accounting firm.

Could other matters be decided at the Meeting?

The Board does not intend to present any business at the Meeting other than that described in the notice of meeting. The Board at this time knows of no other matters which may come before the Meeting. However, if any new matter requiring the vote of the stockholders is properly presented before the Meeting, proxies may be voted with respect thereto in accordance with the best judgment of proxy holders, under the discretionary power granted by stockholders to their proxies in connection with general matters.

What happens if the Meeting is postponed or adjourned?

Your proxy will still be valid and may be voted at the postponed or adjourned Meeting. You will still be able to change or revoke your proxy until it is voted.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND COMMITTEES

PROPOSAL 1: ELECTION OF DIRECTORS FOR A THREE-YEAR TERM

The Certificate of Incorporation and the Bylaws of the Corporation establish a classified Board pursuant to which the Board is divided into three classes as nearly equal in number as possible, with each class having at least three members and with the term of office of one class expiring each year. Each director serves for a term ending on the date of the third annual meeting of stockholders following the annual meeting at which such director was elected or until his or her successor has been elected and qualified.

At the Meeting, three directors assigned to Class 2 are to be elected to serve until the 2010 annual meeting of stockholders or until their respective successors shall have been elected and qualified. The remaining six directors of the Corporation will continue to serve as directors, as follows: until the 2008 Annual Meeting of Stockholders of the Corporation, in the case of those three directors assigned to Class 3, and until the 2009 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, in the case of those three directors assigned to Class 1, or in each case until their successors are elected and qualified.

The policy of the Board, as set forth in a resolution adopted on January 8, 1991, provides that no person shall be nominated for election or reelection as a director of the Board if at the date of the annual meeting or during the term to be served such person attains 72 years of age. Mr. José B. Carrión Jr. would attain 72 years of age during the term to be served. In accordance with Board policy, Mr. Carrión Jr. is not being nominated for reelection as director.

The persons named as proxies in the accompanying proxy card have advised the Corporation that, unless otherwise instructed, they intend to vote at the Meeting the shares covered by the proxies FOR the election of the three nominees named below, and that if any one or more of such nominees should become unavailable for election they intend to vote such shares FOR the election of such substitute nominees as the Board may propose. The Corporation has no knowledge that any nominee will become unavailable for election.

The Board met 11 times during 2006. All directors attended 75% or more meetings of the Board and the committees of the Board on which such directors served.

While the Corporation has not adopted a formal policy with respect to directors' attendance at the Meeting, the Corporation encourages directors to attend the Meeting. All of the Corporation's directors attended the last Meeting.

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee and other Corporate Governance Matters

The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee consists of three or more members of the Board, each of whom the Board has determined has no material relationship with the Corporation and each of whom is otherwise independent under the director independence rules of The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee held six meetings during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006.

The purpose of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee is as follows:

- identify and recommend individuals to the Board for nomination as members of the Board and its committees;
- identify and recommend individuals to the Board for nomination as CEO and Chairman of the Corporation;
- promote the effective functioning of the Board and its committees; and
- develop and recommend to the Board a set of corporate governance principles applicable to the Corporation, and review these principles at least once a year.

Under the Corporation's Corporate Governance Guidelines, the Board should, based on the recommendations of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee, select new nominees for the position of independent director considering the following criteria:

- personal qualities and characteristics, accomplishments and reputation in the business community;
- current knowledge and contacts in the communities in which the Corporation does business and in the Corporation's industry or other industries relevant to the Corporation's business;
- ability and willingness to commit adequate time to Board and committee matters;
- the fit of the individual's skills and personality with those of other directors and potential directors in building a Board that is effective, collegial and responsive to the needs of the Corporation; and
- diversity of viewpoints, background, experience and other demographics factors.

The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee will consider nominees recommended by stockholders. There are no differences in the manner in which the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee evaluates nominees for director based on whether the nominee is recommended by a stockholder. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee did not receive any recommendation from stockholders for the Meeting.

Stockholders who wish to submit nominees for director for consideration by the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee for election at the Corporation's 2008 annual meeting of stockholders may do so by submitting in writing, prior to November 19, 2007, such nominees' names and a brief description of the nominees' judgment, skills, diversity, and experience with businesses and other organizations, to the Secretary of the Board of Directors (751) at Popular, Inc., 209 Muñoz Rivera Avenue, Hato Rey, Puerto Rico, 00918.

At its January 25, 2007 meeting, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee approved the nominations of Michael Masin, Manuel Morales Jr. and José R. Vizcarrondo as Class 2 directors, in the Corporation's 2007 proxy card. Mr. Masin is being nominated for election for the first time at the Meeting.

The Board has adopted a Code of Ethics (the Code) to be followed by the Corporation's employees, officers (including the CEO, Chief Financial Officer and Corporate Comptroller) and directors to achieve conduct that reflects the Corporation's ethical principles. Certain portions of the Code deal with activities of directors, particularly with respect to transactions in the securities of the Corporation and potential conflicts of interest. Directors, NEOs, executive officers and employees are required to be familiar with and comply with the Code. The Code provides that any waivers for NEOs, executive officers or directors may be made only by the independent members of the Board and must be promptly disclosed to the stockholders. During 2006, the Corporation did not receive nor grant any request from directors or executive officers for waivers under the provisions of the Code. On September 15, 2006, the Board approved amendments to the Code. AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee consists of three or more members of the Board. The members of the Audit Committee each have been determined by the Board to be independent as required by the director independence rules of The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. Currently, the Audit Committee is comprised of four outside directors, all of whom are independent. The Audit Committee held 13 meetings during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006. Earnings releases, Form 10-K and Form 10-Q filings were discussed in 10 of such meetings.

The Audit Committee's primary purpose is to assist the Board in its oversight of the accounting and financial reporting processes of the Corporation. The Audit Committee operates pursuant to a charter that was last amended and restated by the Board on October 13, 2004.

In the performance of its oversight function, the Audit Committee has considered and discussed the audited financial statements of the Corporation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006 with management and PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, the Corporation's independent registered public accountants. The Audit Committee has also discussed with the independent accountants the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended, "Communication with Audit Committees". Finally, the Audit Committee has received the written disclosures and the letter from PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, as amended, "Independence Discussion with Audit Committees", has considered whether the provision of non-audit services by the independent registered public accounting firm to the Corporation is compatible with maintaining the auditors' independence, and has discussed with the independent registered public accountants its independence from the Corporation and its management. These considerations and discussions, however, do not assure that the audit of the Corporation's financial statements has been carried out in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board ("PCAOB"), that the financial statements are presented in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") or that the Company's registered public accountants are in fact independent.

As set forth in the Audit Committee Charter, the management of the Corporation is responsible for the preparation, presentation and integrity of the Corporation's financial statements. Furthermore, management and the Internal Audit Division are responsible for maintaining appropriate accounting and financial reporting principles and policies, and internal controls and procedures that provide for compliance with accounting standards and applicable laws and regulations. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP is responsible for auditing the Corporation's financial statements and expressing an opinion as to their conformity with GAAP in the United States of America.

The members of the Audit Committee are not engaged professionally in the practice of auditing or accounting and are not employees of the Corporation. The Corporation's management is responsible for its accounting, financial management and internal controls. As such, it is not the duty or responsibility of the Audit Committee or its members to conduct field work or other types of auditing or accounting reviews or procedures to set auditor independence standards.

Based on the Audit Committee's consideration of the audited financial statements and the discussions referred to above with management and the independent registered public accountants, and subject to the limitations on the role and responsibilities of the Audit Committee set forth in the Charter and those discussed above, the Committee recommended to the Board that the Corporation's audited financial statements be included in the Corporation's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006 for filing with the SEC.

COMPENSATION OF DIRECTORS

Prior to May 2004, outside directors of the Corporation were granted options to purchase Common Stock pursuant to the 2001 Stock Option Plan (the "2001 Option Plan"). Commencing May 2004, options to directors of the Corporation were granted under the Popular, Inc. 2004 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the "2004 Omnibus Plan"). The amount of stock options granted each month was equal to the quotient (rounded to the nearest whole share) of (x) 6,250 and (y) the value of the option based on the closing price of the Common Stock on the date granted. Option values on the grant dates were determined by using the Black-Scholes Option Valuation Model. The options granted under the 2004 Omnibus Plan become exercisable with respect to 20% of the shares on each anniversary of the date of grant and remain exercisable until the 10th anniversary of the grant.

On July 14, 2004, the Board approved a new compensation package for the non-employee directors of the Corporation based on recommendations from Watson Wyatt, outside consultants to the Board. Under the terms of the new package, each director receives an annual retainer of $20,000, while directors that are elected as chairman of any Board committee receive an annual retainer of $25,000. The retainer is paid in either cash or restricted stock under the 2004 Omnibus Plan, at the director's election. The directors also receive an annual grant of $35,000 payable in the form of restricted stock under the 2004 Omnibus Plan.

In addition, during 2006 non-employee directors received $1,000 for each Board or committee meeting attended, payable in either cash or restricted stock at the director's election. All restricted stock awards are subject to risk of forfeiture and restrictions on transferability until retirement of the director, when the awards become vested. Dividends are paid on the restricted stock during the vesting period which is reinvested in shares of Common Stock.

The Corporation reimburses directors for travel expenses incurred in connection with attending Board, committee and stockholder meetings and for other Corporation-related business expenses (including the travel expenses of spouses if they are specifically invited to attend the event for appropriate business purposes), which may include use of private aircraft, if available and approved in advance by the CEO.

PROPOSAL 2: RATIFICATION OF SELECTION OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board intends to retain the services of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the independent public auditors of the Corporation for the year 2007. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP has served as independent public auditors of the Bank since 1971 and of the Corporation since May 1991, when it was appointed by the Board.

Neither the Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation nor its By-Laws require that the shareholders ratify the selection of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Corporation's independent auditors. If the shareholders do not ratify the selection, the Board and the Audit Committee will reconsider whether or not to retain PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, but may nonetheless retain such independent auditors. Even if the selection is ratified, the Board and the Audit Committee in their discretion may change the appointment at any time during the year if they determine that such change would be in the best interest of the Corporation and its shareholders.

Representatives of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP will attend the Meeting and will be available to respond to any appropriate questions that may arise; they will also have the opportunity to make a statement if they so desire.

The selection of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Corporation's auditors must be ratified by a majority of the votes cast at the Meeting.

The Board recommends that you vote FOR the ratification of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Corporation's independent registered public accounting firm for 2007.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The Compensation Committee

Members and Role

The Compensation Committee has four members Francisco M. Rexach (Chairman), Juan J. Bermúdez, María Luisa Ferré and William J. Teuber, Jr. each of whom has no material relationship with the Corporation and each of whom is otherwise independent under the director independence rules of The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. None of the members of the Committee are officers or employees of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries.

The Compensation Committee acts pursuant to a written charter adopted on November 12, 2003. The Committee s charter is available online at www.popular.com under Investor Relations Corporate Governance Documents. The charter may be reviewed and revised as needed from time to time, particularly in light of changes in regulatory requirements and best corporate governance practices. Under its charter, the Compensation Committee may, if suitable, use the necessary resources and exercise its authority to select, retain, terminate, and approve the fees and other retention terms of special counsel or other experts or consultants, as it deems appropriate, without seeking approval of the Board or management.

Table of Contents

The Compensation Committee discharges the Board's responsibilities relating to the compensation of the NEOs. Its fundamental responsibilities are:

establishing the Corporation's general compensation philosophy and overseeing the development and implementation of compensation programs;

reviewing and approving the corporate goals and objectives related to the compensation of the CEO;

evaluating the CEO's performance in light of those goals and objectives;

setting the CEO's compensation level based on this evaluation;

reviewing and approving compensation programs applicable to the NEOs;

Committee Meetings

The Compensation Committee's calendar and agendas are established after evaluating the matters that require Committee consideration at different times during the year. The Compensation Committee receives and reviews materials in advance of each of its meetings. These materials include information that management believes is helpful to the Compensation Committee, as well as materials that the Committee specifically requests. Depending on the agenda for the particular meeting, such materials may include:

financial reports on year-to-date performance versus budget and comparisons to prior year performance;

calculations and reports on levels of achievement of individual and corporate performance objectives;

reports on the Corporation's strategic objectives and budget for future periods;

information on the NEOs' stock ownership and option holdings;

information regarding compensation programs and compensation levels at peer groups of companies identified by the Corporation's compensation consultant.

During fiscal year 2006 and prior to the filing of this proxy in 2007, the Compensation Committee met on seven occasions (five in 2006 and two in 2007 prior to proxy filing). The CEO and the Executive Vice President for People, Communications and Planning (EVP-PCP) attended portions of all of the meetings. At the meetings, the EVP-PCP presented reports, proposals and background information in light of the Corporation's strategic objectives, and the rationale behind compensation programs and several proposed modifications. The EVP-PCP also answered questions posed by the Compensation Committee members.

The Compensation Committee met in executive session in three of the 2006 meetings. The CEO was the only executive present at some of the sessions. In those sessions, the Compensation Committee discussed with the CEO his accomplishments and objectives, as well as the performance of the other executives of the corporate organizational unit, the CLC, consisting of the Business Unit Leaders: David H. Chafey Jr., Roberto R. Herencia, Félix M. Villamil and Cameron Williams, and the Supporting Area Leaders: Jorge A. Junquera, Amílcar L. Jordán, Esq., Tere Loubriel and Brunilda Santos de Alvarez, Esq. The CEO also discussed with the Compensation Committee preliminary severance and related payments to Popular Financial Holdings (PFH) executives as a result of PFH s Restructuring and Integration Plan, which became effective on January 9, 2007 (further described below under PFH Restructuring and Integration Plan). The CEO was not present when the Compensation Committee evaluated his goals and related compensation and awards.

In its meetings, the Compensation Committee:

evaluated and approved the recommended total compensation for all NEOs and evaluated the total compensation for all other executives;

discussed preliminary 2006 short and long-term management incentive plans, as well as possible modifications under consideration;

reviewed the SEC s disclosure rules related to executive compensation; discussed and approved the Compensation Committee s report on NEOs compensation for the 2006 Proxy Statement;

reviewed NEOs compensation plans, as well as their strategic and personal scorecards; discussed the performance of the CEO and other CLC members; and reviewed, discussed and approved the CD&A for the 2007 Proxy Statement.

Table of ContentsThe Compensation Committee Process

The Compensation Committee oversees the general compensation practices of the Corporation. The Compensation Committee keeps abreast of competitive compensation practices regarding salaries, incentives and supplemental programs in order to assist the Corporation to attract, motivate and retain qualified NEOs capable of developing and executing the Corporation's growth and diversification strategies. The executive compensation program for NEOs is set taking into account industry trends and is approved by the Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee considers pay levels and programs at comparable financial institutions, the Corporation's short and long-term financial performance, and the available means to continue developing a strong relationship among executive performance, compensation and shareholder returns.

Although the Compensation Committee exercises its independent judgment in reaching its compensation decisions, it utilizes the advice provided by the Corporation's EVP-PCP, with input from the Corporate People Division, the Chief Legal Officer, the Corporate Comptroller and the CEO in assessing, designing and recommending compensation programs, plans and awards for NEOs. In particular, the EVP-PCP and the Corporate People Division, with guidance and advice from external consultants, propose the design of compensation programs, plans and awards for the NEOs. The Chief Legal Officer counsels on legal matters regarding such programs. The Corporate Comptroller evaluates and advises on the programs' accounting and tax implications. The CEO works with the Compensation Committee in establishing individual and corporate performance objectives and targets for NEOs, and in reviewing the appropriateness of the financial measures used in incentive plans and the degree of difficulty in achieving specific performance targets. They also make sure that compensation programs are aligned with the Corporation's strategic objectives and diversification strategies.

Objectives of Compensation ProgramsCompensation Program Philosophy

Based on the Corporation's total compensation philosophy, NEOs compensation is designed to:

attract and retain seasoned executives at competitive pay levels;

motivate high levels of individual performance, coupled with increased shareholder returns; fairly reward contributions and results in attaining key operating objectives over which the executives have control or influence; and promote teamwork and collaboration among the executive team.

The Corporation's compensation philosophy is revised from time to time according to changing business needs, investor expectations, evolving financial accounting and legal standards, share dilution levels, results of employee engagement surveys, and market practices.

The compensation analysis begins with a review of the Corporation's strategic objectives and business plans. The compensation program also considers each NEO's scope of responsibility, market competitive assessments of similar roles at peer companies, and the relationship between pay and performance (i.e., degree of achievement of the Corporation's short-term results and long-term growth objectives). The Corporation evaluates whether its compensation programs meet the Corporation's goals by monitoring engagement and retention among executives, and by assessing the relationship between performance and actual payouts.

Benchmarking of Compensation

The Corporation periodically assesses the competitiveness of its pay practices for NEOs through internal staff research and external studies conducted by executive compensation consultants. Internal staff analyzes publicly available information (e.g., proxy analysis and executive compensation data provided by sources such as SNL Financial, Watson Wyatt, Hewitt Associates and Hay Group). The Corporation also takes into consideration executive compensation information from leading financial institutions in its headquarters market of Puerto Rico and other geographical areas where it has presence.

In making certain corporate decisions, including compensation decisions, the Corporation compares itself against a peer group of publicly-traded regional banks of comparable size and scope of financial services. This peer group includes the following companies: Comerica, Inc., M&T Bank Corporation, Marshall & Ilsley Corporation and Huntington Bancshares, Inc. The Corporation uses the peer group information primarily to ensure that the executive compensation program as a whole is competitive, meaning generally within the desired range of comparative pay of the peer group companies, when the company achieves the targeted performance levels. An individual's relative compensation with respect to the peer group may vary according to a number of circumstances, including such individual's qualifications and performance.

Table of Contents

The Corporation also contracts pay studies, the most recent of which was conducted in 2004 by Ben S. Cole Financial Incorporated, a financial services consulting firm specializing in executive compensation strategy formulation, governance consultation and program implementation. The 2004 study focused primarily on financial institutions with median assets of $27 billion, net income of $366 million, return on assets of 1.39% and return on equity of 15.87% as of December 31, 2002. At that time, the Corporation had assets of $34 billion, net income of $352 million, return on assets of 1.11% and return on common equity of 16.29%. The Corporation expects to conduct a new study during 2007.

Elements of Incentive Compensation

The current compensation program for the Corporation's NEOs consists of base salary plus performance-based incentive compensation. For performance years between 2004 and 2006, the performance-based incentive compensation consisted of cash incentives and restricted stock. Prior to 2004, NEOs were awarded stock options as part of their performance-based compensation. The Compensation Committee can exercise its discretion in modifying the design and awards of NEOs compensation.

Base Salary

Base salaries are generally designed to be competitive with comparable positions in peer group companies. However, each NEO's actual salary varies based on his or her qualifications and experience, responsibilities and potential, individual goals and objectives, factors relating to individual and Corporation performance, and competitive pay practices. Base salaries are reviewed annually.

In an effort to underscore the Corporation's cost reduction objectives, the CEO requested that the Compensation Committee reduce his base salary by 10% effective September 2005. The Compensation Committee approved this request, as well as a related pay reduction of 10% for the President of the Bank and of 5% for all other NEOs. The latter reductions were reflected in base pay beginning in January 2006 and were partially offset by base pay adjustments related to the discontinuation of deferred profit sharing awards described below under Elements of Post-Termination Compensation.

Performance-based Incentive Compensation

The Corporation's incentive compensation programs are governed by the 2004 Omnibus Plan, which was approved by shareholders on April 30, 2004. The Omnibus Incentive Plan provides the Compensation Committee with the ability to offer different types of cash and stock-based awards to promote high performance levels and achievement of corporate goals by key employees, encourage the growth of stockholder value and allow key employees to participate in the long-term growth and profitability of the Corporation. NEO compensation under the 2004 Omnibus Plan has consisted of annual cash incentives and service-vested restricted stock. As described below, effective in 2007, the Compensation Committee approved a modification of the Corporation's long-term incentive component to replace approximately one-half of the existing restricted stock reward opportunity with performance shares, a stock award which is contingent upon the achievement of future financial goals.

NEOs qualify for short and long-term incentives if they meet the individual and corporate performance objectives and targets set at the beginning of each fiscal year by the Compensation Committee. The Committee considers the Corporation's strategic objectives and diversification strategies and sets the threshold, target and maximum performance levels such that the relative difficulty of achieving the target level is consistent from year to year. During three of the past five years, the Corporation's performance was between 101% and 103% of target. On one occasion, the Corporation achieved the maximum performance level, and in 2006 it did not reach the threshold performance.

2006 Short-Term Incentive

The short-term cash incentive is designed to reward achievement of annual profit goals. The Corporation measures actual performance against after-tax net income goals established at the beginning of the fiscal year. The short-term cash incentive reflects the financial performance goals according to each NEO's degree of control or influence (comprising Corporation and business unit results), as well as strategic and personal objectives, as detailed in the tables below.

For the 2006 short-term cash incentive, the CEO had a target of 100% of salary with a maximum of 150%, provided all objectives were met, as outlined in the following table:

Net Income Goal Achievement	Incentive as Percent of Base Pay
< Threshold	0%
Threshold	40%
100% (target)	70%
Maximum	120%
 Strategic and Personal	 30%
 Total (target)	 100%

Table of Contents

Since the Corporation's net income for 2006 was below the minimum performance threshold, no payout was awarded to the CEO for financial performance. The Compensation Committee approved an award of 20% of base pay (of the potential 30%) for strategic and personal objectives based on an evaluation of the CEO's performance against previously approved goals, including: strategic vision, enhancement of the Corporation's reputation and image in all the markets it serves, growth and profitability of the Corporation's U.S. franchise, growth of the Corporation's processing and technology solutions business, strengthening of the Corporation's banking institutions' market share, day-to-day leadership, and other personal individual achievements.

The other NEOs had a target short-term cash incentive for 2006 of 100% of base pay with a maximum of 140%, provided all objectives were met, as outlined in the following table:

	Business Unit Leaders (Chafey, Herencia, Villamil, Williams)	Support Area Leaders (Jordán, Junquera, Loubriel, Santos)
Net Income Goal
Achievement
Corporate Results
< Threshold	0%	0%
Threshold	20%	35%
100% (target)	35%	65%
Maximum	55%	105%
Business Unit Results
< Threshold	0%
Threshold	20%
100% (target)	35%
Maximum	55%
Strategic and Personal	30%	35%
Total (target)	100%	100%

Inasmuch as the business units' net income for 2006 surpassed the pre-established thresholds (with the exception of PFH), the respective Business Unit Leaders received the corresponding awards for the financial performance component. Support Area Leaders did not receive the financial performance award due to the Corporation's performance, which was below the threshold. Strategic and personal performance awards for the NEOs, except for Mr. Williams who received no award, ranged from 25-30% of base pay. The awards were recommended by the CEO and approved by the Compensation Committee based on consideration of critical performance areas related to the Corporation's business strategy and values, including: customer satisfaction, strategic performance in the marketplace, employee engagement scores, involvement in community service, process and efficiency improvements, achievement of critical milestones in strategic projects, including new products and delivery systems, technology infrastructure, risk management, overall teamwork, and personal development and growth.

Long-Term Incentive

Restricted Stock - Service-vested restricted stock was awarded annually to NEOs for fiscal year performance between 2004 and 2006. Shares of restricted stock were issued subsequent to the public release of the Corporation's annual performance results. For all awards to Mr. Carrión and the 2004 fiscal year performance award for other NEOs, the restrictions lapse upon termination of employment on or after attaining age 55 and completing 10 years of service (i.e., eligibility for unreduced retirement benefits under the defined benefit plan). For the other NEOs, restrictions on the 2005 fiscal year performance award are as follows: 40% lapse upon termination of employment on or after attaining age 55 and completing 10 years of service, and the restrictions on the remaining 60% lapse in equal installments during the 5 years subsequent to the award (the first vesting occurred on January 22, 2007). The amount of restricted stock awarded is based on the Corporation's prior year after-tax net income results as compared to predetermined performance goals. The awards' value to the NEOs over time is linked to the performance of the Corporation's Common Stock.

The CEO's target for the long-term incentive plan for 2006 was 200% of salary with a maximum of 250%. The other NEOs had a target of 100% of salary with a maximum of 125%. Neither the CEO nor any other NEO received restricted stock awards for 2006 performance since the Corporation's after-tax net income goal was not achieved.

2007 Modifications - During 2006, the Corporation's management hired executive compensation consultant Hewitt Associates to perform a review of its executive incentives. Based on the recommendations presented by Hewitt Associates, management proposed the integration into the long-term incentive component of an enhanced Corporation performance feature that reflects practices at leading U.S. financial institutions and is designed to strengthen the link between NEO performance and shareholder returns. This program is expected to motivate NEOs to make decisions that focus on financial results, while maximizing the Corporation's utilization of capital and long-term value. The recommendations were approved by the Compensation Committee in January 2007.

The new long-term incentive is expected to deliver to the NEOs competitive long-term incentive awards by substituting approximately one-half of the long-term incentive value that is now delivered in service-vested restricted stock (which promotes continuity and retention of key talent over time) with performance shares, a stock award which is contingent upon the achievement of future financial goals (the Corporation's return on equity). Performance will be measured over a period of three consecutive fiscal years, with the first performance cycle being 2007-2009. Actual awards, if earned, range from 50% to 200% of each NEO's target award, depending on the Corporation's performance.

As recommended by Hewitt Associates, and validated by a review of market survey data regarding trends among financial institutions, the determination of variable pay based on a combination of annual net income and the long-term utilization of capital creates a sound framework for maximizing the Corporation's performance and shareholder returns.

Personal Benefits and Perquisites

Personal benefits and perquisites are not intended to constitute a significant portion of NEO compensation. Such benefits are periodically reviewed based on market trends and regulatory developments. In accordance with market practices, perquisites such as the use of company-owned automobiles, club memberships and personal tickets to events sponsored by the Corporation or its subsidiaries are offered on a limited basis to NEOs. In addition, the Corporation owns a corporate aircraft and an apartment in New York City, used by the CEO primarily for business purposes. For detailed information about the personal benefits and perquisites mentioned above, refer to the Summary Compensation Table.

Tax Deductibility of Executive Compensation

As part of its role, the Compensation Committee reviews and considers the deductibility of executive compensation under Section 162(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, which provides that the Corporation may not deduct compensation of more than $1,000,000 that is paid to certain individuals. However, the Section 162 (m) limitation does not apply to compensation that qualifies as performance-based under U.S. federal tax law. It is the Committee's intention to have applicable compensation payable to our NEOs generally qualify as performance-based and to be deductible for U.S. federal income tax purposes, unless there are valid compensatory reasons for paying non-deductible amounts in order to ensure competitive levels of total compensation.

In addition, for NEOs resident in Puerto Rico, compensation is deductible for income tax purposes if it is reasonable in the view of the Corporation. It is the Committee's intention to have compensation paid to our NEOs resident in Puerto Rico be deductible, unless there are valid compensatory reasons for paying non-deductible amounts in order to ensure competitive levels of total compensation.

Stock Ownership/Retention Requirements

The Corporation has stock ownership requirements that apply to NEOs, which have been in effect since January 1, 2005. The CEO is required to own Common Stock amounting to at least five times his salary. Other NEOs are required to own Common Stock amounting to at least three times their salary.

The following securities are taken into account toward the stock ownership requirements: shares purchased in the open market; shares jointly owned with or separately by spouse and/or children; shares held in the Savings and Investment Plan (401(k) or 1165(e) Plan); shares exercised through the Stock Option Plan; NEOs non-qualified deferred share awards; vested restricted stock; and shares of the Corporation's Common Stock held in a trust established for estate and/or tax planning purposes that is revocable by the NEOs and/or the NEOs' spouse.

NEOs who have worked for the Corporation for more than five years are expected to achieve their stock ownership requirements within three years of the first day of the year following their appointment to a position subject to the requirements. Those who have worked for the Corporation for less than five years are expected to achieve their requirements within five years of the first day of the year following their appointment to a position subject to the requirements. If an NEO's requirement changes because of a promotion, a three-year period is granted to achieve the new requirement. Once the requirement is achieved, the corresponding ownership level must be maintained for as long as the NEO is subject to the stock ownership requirements.

Failure to meet the stock ownership requirements within the appropriate timeframe may result in the payment of future short-term incentive awards in the form of stock rather than cash. The stock ownership requirements are revised every five years. Although most of the current NEOs already meet the stock ownership requirements, they have until December 31, 2007 to reach the pre-established levels.

Table of ContentsEXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

In 2006, the Corporation's net income decreased by 34% as compared with 2005, and the financial targets outlined in the short and long-term incentive plans were not achieved. The sum of cash compensation and long-term incentives granted to the NEOs declined by 57% as compared to 2005.

The following Summary Compensation Table outlines cash compensation awarded, together with the accounting cost to the Corporation of previously granted equity awards, accrued pension benefits and other non-cash compensation.

- b) Includes Christmas bonus.
- c) For the fiscal year 2006, the performance criteria established in the plan were not met; therefore, no stock awards were made for the year. The values shown in the table reflect the accounting compensation cost incurred during the year in accordance with FAS123R for equity awards earned in prior years. Since a portion of the equity awards vests upon termination of employment on or after attaining age 55 and 10 years of service (i.e., eligibility for unreduced benefits under the defined benefit plan), the costs are influenced by each NEO's proximity to being eligible for retirement. the other NEOs, restrictions on the 2005 fiscal year award are as follows: 40% lapse upon termination of employment on or after attaining the age of 55 and 10 years of service, and the restrictions on the remaining 60% lapse in equal installments during the 5 years subsequent to the grant. The first vesting occurred on January 22, 2007.

- d) Stock options were granted to some executives between 2002 and 2004 for performance for the years 2001 through 2003. These figures reflect the FAS123R accounting cost of these awards.

- e) Non-equity compensation includes the cash portion of profit sharing, and short-term cash incentive. The short-term cash incentive is determined as a percentage of base pay using net income as the metric against which performance is measured. The details of this design are included in the CD&A.

- f) Present values were determined using year-end FAS 87 assumptions with the following exception: payments are assumed to begin at the earliest possible retirement date at which benefits are unreduced. These vary for NEOs, depending on their initial employment situation. For Mr. Villamil and Mrs. Santos, their earliest possible retirement age with unreduced benefits is the age of 60, for all other NEOs the age to receive retirement benefits with no reductions is 55. Also, each NEO is assumed to continue

employment
retirement date.

- g) All other compensation includes the Corporation's match to savings plans for all executives, the change in value of retiree medical insurance coverage for executives with that future benefit and the value of all perquisites if their aggregate value exceeds $10,000. The 2005 data includes the deferred portion of the profit sharing award (which is no longer provided since the beginning of 2006).

- 1) On February 15, 2006 the Compensation Committee established target awards expressed as a percentage of each NEO's 2006 base salary and Corporation performance measures for the purpose of determining the amount payable for the year ended December 31, 2006. The amounts shown in the Threshold column assume that neither the Corporation nor the Business Units meet performance targets, but the NEOs are awarded the maximum level for the strategic and personal portion of the incentive. However, this portion is not guaranteed either as reflected in the awards paid in 2007 for 2006 performance.

The non-equity incentive awards actually earned and paid to NEOs for 2006 performance were as follows: Mr. Carrión $148,320; Mr. Chafey $406,273; Mr. Junquera $134,750; Mr. Herencia $237,458; Mr. Villamil $177,621; Mrs. Loubriel $79,625; Mrs. Santos $73,500; Mr. Jordán $88,200; and Mr. Williams $0. These amounts are also included in the Summary Compensation Table under column (e). Please see the Compensation Discussion and Analysis Performance Based Incentive Compensation for additional information about the Corporation's incentive awards.

- 3) On February 15, 2006 the Compensation Committee established target awards expressed as a percentage of each NEO's 2006 base salary and Corporation performance measures for the purpose of determining the amount payable for the year ended December 31, 2006. Using the stock closing price on the date the award was granted ($19.19), these target awards converted into number of shares amount to: Mr. Carrión 77,290, Mr. Chafey 36,347, Mr. Junquera 28,088, Mr. Herencia 25,534, Mr. Villamil 15,320, Mrs. Loubriel 16,597, Mrs. Santos 15,320, Mr. Jordán 15,320 and Mr. Williams 21,040. However, given the Corporation's below threshold performance for 2006, no stock awards were granted to NEOs.

ELEMENTS OF POST-TERMINATION COMPENSATIONPuerto RicoRetirement Program

Before 2006, the Bank had a retirement program covering substantially all regular monthly salaried employees of the Corporation and the Bank, which consisted of annual deferred profit sharing contributions and a non-contributory, defined benefit retirement plan (Retirement Plan). Effective January 1, 2006, the retirement program was substantially modified primarily to maintain total compensation competitiveness and corporate-wide alignment, while providing greater flexibility to employees and promoting a shared responsibility for retirement saving. Generally, retirement benefits were reduced in the area of deferred profit sharing for all employees and defined retirement benefits for younger and shorter-service employees.

Further to the changes, the deferred profit sharing award was discontinued after 2005, providing 100% vesting in accrued deferred profit sharing benefits, and implementing a 3% base pay increase for participants in lieu of deferred profit sharing. In connection with the Retirement Plan change, effective January 1, 2006, the Retirement Plan was closed to new hires, and employees who as of December 31, 2005 were under 30 years of age or were credited with less than 10 years of benefit service (approximately 60% of plan participants) ceased accruing additional benefits under the Retirement Plan. These employees became 100% vested in their accrued benefit under the Retirement Plan as of January 1, 2006 and received a base pay increase based on their age and years of service. Related to the above changes, all employees were given the opportunity to obtain a greater matching contribution from their employer in the defined contribution savings plan.

The Retirement Plan benefit formula is based on a percentage of average final compensation and years of service. Benefits in the normal form are paid on the basis of a straight life annuity plus supplemental death benefits and are not reduced for Social Security or other payments received by the participants. Pension costs are funded in accordance with minimum funding standards under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). Normal retirement age under the Plan is age 65 with 5 years of service. Benefits under the Retirement Plan are subject to the U.S. Internal Revenue Code limits on compensation and benefits. Benefits under restoration plans restore benefits to select employees that are limited under the Retirement Plan due to U.S. Internal Revenue Code limits and a compensation definition that excludes amounts deferred to nonqualified arrangements.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) set a limit of $220,000 as the amount of 2006 compensation that may be considered in calculating retirement benefits under U.S. tax qualified retirement plans. This limit applies to the Retirement Plan, which is qualified under Section 401(a) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. The Corporation has adopted two Benefit Restoration Plans to provide those benefits that cannot be accrued under the Retirement Plan due to the application of the IRS limit and a compensation definition that excludes amounts deferred to nonqualified arrangements. Benefits under the Benefit Restoration Plans are equal to the amount that, when added to the benefits under the Retirement Plan, would be provided under the Retirement Plan had such IRS limits or exclusions from compensation not been in effect.

The Retirement Plan changes effective January 1, 2006 to freeze participation and cease accruals for younger or shorter-service employees of the Corporation and the Bank, and to provide 100% vesting for frozen participants were also made to the Benefit Restoration Plans. These Plans do not offer credit for years of service not actually worked, preferential benefit formulas or accelerated vesting of pension benefits, beyond the provisions of the Retirement Plan. The restoration benefits of employees who are residents of Puerto Rico are funded through one irrevocable trust. In addition, the Bank is contributing to an irrevocable trust to provide itself with a source of funds for payment of benefit restoration liabilities to all other employees.

- (a) Present values were determined using year-end FAS 87 assumptions with the following exception: payments are assumed to begin at the earliest possible retirement date at which benefits are unreduced. These vary for NEOs, depending on their initial employment situation. For Mr. Villamil and Mrs. Santos, their earliest possible retirement age with unreduced benefits is the age of 60, for all other NEOs, the age to receive retirement benefits with no reductions is 55. Also, each NEO is assumed to continue employment until such retirement date.

Table of ContentsPopular, Inc. Puerto Rico Savings and Investment Plan

Before 2006, the Bank had a Savings and Investment Plan which covered the Corporation and the Bank employees in Puerto Rico and was qualified under Section 1165(e) of the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code. Effective July 1, 2006, the Plan merged with and into the Corporation's Puerto Rico Savings and Investment Plan. With this change, all regular Puerto Rico based employees of the Corporation and its subsidiaries may participate in a single savings and investment plan upon completion of 30 days of service.

The Savings and Investment Plan allows employees who have completed 30 days of service to voluntarily elect to defer a predetermined percentage not to exceed 10% of their pre-tax total cash compensation. It also allows employees to voluntarily elect to contribute a predetermined percentage not to exceed 10% of their after-tax total cash compensation. Both contribution levels are subject to maximum contribution limits as determined by applicable laws. Employees become vested 20% per year during the first five years of service.

The 2006 changes accorded employees an improved opportunity to obtain a greater Corporation match. Prior to 2006, Corporation and Bank employees received a match equal to 50% of the first 2% of base pay contributed by the employee to the Popular, Inc. stock fund. Effective January 1, 2006, the Corporation matches 100% of the first three percent (3%) of total cash compensation contributed on a pre-tax basis by the participant, and 50% of the next two percent (2%) contributed. For employees of substantially all other Puerto Rico subsidiaries of the Corporation, the employer matches 50% of the first eight percent (8%) of total cash compensation contributed on a pre-tax basis by the participant. The match, which is invested in Common Stock of the Corporation, is granted regardless of how the participant invests his or her elective contributions, that is, in the Common Stock or other eligible investments. Employees may transfer Corporation matching contributions invested in Common Stock of the Corporation to other investments at will.

United StatesRetirement Plan of Banco Popular North America

Banco Popular North America (BPNA) has a noncontributory, defined benefit retirement plan covering substantially all salaried employees hired before June 30, 2004. This Plan will be frozen effective April 1, 2007 and will be subsequently terminated as soon as administratively feasible.

Pension costs are funded in accordance with minimum funding standards under ERISA. The retirement plan benefit formula is based on a percentage of average final compensation and years of service after January 1, 1999. Benefits in the normal form are paid on the basis of a single life annuity and are not reduced for Social Security or other payments received by the participants. Normal retirement occurs when the participant reaches age 65 and has 5 years of service. This retirement plan is qualified under Section 401(a) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. Those BPNA employees whose annual compensation is higher than the established IRS limit are covered under a benefit restoration plan in order to provide a total benefit equivalent to that which would be provided under the retirement plan had such IRS limits not applied.

Savings Plan of Popular Companies in the United States

Effective April 1, 2006, the PFH 401(k) Plan merged into the Corporation's USA 401(k) Savings and Investment Plan (USA Savings and Investment Plan). The E-LOAN, Inc. 401(k) Plan was subsequently merged into the USA Savings and Investment Plan effective January 1, 2007. With these changes, all regular U.S.-based employees of the Corporation's subsidiaries may participate in a single 401(k) plan upon completion of 30 days of service. Participants may defer up to 70% of their pay on a pre-tax basis up to the maximum amount as determined by applicable tax laws.

Prior to January 1, 2007, BPNA matched 50% (100% if the participant invested his or her contribution in the Common Stock) of the amount contributed by a participant up to a maximum of 6% of the participant's annual compensation; PFH matched 100% of the amount contributed by a participant up to a maximum of 5% of the participant's annual compensation. Effective January 1, 2007, both companies match 100% of employee contribution up to 4% of the participant's annual compensation. The match, which is invested in Common Stock, is granted regardless of how the participant invests his or her elective contributions, that is, in the Common Stock or other eligible investments. Participants may transfer the matching contribution invested in Common Stock to other investments at will.

Table of ContentsSERPs

Mr. Cameron E. Williams, PFH's President until his resignation on January 9, 2007, was the only NEO with a SERP. Mr. Williams' vested balance under the SERP as of December 30, 2006 was $410,541. That amount will be recalculated as of Mr. Williams' retirement date of March 31, 2007. The SERP provided for payment of deferred compensation and was offered to maintain market competitiveness. The deferred compensation was earned by Mr. Williams and accrued by PFH on a defined contribution basis. For each plan year in which Mr. Williams was employed by PFH, the Company credited deferred compensation to his reserve account in the amount designated by the Board of Directors of PFH at the time he was designated for participation in the Plan, or as subsequently revised. The supplemental benefits offered to Mr. Williams were funded using company-owned life insurance.

Employment and Change-in-Control Agreements

The Corporation typically does not utilize employment agreements and only has a change-in-control agreement in connection with the SERP mentioned above (in which no NEO currently participates in light of Mr. Williams' resignation as PFH's President on January 9, 2007). The 2004 Omnibus Plan, however, provides that in the event of a change of control of the Corporation, all outstanding options and stock appreciation rights become fully exercisable, and restrictions on outstanding restricted stock and restricted units lapse. In addition, outstanding long-term performance unit awards and performance share awards will be paid in full at target within 30 days of the change of control. Participants may opt to receive such payments in cash. The Compensation Committee may, in its discretion, provide for cancellation of each option, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock and restricted stock unit in exchange for a cash payment per share based upon the change of control price, which is the highest share price offered in conjunction with any transaction resulting in a change of control (or, if there is no such price, the highest trading price during the 30 days preceding the change of control event). Notwithstanding the foregoing, no acceleration of vesting or exercisability, cancellation, cash payment or other settlement occurs with respect to any option, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, restricted unit, long-term performance unit award or performance share award if the Compensation Committee reasonably determines in good faith prior to the change of control that such awards will be honored or assumed or if equitable replacement awards will be made by a successor employer immediately following the change of control and that such awards will vest and payments will be made if a participant is involuntarily terminated without cause.

For purposes of the SERP Agreement and the 2004 Omnibus Plan, a change of control occurs in general if: (i) any person (within the meaning of Section 3(a)(9) of the Act of 1934 and excluding the Corporation, its subsidiaries or any employee benefit plan sponsored or maintained by the Corporation or its subsidiaries) acquires direct or indirect ownership of 50% or more of the combined voting power of the then outstanding securities of the Corporation as a result of a tender or exchange offer, open market purchases, privately negotiated purchases or otherwise; or (ii) the stockholders of the Corporation approve (A) any consolidation or merger of the Corporation in which the Corporation is not the surviving corporation (other than a merger of the Corporation in which the holders of Common Stock immediately prior to the merger have the same or substantially the same proportionate ownership of the surviving corporation immediately after the merger), or (B) any sale, lease, exchange or other transfer (in one transaction or a series of related transactions) of all, or substantially all, of the assets of the Corporation to an entity which is not a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

PFH Restructuring and Integration Plan

On January 9, 2007, the Corporation announced the Restructuring and Integration Plan (the Plan) for its U.S. consumer finance and mortgage business subsidiary PFH, including PFH's internet financial services subsidiary E-LOAN, Inc. The Plan calls for PFH to exit the wholesale nonprime mortgage origination business, focus on existing profitable businesses, and consolidate support functions with sister U.S. banking entity BPNA. In connection with the Plan, Popular's mainland operations (BPNA, PFH and their subsidiaries including E-LOAN, Inc.) report to BPNA's President, Mr. Roberto R. Herencia. Cameron E. Williams, who served as President of PFH until January 9, 2007, will retire effective March 31, 2007. In connection with Mr. Williams' retirement, he will receive: (a) a lump sum payment of $1.2 million; (b) continuation of 12 months of medical insurance; (c) accelerated vesting of 18,000 shares of the Corporation's under the 2004 Omnibus Plan, with a value of $321,840 based on market closing price of $17.88 per share of the Corporation's Common Stock as of January 8, 2007; (d) a lump sum payment of $410,541 under the SERP (amount vested as of December 30, 2006, which will be recalculated as of Mr. Williams' retirement date of March 31, 2007 and which is subject to investment fluctuations based upon Mr. Williams' elections through date of distribution); and (e) the right to purchase a company car at its book value of approximately $9,000.

Table of ContentsPayments Made Upon Termination of Employment

Regardless of the manner in which NEOs terminate their employment with the Corporation, they are entitled to receive certain amounts earned during their employment. Such amounts include:

Amounts contributed to the Corporation's Savings and Investment Plan, including the vested portion of the employer match and the deferred Profit Sharing.

Benefits accumulated under the Retirement Plan, including retiree medical and the Retirement Restoration Plan.

Awards under the Senior Executive Long Term Incentive Plan granted in years 1997-1999 in the form of deferred stock.

Voluntary contributions to the Non-qualified deferred compensation plan (PFH).

Additional payments may be made if the termination is due to retirement:

All restricted stock and stock options become fully vested at the time of retirement. Retirement is defined as termination of employment on or after attaining age 55 and completing 10 years of service except when termination is for cause.

All balances in the non-qualified deferred compensation plans.

If termination is without cause or due to resignation:

Vested stock options under the 2001 Option Plan can be exercised for a period of 6 months after termination of employment. However, stock options and restricted stock granted under the 2004 Omnibus Plan are forfeited upon termination of employment.

Included are the tables with the details of the compensation each NEO would receive upon termination of employment:

a) Non-equity cash award given to NEOs during January 2007 for fiscal year 2006 performance. It includes the performance award and the profit sharing cash portion.

b) All restricted stock would vest immediately upon termination of employment due to retirement, death, disability or change in control. These calculations use the closing price of the Corporation's Common Stock as of December 31, 2006 ($17.95).

c) The Senior Executive Long-Term Incentive Plan was a performance-based plan with a 3-year performance period. Awards were made under this plan in 1997, 1998 and 1999 based on Corporation performance during the respective preceding 3-year performance periods. This plan had financial targets such as return on equity and stock appreciation. This plan gave NEOs the choice of receiving the incentive in cash or stock. If they chose stock, the compensation was deferred in the form of shares until termination of employment. These are dollar values using the number of shares awarded at the time, the dividends (in shares) received multiplied by the closing price of the Corporation's Common Stock as of December 31, 2006 ($17.95).

- d) All unvested stock options would vest immediately if the NEOs terminate employment due to retirement, death, disability or change in control. These figures include the unvested options in-the-money as of December 31, 2006, and the dollar value is the gain the NEOs would receive if they exercise all these options on December 31, 2006 using the strike price of each option award.

- e&f) This is the Present Value of the immediate benefit for those NEOs who already qualify for such benefit. These calculations use the same assumptions as the Pension Table.

- g) The Defined Contribution is the balance in dollars as of December 31, 2006 for each NEO. It includes the NEO s contributions and the employer match. It also includes, where applicable, the amount accumulated in the Deferred Profit Sharing Plan. The Deferred Profit Sharing Plan was frozen on December 31, 2005 and balances were subsequently transferred to the employees respective Savings and Investment Plans.

- h) For Mr. Herencia, payments include balances under the Bank s USA Benefit Restoration Plan related to deferred profit sharing. For Mr. Williams, payments include balances under the SERP and the Voluntary Deferral Plan. In the case of death, the terms of Mr. Williams SERP plan provide for payment of the greater of (a) his vested balance or (b) a death benefit of
